Official Listing of Deities for Use in the Campaign
Version 1.1 – March 1, 2002

The information in this document supersedes any similar information provided in the PH, Living Greyhawk Gazetteer, and the Living Greyhawk Campaign Sourcebook.

Alphabetical Listing of Deities

Name (gender)

Rank, areas of concern

Worshippers – origin of worship and/or who worships the deity today

Holy Symbol

Alignment (most common alignment variance, if known)

Domains

Prestige Domain(s) – see Defenders of the Faith for additional information on accessing these

Weapon(s) – first entry is the signature weapon of the deity; if there is an “or”, both weapons are signature weapons of the deity; weapons after the first, which are separated by commas, are additional preferred (not signature) weapons; (m) = martial; (e) = exotic; entries for longbow and shortbow include composite and mighty composite versions of those weapons (cleric’s choice)

Details of the Madness and Force domains for NPC clerics of Tharizdun

(Excerpted from Return to the Temple of Elemental Evil and Defenders of the Faith)

Madness Domain

Granted Power: You gain an "Insanity score" equal to half your cleric levels. For spellcasting (determining bonus spells and DCs), add this score to your Wisdom score and use the result in place of Wisdom alone. For all other purposes, such as skill checks and saving throws, subtract this score from your Wisdom score and use the result in place of Wisdom alone. This means that your spells are very difficult to resist, but you are in general unaware of your surroundings and act imprudently – often erratically. Once per day, you can see and act with the clarity of true madness. Use your Insanity score as a bonus on a single roll involving Wisdom, such as a Listen check or a Will saving throw. Choose to use this power before the roll is made.

Domain Spells:

1. Random Action
2. Touch of Madness
3. Rage
4. Confusion
5. Bolts of Bedevilment
6. Phantasmal Killer
7. Insanity
8. Maddening Scream
9. Weird

Bolts of Bedevilment

Enchantment [Mind-Affecting]

Level: Madness 5

Components: V, S

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: Medium (100 ft. + 10 ft./level)

Effect: Ray

Duration: 1 round/level

Saving Throw: Will negates

Spell Resistance: Yes

This spell grants you the ability to make one ray attack per round. The ray dazes one living creature, clouding its mind so that it takes no action for 1d3 rounds. The creature is not stunned (so attackers get no special advantage against it), but it can't move, cast spells, use mental abilities, and so on.

Maddening Scream

Enchantment (Compulsion) [Mind-Affecting]

Level: Madness 8

Components: V

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: Touch

Target: Living creature touched

Duration: 1d4+1 rounds

Saving Throw: None

Spell Resistance: Yes

The subject cannot keep himself from screaming, gibbering, and leaping about as though completely mad. This spell makes it impossible for the victim to do anything other than race about caterwauling, worsens the AC of the subject by -4, makes Reflex saving throws impossible except on a roll of 20, and makes it impossible to use a shield.

Rage

Enchantment (Compulsion) [Mind-Affecting]

Level: Madness 3

Components: V, S

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: Touch

Target: Creature touched

Duration: 1 round/level

Saving Throw: Will negates (harmless)

Spell Resistance: Yes (harmless)

You can put a creature into a screaming blood frenzy. In this rage, the creature gains +4 to Strength, +4 to Constitution, and a +2 morale bonus to Will saves. Unlike a barbarian rage, no penalty to AC is suffered, and no fatigue period comes after the rage is over.

Touch of Madness

Enchantment [Mind-Affecting]

Level: Madness 2

Components: V, S

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: Touch

Target: Creature touched

Duration: 1 round/level

Saving Throw: Will negates

Spell Resistance: Yes

You may daze one living creature by making a successful touch attack. If the target creature does not make a successful Will save, its mind is clouded and it takes no action for 1 round per caster level. The dazed creature is not stunned (so attackers get no special advantage against it), but can't move, cast spells, use mental abilities, and so on.

Force Domain

Granted Power: By manipulating cosmic forces of destruction, once per day the cleric can reroll any damage roll (for a weapon, spell, or an ability) and take the better of the two rolls.

Domain Spells:

1. Mage Armor
2. Magic Missile
3. Blast of Force

4. Otiluke's Resilient Sphere
5. Wall of Force
6. Repulsion
7. Forcecage
8. Otiluke's Telekinetic Sphere
9. Annihilation

Annihilation

Evocation [Force]

Level: Force 9

Components: V, S

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: Medium (100 ft. + 10 ft./level)

Effect: 2-foot globe of nothingness

Duration: 1 round/level

Saving Throw: None

Spell Resistance: Yes

Using a blast of incredible force, you tear a temporary hole in the fabric of reality. This hole takes the form of a sphere of annihilation. You control the sphere as if you possessed a talisman of the sphere. At the end of the duration, the hole seals itself and the sphere disappears, leaving a path of destruction in its wake.

Blast of Force

Evocation [Force]

Level: Force 3

Components: V, S

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: Medium (100 ft. + 10 ft./level)

Effect: Ray

Duration: Instantaneous

Saving Throw: Fortitude (see text)

Spell Resistance: Yes

You direct a single, invisible blast of force at a chosen target. This is a ranged touch attack that inflicts 1d6 points of damage for every two levels, to a maximum of 5d6. In addition, a successful hit forces the target to make a Fortitude save or be knocked down (size and stability modifiers apply to the saving throw as if this were a bull rush).

Rules for Clerics Selecting a Deity

(Some information excerpted from the Living Greyhawk Gazetteer and PH)

A PC cleric must serve a specific non-evil deity from the list in this document. If a specific race is listed under Worshipers in the deity's entry in this document, and no other information is provided there, a cleric must be of that specific race to select that deity to worship (although non-cleric worshippers of that deity are permitted). Specific races include: Dragon, Dwarven, Elven, Giant, etc. Entries like Baklunish or Suloise refer to human cultures, not specific races, and are not limiting to clerics the way specific race entries are. A cleric's alignment must be within one step of his deity's alignment as listed in this document.

If a cleric's race is changed and she is no longer is of the appropriate race for her deity, she can no longer gain levels as a cleric until the situation is rectified. She may continue to use her cleric abilities while working to rectify the situation. If she does not try to fix the situation when the opportunity provides itself (judge's discretion), she has then abandoned the tenets of her deity and must follow the Ex-Clerics rule from the PH until the situation is rectified. This means her original race is restored and she receives an atonement spell from a cleric of her faith (contact your Triad for details).

A cleric can abandon his chosen and take up the faith of another god. In doing so, the cleric follows the Ex-Clerics rule from the PH, losing all class features of the abandoned god. To progress as a cleric of another faith, the character must go on a quest for his new church then receive an atonement spell from a cleric of his new faith (contact your Triad for details). Once these two conditions are met, the character becomes a cleric of the new god. He chooses two domains from the new god's repertoire and resumes all class abilities lost from leaving the old faith.
