

BEFORE I WAKE

BY KYLE LATINO

THIS IS A DREAM LARP
ABOUT FIGHTING
A NIGHTMARE
WITH SOMEONE SPECIAL WHILE YOU SLEEP.

BE CAREFUL.

If you are reading this, I fear it is coming for you next. The Beast Who Lingers Between Death and Slumber has taken up your scent. There is no escape.

On the next new moon, it will come for your life. But you need not be alone. Someone who still loves you will meet you on the other side to help.

On the next night of the new moon, light a candle, lie still with your eyes closed for seven minutes, speak the name of the one who will help you, blow out the candle and let sleep come to your mind.

If you awaken the next morning, you will have won.

Be brave.
