DINOSAURS

Monsters that lived in the real world. That's what dinosaurs are. The release of Tomb of Annihilation allows a chance to get up close and personal with the extinct beasts that sold millions of toys and inspired as many elementary school science projects.

Big, small, carnivorous, or herbivorous, dinosaurs capture our imaginations from the time we're young and never let go.

This document contains statistics for new dinosaurs and zombie dinosaurs for use in any Dungeons & Dragons game and additional material that can be added to any Tomb of Annihilation campaign or modified for any adventure that features dinosaurs.

NEW DINOSAURS

The Monster Manual and Volo's Guide to Monsters provide statistics for various kinds of dinosaurs. This document provides several more.

ARCHELON

This enormous sea turtle weighs more than 4,500 pounds. Its soft shell allows it to swim at great speeds as it chases prey through the shallow sea. The turtle prefers to eat jellyfish, but makes a meal of any slow-moving meat in its territory.

BRACHIOSAURUS

Larger than even the brontosaurus, the brachiosaurus is one of the heaviest known dinosaurs. Woe to any creature that disturbs the long-necked herbivore, as its powerful tail and massive feet easily crush even large predators.

DILOPHOSAURUS

This human-sized, bipedal carnivore sports rounded crests along its nose. It can spit a powerful venom that blinds and paralyzes its prey.

VENOMOUS DILOPHOSAURUS

There is no evidence in the real world that dilophosaurus was venomous. Many fictional stories embellish the dinosaur's ability to do this, since there is no evidence that it couldn't spit venom either. The version of the dilophosaurus presented here borrows from those pop culture tales and spits venom to make the dinosaur unique.

GIGANOTOSAURUS

Larger and faster than the tyrannosaurus, giganotosaurus is a bipedal carnivore that rules any area it decides is its territory. These creatures are extremely rare, living alone and mating only once every few years. No one has ever raised a giganotosaurus from birth, so its eggs are incredibly valuable.

MOSASAURUS

This 50-foot-long aquatic carnivore has a bullet-shaped body and long, crocodillian jaws. It hunts in the deep sea, swimming with grace and speed.

NEMICOLOPTERUS

One of the smallest flying reptiles, nemicolopterus, lives in trees nears streams and hunts small fish. Swarms of the dinosaurs attack when larger predators invade their territory.

PACHYCEPHALOSAURUS

This bipedal, herbivorous dinosaur has a dome-shaped skull it bashes against other pachycephalosauruses when competing for mates. It also slams its head into predators when threatened.

SARCOSUCHUS

Over 40 feet long, this enormous crocodile is surprisingly stealthy, ambushing prey in murky freshwater.

THERIZINOSAURUS

This bipedal herbivore has the longest claws of any dinosaur. It uses them to tear the leaves off trees and protect itself from predators who invade its territory.

TITANOSAURUS

Also called the argentinosauros, this is the largest known dinosaur. Its intimidating 130-foot length and overwhelming 220,000-pound weight mean the titanosauros almost never needs to use its massive feet and tail to defend itself.

TROODON

Considered the most intelligent dinosaurs, troodons are feathered omnivores with prominent, serrated teeth. The halfling-sized dinosaurs hunt together in packs and set ambushes for their prey.

ZEALORAPTOR

At 7 feet long and over 1,000 pounds, the zealoraptor (aka utahraptor) is a terrible beast to behold. Often just called raptors, these bipedal carnivores are clever, silent, swift pack hunters with large claws on their feet.

THOSE AREN'T DINOSAURS!

You may be reading this document thinking archelon, nemicolopterus, mosasaurus, and sarcosuchus are not dinosaurs, and you'd be correct in real-world scientific terms. In terms of game simplicity, it makes sense to classify these ancient reptiles that existed alongside the dinosaurs as such, especially since they aren't any less exciting to use in your game.

Actions

Multiattack. The giganotosaurus can make two attacks: one with its bite and one with its tail. It can use Swallow instead of its bite.

Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +12 to hit, reach 15 ft., one target. Hit: 34 (4d12 + 8) piercing damage. If the target is a Large or smaller creature, it is grappled (escape DC 18). Until this grapple ends, the target is restrained, and the giganotosaurus can't bite another target.

Tail. Melee Weapon Attack: +12 to hit, reach 20 ft., one target. Hit: 26 (4d8 + 8) bludgeoning damage.

