DUNGEON AGE

ORBITAL VAMPIRE TOWER

an adventure for level 3

Written by Joseph R. Lewis © 2021

INTRODUCTION

The ancient world of Harth withers beneath its dying sun...but it's not dead yet.

High in the night sky, a vampire's tower is torn apart by a rampaging angel. People and monsters are trapped. Magical treasure lies scattered everywhere.

It's all yours for the taking, if you can find a way out before the angel finds you.

STYLE

This adventure is a one-shot dungeon-delve into a wizard's tower. In space. With vampires.

This is an alien-survival-horror-movie of an adventure (or at least, you can choose to play it that way).

The party is trapped and deadly threats lurk everywhere. There are multiple ways to escape, but all are risky. Plus there is weird magical loot all over the place.

Direct combat is ill-advised. Many encounters are deadly.

DESIGN NOTES

This adventure is intended for low-level characters (around level 3). It is focused mostly on exploration, with several social encounters and opportunities for deadly combat.

It runs 3 to 5 hours.

There are many unique magical items and unique monsters.

LAYOUT

The DM's read-aloud text looks like this. It's brief!

Descriptions of locations focus only on key adventure items. You may assume that any "missing" details are obvious, such as a pot in a kitchen.

Items that are further explained in their own bullet or section are bolded and underlined.

CREATURE and TREASURE details appear at the end of the adventure.

OBVIOUS NOTE

The names and settings used in this adventure are drawn from the world of DUNGEON AGE.

Obviously, you can and should change whatever you want to fit in your campaign setting.

The creatures in this adventure range in challenge rating from easy to deadly. Obviously, you can and should adjust the creatures to meet your needs or style of play.

But you already knew that, right?

Oh, also, don't tell your players the title of this one-shot before you play it. It spoils the surprise.

OSR CONVERSION

This adventure was first written for 5e and then modified into this Old School-compatible version.

I know that's not ideal.

A few 5e artifacts may remain in the language. The layout and presentation of the stat block is an original house style.

OVERVIEW FOR THE DM

THE THREAT

The party finds an ancient, forgotten teleportation stone.

The stone sends them to an orbital vampire tower. Everything is dark and smashed. Lights flicker.

The vampire's captive angel has gotten free, and it is wildly, viciously, murderously insane.

The teleportation stone in the tower is broken. The party must find a way to escape!

Also, a pair of treasure hunters teleports on board later. And if the party is very unlucky, a ship of mercenaries may arrive to pillage the tower for another vampire.

THE SOLUTION(S)

A few possibilities:

- ❑ Find the missing part of the teleportation stone (in the Cistern) and teleport home.
- ❑ Cram into the vampire's lifeboat and fly away.
- ❑ Steal the nightship from the mercenaries and fly away.
- ❑ Or maybe something else?

HOW LONG IS THIS?

Between 3 and 5 hours. It depends on how many areas the PCs choose to explore and how complex the NPC interactions are.

EXPLORATION

The PCs will explore many rooms of the tower. The layout is simple and PCs cannot get lost.

OPTION: The map on page 6 can be an actual diagram found on the wall of every level of the tower, like in an office building.

COMBAT

There are opportunities for combat, but fighting the vampires or the angel will be deadly. PCs need to focus more on escaping from these threats.

I recommend that you have the PCs meet either the Thieves or the Mercenaries, but not both. Have the angel kill the ones that the PCs do not meet to show how dangerous the angel is.

TREASURE

There is gold, but mostly there are strange and unique magical items.

HOW TO RUN THIS

Once the PCs arrive in the tower, they are in a dark, steamy, flashing environment. Try to maintain a sense of tension. They don't know how to escape. They don't know who to trust. There are deadly things all around. Have fun!

IS THIS BALANCED?

No! Some areas are safe, they just look dangerous. Other areas might kill someone pretty quickly.

At level 3, this adventure is deadly survival-horror. At level 5, the combat challenges become more "fair" for the PCs.

PREP WORK

As always, I encourage you to skim the whole adventure to have a sense of it. But this is a straight-forward dungeon crawl. The most dynamic elements are the two factions: the thieves who teleport in whenever you want, and the mercenaries who fly over whenever you want.

Aside from that, just explore the rooms, fight the monsters, negotiate with the NPCs, and try to get out alive.

