AIRLINE BAGGAGE CLAIM CHECK PRINTING AND FINISHING

Print on pink or yellow cardstock, if possible.

Hand-write appropriate information on form.

After information is entered, perforate, if possible, along heavy dotted line in middle of tag. (You can obtain rotary perforating cutters at many art supply stores (Olfa is one common brand), or you can use a dressmaker's pounce wheel available in the notions department of a fabric store.)

Fold tag at perforated/dotted line and trim along solid black outline using X-acto knife. Punch or cut a hole through both layers at the top of the tag where indicated.

Run a length of string or shoelace through both holes, or loop a rubber band through them, making a little folder. Attach to luggage packed with incriminating evidence. When boarding plane, tear off side which says "Baggage Check" and give to passenger.