Swallow. The giganotosaurus makes one bite attack against a Large or smaller creature it is grappling. If the attack hits, the target takes the bite's damage, the target is swallowed, and the grapple ends.

While swallowed, the creature is blinded and restrained, it has total cover against attacks and other effects outside the giganotosaurus, and it takes 21 (6d6) acid damage at the start of each of the giganotosaurus' turns.

If the giganotosaurus takes 30 damage or more on a single turn from a creature inside it, the giganotosaurus must succeed on a DC 15 Constitution saving throw at the end of that turn or regurgitate all swallowed creatures, which fall prone in a space within 10 feet of the giganotosaurus. If the giganotosaurus dies, a swallowed creature is no longer restrained by it and can escape from the corpse by using 30 feet of movement, exiting prone.

Legendary Actions

The giganotosaurus can take 3 legendary actions, choosing from the options below. Only one legendary action option can be used at a time and only at the end of another creature's turn. The giganotosaurus regains spent legendary actions at the start of its turn.

Momentum. The giganotosaurus moves its speed.

Tail Sweep. (2 Actions) The giganotosaurus sweeps its tail in a 20-foot cone. Each creature in the cone must succeed on a DC 17 Strength saving throw or be knocked prone.

Roar (3 Actions). Creatures within 20 feet of the giganotosaurus that can hear it must succeed on a DC 17 Wisdom saving throw or be frightened of the giganotosaurus until the end of its next turn.

Swallow. The mosasaurus makes one bite attack against a Medium or smaller creature it is grappling. If the attack hits, the target takes the bite's damage, the target is swallowed, and the grapple ends.

While swallowed, the creature is blinded and restrained, it has total cover against attacks and other effects outside the mosasaurus, and it takes 17 (5d6) acid damage at the start of each of the mosasaurus' turns.

If the mosasaurus takes 25 damage or more on a single turn from a creature inside it, the mosasaurus must succeed on a DC 15 Constitution saving throw at the end of that turn or regurgitate all swallowed creatures, which fall prone in a space within 10 feet of the mosasaurus. ZOMBIE DINOSAURS

Tomb of Annihilation provides statistics for the ankylosaurus and tyrannosaurus zombies. This document provides more dinosaur zombies. For more information on zombies, see the Monster Manual.

Allosaurus Zombie. This zombie retains much of the savage ferocity it had in life.

Archelon Zombie. This enormous raft of undead flesh pollutes shallow seas, attacking any living creature it can find. It seems to never tire of filling its dead belly.

Brachiosaurus Zombie. This powerful creature emits noxious gas from its forehead nostrils and haunts forgotten jungles.

Brontosaurus Zombie. Brontosaurus zombies thunder through the world, barely aware of their surroundings, but harboring an burning hatred for the living.

Deinonychus Zombie. Deinonychus zombies retain some of their agility and still hunt in packs, seeking to tear flesh from living bones.

Dilophosaurus Zombie. This zombie spits a necrotic slime instead of venom.

Dimetrodon Zombie. Dimetrodon zombie herds haunt shallow rivers.

Giganotosaurus Zombie. Giganotosaurus zombies have gullets full of smaller zombies, like tyrannosaurus zombies.

Hadrosaurus Zombie. Hadrosaurus zombies roam the wilderness in slow packs, only stopping to kill.

Mosasaurus Zombie. A mosasaurus zombie has necrotic energy boiling in its stomach, waiting to be set free in a belch.

Nemicoleopterus Zombie. Nemicoleopterus zombies live deep in jungle ruins, waiting to feast on the flesh of the living.

Pachycephalosaur Zombie. This creature hits as fast and hard as it ever did with its exposed skull.

Plesiosaurus Zombie. The plesiosaurus zombie is known to hunt in ocean areas polluted with garbage.

Pteranodon Zombie. Pteranodon zombies hunt jungles at night in packs and glide as silent as death.

Quetzalcoatlus Zombie. These massive zombies lose their ability to fly, but can make incredible leaps using what is left of their shredded wings. Quetzalcoatlus zombies' bones break in horrid ways to allow them to move faster on the ground than their living counterparts.

Sarcosuchus Zombie. This enormous undead crocodile turns water it touches toxic.

Stegosaurus Zombie. This plodding behemoth seems to seek out and murder living stegosauruses, leaving corpses a trail of corpses behind it as it travels the jungle.

Therizinosaurus Zombie. This zombie's claws are coated with a powerful paralyzing fluid.

