

ADVENTURE SIDEKICKS OUT OF THE ABYSS

INTRODUCTION

Do you want to run or play Out of the Abyss but you only have two or three people in your gaming group? Do you want an easy way to track and level up NPCs and beasts that join the adventure? Do you want to reintroduce allies later in your Underdark campaign but aren't sure how to scale their power level? If you answered yes to any of these, then this supplement is for you.

ADVENTURE SIDEKICKS

"Adventure Sidekicks: Out of the Abyss" is the ninth in an ongoing series that supplies sidekicks based on the major NPCs and potential allies of each of the DUNGEONS & DRAGONS adventure hardcovers. On your adventure, the DM might reveal that you've befriended an NPC or other creature that then joins your party as a sidekick. It's up to you and the DM to decide who controls the sidekick in play.

SIDEKICK STAT BLOCKS

A sidekick's game statistics are presented in a box called a stat block, which is essentially a miniature character sheet. A stat block contains things like ability scores and hit points, as well as the actions a sidekick is most likely to take in combat. Like any character, a sidekick can use the action options in the combat rules. If you and the DM agree, you may enhance your sidekick with appropriate racial traits.

For more information on stat blocks, see the introduction of the Monster Manual.

SIDEKICK LEVEL

Your DM will inform you at which level your sidekick starts, usually equal to the average level of the party. As the heroes and their sidekick adventure together, the sidekick gains experience points and reaches new levels the same way a player character does, using the rules found in the Player's Handbook.

When a sidekick gains a level, look at the sidekick's progression table, and consult the new level's row, which shows the sidekick's new hit point maximum and features.

If the DM starts a sidekick at a level higher than 1st, use the hit point maximum for its level on the appropriate table on the pages that follow. Also, give the sidekick the features for its current level and any earlier levels on that table.

SIZE

Some sidekicks start as an adolescent version of the creature the sidekick was based on. To reflect this, these sidekicks start as one size and then, at some point in their progression table, grow enough to increase in size.

When size increases, the type of Hit Dice changes. Depending on the sidekick, other benefits may also come with a change in size.

PROFICIENCIES

A sidekick is proficient with any armor, weapons, and tools included in its stat block.

TEMPLATES AND INDIVIDUALS

Out of the Abyss is particularly well suited to sidekicks, from the ten other prisoners in Velkynvelve to numerous other memorable NPCs ready to assist the party. Rather than selecting a small number of these NPCs to present as sidekicks and leaving others out, presented here are sidekick templates with individual variants.

Much like character classes and subclasses, these sidekicks have some openings in their features for individual variations. If you include one of these sidekicks (Underdark mage, Underdark priest, Underdark scoundrel, or Underdark soldier), select one of the individuals listed after it as well. The sidekick gains the features listed for that individual. Additionally, some individuals note alterations to movement rates or languages in their stat blocks that override the sidekick templates entries.

For example, Ront, Prince Derendil, and Sarith are all Underdark soldiers and use that stat block. They also have features at 1st, 6th, and 11th levels that are unique. This gives each sidekick some variation while still using the Underdark soldier sidekick template.

After all, if you are going to escape Velkynvelve and brave the wilds of the Underdark, no one should be left behind. Well, maybe Buppido. Not sure you should trust him.

GLABBAGOOOL

Glabbagool (they/them) is a gelatinous cube given sentience by Juiblex. However, rather than being twisted to evil by the Demon Lord's touch, Glabbagool is naïve and confused by their newly gained intelligence.

When encountered in the Ooze Temple section of chapter 2, Glabbagool can be befriended and brought along as an unusual companion. Glabbagool is one of the more complex sidekicks, but for campaigns ready to embrace the weirdness of the Underdark, they can be an entertaining and unique companion.

Personality. I always want to help, even when I don't understand what I am helping with.

Ideal. I think, therefore I am. At least, I think so.

Bond. I will rise up to lead a nation of oozes...if only I could get them to listen to me.

Flaw. I like to keep skeletons in me so that I look like I am walking and talking also. I don't know why my friends scream when they see that. I thought they had skeletons inside of them too.

Languages telepathy 60 ft., understands Common and Undercommon but can't speak them

Carrying Capacity. Glabbagool is able to engulf items; however, any engulfed nonmagical item suffers 3 (1d6) acid damage at the start of each of Glabbagool's turns.

