IMPII-5 How to Hunt a Demon

IMPI07 Member of the Luminous Society

You have been granted membership in the Luminous Society, a demon-hunting guild based in Lyrabar. You may claim demon-hunting bounties offered by the Luminous Society. Other members of the Luminous Society are inclined to treat you favorably.

IMPI08 Enmity of the Luminous Society

Your conduct has earned you the enmity of the Luminous Society. You find it difficult, if not impossible, to claim demon-hunting bounties in the city of Lyrabar. Members of the Luminous Society regard you with suspicion at best and open hostility at worst.

IMPI09 The Blood Soaked Letters

Your defeat of the mezzodemon has led to a sheaf of letters indicating that someone of importance is summoning demons in Impiltur. The person is probably a member of the Fraternity of Tharos and identifying him could move the region closer to being able to identify members of this secretive cult of demon worshippers. This begins a major quest that continues in future Impiltur adventures.