NPCS

There are a bunch:

- ☐ REVELIUS ONAR, vampire lord.
- ☐ REV, newborn clone.
- ☐ SKARLET ANZI, vampire mage.
- ☐ LEECH, human butler.
- ☐ GRISSELLE, human maid.
- ☐ DR MAHKOI, skeleton surgeon.
- ☐ AURA JATHEED, vampire lord.
- ☐ CLEANERS, vampire mercs.
- ☐ THIEVES, treasure hunters.
- ☐ DELILAH, security gargoyle.
- ☐ GORJ, cosmic horror.
- ☐ NOVAAD, insane angel.

There are notes for each NPC to help you roleplay them.

BACKGROUND STORY

(Deep breath.)

Ancient vampires live in space, in orbital towers safe from the sun in the shadow of the world of Harth.

The vampire REVELIUS ONAR has a tower (the “Manse of Onar”) where he conducts experiments to cure his sunlight “allergy”. He has a butler and maid, a skeleton doctor, an assistant, and some clones.

Revelius also captured an angel NOVAAD and a cosmic horror GORJ for his research.

RECENTLY, the butler LEECH freed the angel NOVAAD. The insane metal angel rampaged through the tower, and everyone either died or hid behind locked doors.

Now the angel NOVAAD is asleep in the blood cistern, with the missing piece of the broken teleportation stone.

The horror GORJ has divided into three smaller versions of itself to hide from the angel.

Also, the vampire AURA JATHEED in a neighboring orbital tower would very much like to pillage the Manse of Onar.

STORY HOOKS

To get started, you need the PCs to use a teleportation stone to beam up to the orbital vampire tower.

If you are running a one-shot, then you can simply say:

- ☐ “On your travels, you find a circular white stone platform with a short pillar in the center. When you touch the hand-shaped indent on top of the pillar, you are all instantly transported to a dark room.” And go straight to the 9. Foyer.

If you are inserting this adventure into your campaign, then you can place the first teleportation stone literally anywhere:

- ☐ The PCs stumble upon an ancient teleportation stone. Perhaps it is covered in ivy in the forest, or wrapped in spider webs in a dungeon, or buried in ash in a ruin, or covered in dust in an evil library.

See the next page How to Get Started for more detailed options.

HOW TO GET STARTED

DM NOTES

WHERE IS THIS?

- ☐ Literally anywhere, but there are three options to get you started over there →

WHO IS HERE?

- ☐ No one.

WHAT HAPPENS HERE?

- ☐ Find the teleportation stone
- ☐ Get teleported up to the orbital vampire tower

OPTION 1: IMPACT CRATER

A shallow pit spews dark smoke into the sky. Blackened stone and metal pepper the ground. Flaming wreckage crackles and snaps. A round white platform lies unharmed in the debris. Four burnt corpses shuffle nearby.

- ☐ STONE. Burnt masonry. Parts of curved brick walls.
- ☐ METAL. Melted panels, rods, and unrecognizable tools.
- ☐ WRECKAGE. Wooden splinters, cloth tatters, bone fragments.
- ☐ PLATFORM. Wayfarer Stone.
- ☐ CORPSES. Solar zombies. They think you look cold and want to hug you, which will burn you to death.

OPTION 2: SWAMP RUINS

Cracked stone pillars lean in the dense swamp, smothered by moss and ivy. A single shaft of sunlight falls on a round white platform half-sunken in the muck. Three filthy monkeys watch you from the fetid puddles. They giggle.

- ☐ PILLARS. Ancient. Runes tell of visitors who drink blood and wield great magic.
- ☐ PLATFORM. Wayfarer Stone.
- ☐ MONKEYS. Mud pucks. They want to drown you in mud, and turn your corpse into mud.

OPTION 3: DUNGEON

A partially collapsed corridor twists down to a dusty chamber. Tattered tapestries dangle from the walls. Tiny glass lizards skitter over a round white platform.

- ☐ TAPESTRIES. Ancient. Silk. Depict a gray man in black robes bathing in pools of red.
- ☐ PLATFORM. Wayfarer Stone.

WAYFARER STONE

A white marble platform sits on the ground. Rings of hand-carved runes cover the surface. A small pillar stands in the center with a hand-shaped indent on top.

- ☐ PLATFORM. One foot high, fifteen foot diameter. Magical. Undamaged. Cool to the touch.
- ☐ RUNES. Arcane. Conjunction (teleportation).
- ☐ PILLAR. Three feet high, one foot diameter. When any person touches the hand-shaped indent on top, everyone standing on the stone is teleported to the 9. Foyer.

TOWER MAP

THE TOWER

DM NOTES

WHERE IS THIS?

- ☐ The tower is in orbit on the dark side of the world of Harth
- ☐ It is a vampire space station
- ☐ But basically it is a wrecked wizard tower

WHAT HAPPENS HERE?

