LEGENDARY NAMES.....33

INTRODUCTION

LEGENDARY ACTIONS ARE ONE OF THE COOLEST, most memorable aspects of fifth edition for me. As a DM, they allow you to make dynamic choices throughout a combat round, not just relying on a single action to make a huge impact. This element of unpredictability keeps the more tactics-minded players guessing as well, which is likely a big reason they come to the table.

Fifth edition's legendary actions address one of the biggest problems in previous editions: 'big bads' often needed a lot of minions to survive more than a couple of rounds against cunning players. This never felt quite right for every 'boss' encounter; sometimes a creature is solitary and should be fearsome on their own.

We wanted to take this concept and apply it to a wider range of creatures. It certainly makes sense that an ancient dragon could be 'legendary,' but why not a bandit captain who has ruled the northern hills for decades, terrorizing villages and travelers alike? You can take a simple bandit captain and turn them into Remilla the Accursed, an NPC the characters can form a story around. Adding legendary actions to low-CR creatures makes them truly memorable and it surprises veteran players who have memorized the Monster Manual.

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

We wanted this book to be as easy to use at the table as possible. You get exactly what is on the tin: legendary action options for CR 1–3 monsters and NPCs from the fifth edition Monster Manual. You can either look up a creature ahead of time and create a 'boss' version of them, or even add to a planned encounter on the fly. The latter option is particularly great if the player characters have blown through what you thought were some really challenging encounters and you still want to test their mettle.

We've also included a series of fun d20 roll tables at the end of naming a legendary creature, in case you need to come up with one quickly.

DESIGN AND CHALLENGE RATINGS

As we worked through this project, we wanted to hold ourselves to a few design constraints, which I hope we have successfully delivered:

- ✦ When possible, creatures should have a mix of low- and high-impact legendary actions. These range from simply moving to a whole new mechanic for the creature.

- ✦ Since these are lower-CR creatures, no legendary action should grant 'free damage.' Damaging actions should require specific set up or other circumstances or have multiple ways to defend against it.

- ✦ Deliver on the theme of the existing creature; a legendary goblin boss should not become a huge hulking brute.

Adding legendary actions to a lower-CR creature certainly makes for a more difficult encounter. We have not recommended a specific CR increase, but if you use traditional XP for character advancement, you may want to consider offering an additional 50% or so XP for defeating a legendary creature.

You may also decide to introduce one of these legendary creatures to a higher-level party than their CR would typically merit. If you do this, you may want to consider raising the creatures AC, hit points, attack modifier, or spell save DC. There's a great 'cheat sheet' for that on the Blog of Holding, which you can find here: Blog of Holding

We hope you enjoy what's inside, and thank you for your support!

LEGENDARY ACTIONS

CHALLENGE RATING 1 (CR 1)

The monster can take 1 legendary action, choosing from the options below. Only one legendary action option can be used at a time and only at the end of another creature's turn. The monster regains spent legendary actions at the start of its turn.

ANIMATED ARMOR

Armored Hindrance. The animated armor causes one creature's armor within 30 feet that it can see to animate and hinder its wearer for 1 minute or until the target uses an action to secure the armor. The target must be wearing medium or heavy armor. The target has disadvantage on attack rolls and their speed is reduced by 10 feet until the effect ends. The animated armor can only have one suit of armor hindering its wearer at a time.

Locking Gauntlet. The animated armor attempts to grapple (escape DC 14) one creature within 5 feet.

BRASS DRAGON WYRMLING

Deep Breaths. The dragon rolls to recharge its breath weapons.

Detect. The dragon makes a Wisdom (Perception) check.

Retreat. The dragon uses the Disengage action and moves up to 20 feet.

BROWN BEAR

Imposing Figure. The bear stands on its hind legs and lets out a roar. Any creature within 30 feet of the bear that can see and hear it must make a DC 11 Wisdom saving throw or be frightened of the bear until the end of their next turn.

Overpowering Charge. The bear moves up to 15 feet in a straight line toward a creature. The creature must make a DC 15 Strength saving throw or be knocked prone. If the target is knocked prone, the bear makes an attack using its claws.

BUGBEAR

Skirmish. The bugbear moves up to 10 feet and takes the Hide action.

Survival of the Fittest. The bugbear forces another goblinoid into its enemies, creating an opening to escape. The bugbear shoves one goblinoid within 5 feet whose challenge rating is less than the bugbear's up to 10 feet toward an enemy. The shoved goblinoid falls prone at the end of the movement.

Taskmaster. The bugbear shouts, forcing lesser goblinoids to action. Up to two goblins (but not goblin bosses) within 30 feet use their reaction to move up to 15 feet and make a melee weapon attack. The goblins have disadvantage on this attack.

COPPER DRAGON WYRMLING

Deep Breaths. The dragon rolls to recharge its breath weapons.

Detect. The dragon makes a Wisdom (Perception) check.

Retreat. The dragon uses the Disengage action and moves up to 20 feet.

