

Beastmasters

Vengeance-minded Altcult Gang

Ever wonder what happens when Altcults go bad? Meet the Beastmasters; a group of young Riptiders who have decided that they've had enough of their elder's pacifistic ways and are taking their message to the Street. The hard way. Needless to say, this new aggressiveness isn't going over very well with the Riptide Council...

Formed a year ago in response to the the savage murder of one of their own by members of the MetalStürm cyberpsycho gang, the Beastmasters are armed by the teeth—the teeth of a pack of enhanced Raptiles, Skymantas and Orcans. The Beastmasters haunt the Mid City Zones watching for trouble; anyone who even looks cross-eyed at a fellow Drifter is going to get sliced and diced in short order. Besides protecting their own, the Beastmasters also take particular pleasure in siccing their pets on any streetgangers they encounter—so if you run across a few half-eaten MetalStürm corpses in a back alley, the odds are pretty good the Beastmasters have been there ahead of you...