Transparent. If Glabbagool has neither moved nor attacked, they can only be perceived with a successful DC 15 Wisdom (Perception) check.

Actions

Pseudopod. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 9 (2d6 + 2) acid damage.

Engulf. Whenever Glabbagool enters a Medium or smaller creature's space, the creature must make a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw. On a success, the creature is pushed 5 feet back or to the side of Glabbagool. This applies to allies as well, meaning that Glabbagool cannot pass through an ally's space without causing this effect.

On a failure, Glabbagool enters the creature's space, and the creature takes 3 (1d6) acid damage and is engulfed. The engulfed creature can't breathe, is restrained, and takes 7 (2d6) acid damage at the start of each of Glabbagool's turns. When Glabbagool moves, the creature moves with them. The engulfed creature can escape, as an action, by making a successful DC 12 Strength check.

Glabbagool can only engulf one Medium creature or two Small creatures at a time and can use their action to expel an engulfed creature.

GLABBAGOO BEYOND 1ST LEVEL

Level	Hit Points	New Features
2nd	22 (3d8 + 9)	Spellcasting. Glabbagool's spellcasting modifier is Charisma (spell save DC 12, +4 to hit with spell attacks). They replace verbal components with wet, squishy sounds or with telepathic words, and somatic components with their pseudopod arm. Glabbagool learns the blade ward cantrip. They also gain two 1st-level spell slots and learn the following 1st-level spells: dissonant whispers and healing word .
3rd	30 (4d8 + 12)	Song of Rest. Glabbagool can perform a telepathic song while taking a short rest. Any ally within 60 feet hears the song in their mind and regains an extra 1d6 hit points if it spends any Hit Dice to regain hit points at the end of that rest. Glabbagool can confer this benefit on themselves as well.
4th	37 (5d8 + 15)	Ability Score Increase. Glabbagool's Strength score increases by 2. This raises the Strength modifier, Athletics bonus, and attack and damage bonuses by 1. Bardic Inspiration. As a bonus action, Glabbagool can give one chosen creature (other than themselves) a d6 inspiration die. The chosen creature must be within 60 feet of Glabbagool. Once within the next 10 minutes, the creature can roll the die and add the number rolled to one ability check, attack roll, or saving throw it makes. The creature can use the inspiration die after the roll is made but before the DM says whether it succeeds or fails. Once the inspiration die is rolled, it is lost. A creature can have only one inspiration die at a time. Glabbagool can use this feature a number of times equal to their Charisma modifier, regaining expended uses after they finish a long rest.
5th	45 (6d8 + 18)	Proficiency Bonus. Glabbagool's proficiency bonus increases by 1. This raises the skill bonuses, DCs of their Engulf feature, spell save DC, and weapon and spell attack bonuses by 1.

This applies to allies as well, meaning that Glabbagool cannot pass through an ally's space without causing this effect.

On a failure, Glabbagool enters the creature's space, and the creature takes 7 (2d6) acid damage and is engulfed. The engulfed creature can't breathe, is restrained and takes 10 (3d6) acid damage at the start of each of Glabbagool's turns. When Glabbagool moves the creature moves with them. The engulfed creature can escape, as an action, by making a successful DC 13 Strength check.

This raises the skill bonuses, DCs of their Engulf feature, spell save DC, and weapon and spell attack bonuses by 1.
10th	93 (11d10 + 33)	Glabbagool's Pocket. Glabbagool is able to create a pocket of non-acidic space inside their body where they can safely carry nonmagical items. There is still no air in this space, so Glabbagool would be unable to carry a breathing creature for very long and could only carry a Small or Tiny creature this way. Glabbagool can choose to absorb or expel the items without causing them to suffer acid damage. However, if someone tries to remove or place items without Glabbagool's consent, they receive acid damage equivalent to a pseudopod attack. This pocket can be used to store components or a component pouch for any spells that Glabbagool may learn later.
11th	102 (12d10 + 36)	Spellcasting. Glabbagool gains one more 3rd-level spell slot and one 4th-level spell slot. They also learn the 2nd-level knock , 3rd-level hypnotic pattern , and 4th-level confusion spells.
12th	110 (13d10 + 39)	Ability Score Increase. Glabbagool's Charisma score increases by 2. This raises the Charisma modifier, spell attack bonus, spell save DC, and Persuasion bonus by 1.
13th	119 (14d10 + 42)	Healing Chrysalis. While taking a short rest, Glabbagool can engulf one Large or smaller willing creature into a protective, healing cocoon. When it finishes the short rest, the creature receives the benefits of the heal and greater restoration spells. Glabbagool regains the use of this ability after a long rest.
14th	127 (15d10 + 45)	Proficiency Bonus. Glabbagool's proficiency bonus increases by 1. This raises the skill bonuses, DCs of their Engulf feature, spell save DC, and weapon and spell attack bonuses by 1.