DEATH DOG

Consume Flesh. The dog eats a portion of a corpse killed within the past hour, regaining 1d8 hit points. A corpse can only be consumed once.

Detect. The dog makes a Wisdom (Perception) check.

Foul Breath. The dog exudes a disease-ridden stench in a 5-foot-sphere around itself. Any creature in the area must make a DC 12 Constitution saving throw or spend their next action retching and reeling. Creatures that don't need to breathe or are immune to poison automatically succeed on this saving throw.

DIRE WOLF

Call the Pack. One creature with the Pack Tactics trait that the wolf can see uses its reaction to move up to its speed toward a target within 5 feet of the wolf.

Sunder Armor. The wolf tears away at an enemy's armor, creating an opening for the pack. The wolf makes a melee weapon attack against a creature wearing nonmagical armor. The attack does not deal damage, but the nonmagical armor takes a permanent and cumulative -1 penalty to the AC it offers. The armor is destroyed if the penalty reduces its AC to 10.

DRYAD

Call Defenders. The dryad chooses one creature within 30 feet it has charmed with Fey Charm. That creature uses its reaction to move up to 30 feet toward a hostile creature within 5 feet of the dryad and makes an attack.

Fey Charm. The dryad uses its Fey Charm.

Nurturing Touch. The dryad can touch a creature, restoring 1d8 + 2 hit points.

DUERGAR

Break Free. The duergar rerolls a saving throw for any one effect that has charmed or paralyzed it. The duergar's Duergar Resilience trait applies to this saving throw.

Partial Enlargement. The duergar enlarges the muscles in their arms, back, and legs. The next attack the duergar makes before the end of their next turn deals an additional 1d4 damage. The duergar cannot already be enlarged and use this action.

Partial Invisibility. The duergar becomes partially invisible and moves up to 15 feet. Attack made against the duergar while partially invisible have disadvantage. The duergar cannot already be invisible and use this action.

FAERIE DRAGON (YOUNGER)

Glittercloud. The dragon shakes pearlescent dust from its wings, creating a 5-foot sphere of glittery particles. Creatures and objects inside the sphere are lightly obscured.

Rearrange Magic. The dragon targets two creatures it can see within 60 feet of it that have ongoing magical effects created by a spell or magic item. The dragon swaps the magical effects, changing the target of each to the other creature. The dragon can target itself as part of this action. If a target is unwilling, they can make a DC 13 Charisma saving throw to resist the effect.

FIRE SNAKE

Fiery Touch. The fire snake touches one creature or object within 5 feet of it. If the fire snake touches a flammable object that isn't being worn or carried, the object ignites.

Furnace Blast. Creatures within 5 feet of the fire snake must succeed on a DC 10 Constitution saving throw or take 1d4 fire damage.

Marrowslurper

GHOUL

Consume Flesh. The ghoul eats a portion of a corpse killed within the past hour, regaining 1d8 hit points. A corpse can only be consumed in this way once.

Spew Retchling. The ghoul vomits forth the contents of its stomach, creating a retchling (use the statistics for a crawling claw, MM 44) in a space up to 10 feet away from the ghoul. The retchling acts on the ghoul's turn. The ghoul must use its Consume Flesh Legendary Action before creating another retchling.

Marrowslurper haunted a halfling village for years. A traveling cleric of Beshaba turned the undead gourmet but captured it straight after. Since then, Marrowslurper appears here and there, with the cleric arriving soon after.

GIANT EAGLE

Eagle Eye. The eagle makes a Wisdom (Perception) check.

Screech. The eagle gives an ear-splitting shriek. Creatures within 5 feet of the eagle must succeed on a DC 11 Constitution saving throw or become deafened until the end of their next turn.

GIANT HYENA

Finish the Kill. The hyena makes one attack against a dying creature.

First to the Feast. The hyena moves up to its speed toward an incapacitated, prone, or unconscious creature.

Unnerving Laugh. The hyena cackles, forcing creatures within 30 feet that can hear the hyena to make a DC 13 Wisdom saving throw or become frightened of the hyena. A target can repeat the saving throw at the end of each of their turns, ending the effect on themselves on a success. If a target passes the saving throw, they are immune to the hyena's Unnerving Laugh for 24 hours.

GIANT OCTOPUS

Blend. The octopus moves up to 15 feet and takes the Hide action.

Flail. The octopus flails. Up to three creatures of the octopus' choice within its reach must succeed on a DC 13 Strength check or be knocked prone. If the octopus is grappling a creature with its tentacles when it uses this action, that creature is immediately freed.

Squeeze. The octopus crushes a creature grappled by its tentacles, dealing damage equal to its Strength modifier.

GIANT SPIDER

The Ancient Spirit of Slimes lives in a secluded cave in the jungles of Chult. Most probably thousands of adventurers have found their deaths venturing into its domain unprepared. Their flesh, thoughts, and feelings were dissolved by the slime's caustic innards. Now, they live on as a shared consciousness.