Titanosaurus Zombie. The titanosaurus zombie can drop sticky hunks of dead flesh that surround and trap enemies.

Triceratops Zombie. A triceratops zombie may seem totally unaware, but when it notices a living creature, the undead beast charges forth with a fury it never had in life.

Troodon Zombie. Troodon zombies retain their ability to fight well in packs.

Velociraptor Zombie. These creatures haunt ancient ruins in massive numbers.

Zealoraptor Zombie. A zealoraptor zombie's claws are coated in fluids that cause disease.

Undead Fortitude. If damage reduces the zombie to 0 hit points, it must make a Constitution saving throw with a DC of 5 + the damage taken, unless the damage is radiant or from a critical hit. On a success, the zombie drops to 1 hit point instead.

Actions

Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +3 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 5 (1d8 + 1) piercing damage.

Necrotic Spit. Ranged Weapon Attack: +2 to hit, range 10/20 ft., one target. Hit: 10 (3d6) necrotic damage and the target must succeed on a DC 12 Constitution saving throw or become blinded for 1 minute. A blinded creature can repeat the saving throw at the end of its turn, ending the condition on a success.

Challenge 10 (5,900 XP)

Disgorge Zombie. As a bonus action, the giganotosaurus zombie can disgorge a normal zombie, which appears in an unoccupied space within 15 feet of it. The disgorged zombie acts on its own initiative count. After a zombie is disgorged, roll a d6. On a roll of 1, the giganotosaurus zombie runs out of zombies to disgorge and loses this trait. On a roll of 6, the next zombie the giganotosaurus zombie disgorges is an ogre zombie. If the giganotosaurus zombie still has this trait when it dies, 1d4 normal zombies erupt from its corpse at the start of its next turn. These zombies act on their own initiative counts.

Undead Fortitude. If damage reduces the zombie to 0 hit points, it must make a Constitution saving throw with a DC of 5 + the damage taken, unless the damage is radiant or from a critical hit. On a success, the zombie drops to 1 hit point instead.

Actions

Multiattack. The giganotosaurus zombie can make two attacks: one with its bite and one with its tail. It can use Swallow instead of its bite.

Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +12 to hit, reach 15 ft., one target. Hit: 34 (4d12 + 8) piercing damage. If the target is a Large or smaller creature, it is grappled (escape DC 18). Until this grapple ends, the target is restrained, and the giganotosaurus zombie can't bite another target.

Tail. Melee Weapon Attack: +12 to hit, reach 20 ft., one target. Hit: 26 (4d8 + 8) bludgeoning damage.

Swallow. The giganotosaurus zombie makes one bite attack against a Large or smaller creature it is grappling. If the attack hits, the target takes the bite's damage, the target is swallowed, and the grapple ends.

While swallowed, the creature is blinded and restrained, it has total cover against attacks and other effects outside the giganotosaurus zombie, and it takes 18 (4d6) poison damage at the start of each of the giganotosaurus zombie's turns. A creature that dies while swallowed becomes a zombie the giganotosaurus zombie can disgorge at the start of the giganotosaurus zombie's next turn.

If the giganotosaurus zombie takes 30 damage or more on a single turn from a creature inside it, the giganotosaurus zombie must succeed on a DC 15 Constitution saving throw at the end of that turn or regurgitate all swallowed creatures, which fall prone in a space within 10 feet of the giganotosaurus zombie. If the giganotosaurus zombie dies, a swallowed creature is no longer restrained by it and can escape from the corpse by using 30 feet of movement, exiting prone.

Legendary Actions

The giganotosaurus zombie can take 3 legendary actions, choosing from the options below. Only one legendary action option can be used at a time and only at the end of another creature's turn. The giganotosaurus zombie regains spent legendary actions at the start of its turn.

Disgorge Zombie. The giganotosaurus zombie disgorges a zombie.

Tail Sweep. (2 Actions) The giganotosaurus zombie sweeps its tail in a 20-foot cone. Each creature in the cone must succeed on a DC 17 Strength saving throw or be knocked prone.

Roar (3 Actions). Creatures within 20 feet of the giganotosaurus zombie that can hear it must succeed on a DC 17 Wisdom saving throw or be frightened of the giganotosaurus zombie until the end of its next turn.

Undead Fortitude. If damage reduces the zombie to 0 hit points, it must make a Constitution saving throw with a DC of 5 + the damage taken, unless the damage is radiant or from a critical hit. On a success, the zombie drops to 1 hit point instead.

