FORM NO. HPLHS 1403      REVISED FEB. 1922

PROHIBITION-ERA ALCOHOL PRESCRIPTION FORM

This prop is a replica of an actual vintage government form.

Print on ordinary white paper.

Hand-write appropriate information on form.

During prohibition, one of the only legal ways of obtaining liquor was to get a doctor's prescription, which usually authorized booze one pint at a time. Forms of this type were usually filled out in longhand. A rubber stamped date and/or pharmacist's permit number would add to the authenticity of the prop.

Perforate, if possible, along dotted line along left side. Trim other sides along solid black crop marks.

Tear blank along perforated left edge, as if the form had been torn from a large pad.

Take prescription to your local "pharmacist" and enjoy!