- ☐ Discover that the teleportation stone here is broken, you need to find a way home!

- ☐ Deal with thieves and mercs

- ☐ Fight monsters, get treasures, the usual
- ☐ SPACE. This is a wizard tower IN SPACE. If a window or wall is breached, then the air (and everything else nearby) is sucked out into space!
- ☐ DOORS. All doors are pressure hatches and can contain a hull breach. If a door is “intact” then it seals properly. If a door is “shredded” then it is useless.

ARRIVAL

- ☐ You teleport into 9. Foyer.
- ☐ OPTION: On the wall you see a map of the tower. See page 6. Be aware that this may ruin the surprise that this strange tower is in SPAAACE!
- ☐ Each location has a door: open or closed, intact or shredded, as noted in its description.
- ☐ The layout is simple. A central stairwell lets you access all of the levels. Each room has a single door that opens to the central stair. See below.

EXAMPLE LEVEL LAYOUT:

THE ANGEL

The insane metal angel NOVAAD starts out resting in 17. Cistern at the bottom of the tower.

NOVAAD hates Chaos. (Irony!)

What triggers NOVAAD to come out and attack?

- ☐ MERGE any two fragments of the cosmic horror Gorj.
- ☐ Have a COMBAT that lasts more than two rounds.
- ☐ BREACH any room and blow its contents out into space.

RANDOM ENCOUNTERS

Roll 1d6 for adventure when the party changes levels.

- 1 A crack in the wall sprays a blinding jet of flames as a trapped angel wing lashes out from the bulkhead!
- 2 You hear a fast metallic clicking as three hall monitors attack!
- 3 A blast of steam erupts from a nearby pipe as a whirling angel fragment shoots out at you!

DOOR. Shredded. Open.

This lightless lounge has marble floors and teak paneled walls, all slashed and cracked. A bench lies in pieces beside a coat rack. A stone arm lies on the floor. The circular glass hatch reveals a sea of stars and, far below, the dark curve of the world of Harth.

- ❑ GARGOYLE. 30 feet away, tumbling slowly in space, missing an arm. Named DELILAH. Ancient, loyal, simple, direct, violent. Serves Revelius Onar by guarding the tower from intruders. Was hurled outside while fighting the angel NOVAAD. She may attack the PCs or help them, depending on their actions.

NIGHTSHIPS

A nightship can sail a short distance in open space. There are four visible destinations.

DESTINATIONS:

- ☐ SILVER MOON. Named Qamar. The gray surface is dotted with glowing saints: men and women of all ages and dress, sitting in meditation to respond to the prayers of the people living on Harth. They do not wish to be disturbed.
- ☐ RED MOON. Named Qaray. The surface is hidden beneath a thick writhing mass of red tendrils and fleshy bulbs dotted with huge golden eyes. These cosmic horrors are telepathic, controlling, and ravenous.
- ☐ GOLDEN TOWER. Home of the vampire Aura Jatheed. Quick, invent another tower!
- ☐ DYING PLANET. Named Harth. Home, sweet home.

GORJ

Cosmic horrors, also known as Immortal Dreamers, also known as the YUGHARIM, are the oldest creatures in the world.

They are ENGINES OF CHAOS, responsible for mutations and random events in the world. They are mostly arms and eyes. They are bizarre, otherworldly, alien, and unknowable.

On the other hand, they like to torture people telepathically, and eat everything in their path, so... they are somewhat knowable.

The “Elder” Horrors are massive and most of them have migrated to the red moon of QARAY. There they are unconstrained by gravity and ignored by angels, free to grow and dream as they wish.

GORJ is one of the “Young” Horrors. Still small, still vulnerable, still trying to reach the red moon.

In this adventure, it is challenging to kill GORJ in a straight fight, especially if all three fragments merge back together. It may be wiser for the party to kill them piece by piece, or lock them up and ignore them entirely.

NOVAAD

Angels, also known as the Creator’s Hands, also known as the ANGELIM, were created to build and organize the world.

They are INSTRUMENTS OF LAW, responsible for the rules of the cosmos that make life possible as we know it.

They are also whirling masses of celestial fire and metal. And after countless Ages of service, they are beginning to break down, go astray, and fall into madness.

In the beginning, NOVAAD was an angel of balance, ensuring that forces and masses remained constant and equal. Now, the insane angel blindly destroys everything they touch.

In this adventure, NOVAAD is impossible to kill. It may be wisest to lure the angel away and flush them out an airlock.