Actions

Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +10 to hit, reach 10 ft., one target. Hit: 33 (4d12 + 7) piercing damage. If the target is a creature, it is grappled (escape DC 17). Until this grapple ends, the target is restrained, and the mosasaurus zombie can't bite another target.

Necrotic Belch (Recharge 6). The mosasaurus zombie belches necrotic energy in a 30-foot cone. Creatures in the area must make a DC 15 Constitution saving throw, taking 22 (4d10) necrotic damage and becoming blinded for 1 minute on a failure, or taking only half damage on a success.

Swallow. The mosasaurus zombie makes one bite attack against a Medium or smaller creature it is grappling. If the attack hits, the target takes the bite's damage, the target is swallowed, and the grapple ends.

While swallowed, the creature is blinded and restrained, it has total cover against attacks and other effects outside the mosasaurus zombie, and it takes 17 (5d6) necrotic damage at the start of each of the mosasaurus zombie's turns.

If the mosasaurus zombie takes 25 damage or more on a single turn from a creature inside it, the mosasaurus zombie must succeed on a DC 15 Constitution saving throw at the end of that turn or regurgitate all swallowed creatures, which fall prone in a space within 10 feet of the mosasaurus zombie. TOMB OF ANNIHILATION

ADDITIONS

If you're playing Tomb of Annihilation, you can add the creatures found in this document into the adventure using the following supplemental information.

DINOSAUR HUNTS

Dinosaur hides and eggs can be sold in Port Nyanzaru to various merchants. The hides of harder-to-kill dinosaurs go for substantial gold, since they are obtained at high personal risk. The hides are sold as art to the wealthy or turned into armor for soldiers and adventurers.

Dinosaur eggs are often more valuable than hides, since to have any hope of training a dinosaur, one must begin with a hatchling. Dinosaur racers and merchants with a need for pack animals are particularly interested in obtaining the eggs.

To track a specific type of dinosaur through the jungle or at sea, a character must spend 1d10 days in the wilderness searching and succeed on a Wisdom (Survival) check as shown on the Dinosaur Hunt table. If this check fails, a character must spend another 1d10 days traversing the wilderness looking for the specific type of dinosaur and repeat the ability check.

A successful check means the character tracks the dinosaur to its lair. The Dinosaur Hunt table shows the number of dinosaurs and eggs within a lair and how much each dinosaur's hide and eggs are worth. If adventurers flood the market with a specific type of dinosaur hides or eggs, it could reduce the price of the product at the DM's discretion.

When harvesting the hide of a dinosaur, it takes 5 minutes to skin a Tiny dinosaur, 10 minutes to skin a Small dinosaur, 30 minutes to skin a Medium dinosaur, 1 hour to skin a Large dinosaur, 8 hours to skin a Huge dinosaur, and 1 day to skin a Gargantuan dinosaur. A character trained in Survival only requires half the time to properly harvest a dinosaur hide.

RANDOM ENCOUNTERS

Whenever you roll for a random encounter on the Wilderness Encounters table in appendix B, "Random Encounters," of Tomb of Annihilation that includes a dinosaur (see appendix B), you can substitute any of the dinosaurs of a similar challenge rating in this document for the dinosaurs in the adventure. If you roll for this encounter in the Lesser Undead or Greater Undead areas of the jungle, you can instead substitute any of the dinosaur zombies in this document.

If your encounter result is "undead, zombies," instead of rolling a d10 as described in Tomb of Annihilation, roll on the Expanded Zombies table in this document to determine what appears.

EXPANDED ZOMBIES

d100	Encounter

DINOSAUR RACING

The Additional Racing Dinosaurs table can be used if the characters decide to race dinosaurs (see "Dinosaur Racing" in chapter 1, "Port Nyanzaru," in Tomb of Annihilation).

ADDITIONAL RACING DINOSAURS

Mount	Speed	Skill Check DC	AC	Hit Points	Attack	Damage	Constitution
Dilophosaurus	30/50	8*	13	26	+4	6 (1d8 + 2)	14 (+2)
Pachycephalosaurus	40/60	12	13	68	+6	8 (1d8 + 4)	16 (+3)
Zealoraptor	50/100	19*	15	52	+6	9 (1d10 + 4)	15 (+2)

*If an Animal Handling check made with advantage due to lashing fails by 5 or more, the animal goes berserk and is out of the race.