HOOK HORROR

The characters have the opportunity to gain one or more hook horror eggs in chapter 2 during the “Hook Horror Hunt” encounter. Simplified rules are presented in that chapter on infant to juvenile hook horrors, but those are designed around reverse engineering a monster rather than progressing alongside a character.

Presented here is a sidekick version more in line with being a suitably powered sidekick to a character they imprint onto.

1d4 Personality Trait

- 1 I am always hungry and constantly beg others for food.
- 2 I am fiercely protective of my new family and anyone who threatens them doesn't live long.
- 3 Whether it is food or a threat, I sense something out there. Let's go find it.
- 4 What do you have in there? What's that? What does that taste like? What's in this bag?

TOPSY AND TURVY

Topsy and Turvy Topsy (she/her) and Turvy (he/him) are a young pair of deep gnome twins from Blingdenstone, where they used to make a living foraging and selling food and medicinal plants and fungi.

They have recently been infected with wererat lycanthropy. They aren't in control of their shapeshifting yet and are terrified of others finding out. During their imprisonment by the drow, they have lost count of the days since the last full moon, a threat that is now constantly looming over their heads. This sidekick can also be used for a different deep gnome wererat when encountering Blingdenstone.

Personality. Topsy: "First we should get a nice, hot meal going..."

Turvy: "...so we can worry about our other problems on a full stomach."

Ideal. Topsy: "People should be free to be what—who they are without fear of persecution."

Turvy: "People shouldn't poke their noses in what doesn't concern them."

Bond. Topsy: "My brother."

Turvy: "My sister."

Flaw. Topsy: "My brother thinks I'm too chatty and social towards strangers."

Turvy: "I make wry comments to myself. Of course, Topsy always makes sure others hear them too."

YOU CAN'T SAY TOPSY WITHOUT TURVY

Topsy and Turvy are advanced sidekicks, with abilities that are a little bit more involved than those of an average expert or warrior.

This can be a benefit or a drawback, depending on your preferences, so take this into consideration when deciding if they are a good fit for your game. It is advisable to use both or neither of the twins as sidekicks because some of their abilities depend on each other.

If you want to use only one of them, remove the Sibling Preoccupation feature and allow the Rat Pack Tactics and Twin Trip Trick to be used with any ally once between short rests.

PROFICIENCIES

In addition to the armor, weapons, and tools included in their stat block, the wererat is proficient with simple weapons, rapiers, shortswords, light armor, and cook's utensils.

EILISTRAEE BATTLEDANCER

Elven Underdark Priest (Cleric)

The Sword Dancers of Eilistraee are a special order of priestesses from any elven subrace, devoted to the drow goddess of beauty and freedom. Although not directly included in the adventure, they do provide an excellent alternative to the monolithic portrayal of all drow as evil Lolth worshippers.

One could be a prisoner in Velkynvelve, a traveler in Mantol-Derith, or a revolutionary in Menzoberranzan. As outcasts against traditional drow society, they could easily be added anywhere—wandering the wilds of the Underdark or even searching for long lost temples to Eilistraee within Araumycos to reveal Lolth's involvement in the fall of the elves.

Personality. The beauty of my song and dance will change the world for the better.

Ideal. There should be peace between all races—there's a seed of good in everyone.

Bond. I'll do anything to lead my people back into the light.

Flaw. It's hard to get along with drow who follow Lolth, even if it is for a greater good.

Underdark shepherds are druids dedicated to preserving the balance of nature in the Underdark. MENZOBERRANZAN ASSASSIN

Drow Underdark Scoundrel

Drow assassins are rightfully feared throughout the world. Although the party may be more accustomed to fleeing these assassins, one may be inclined to assist the characters. Perhaps they seek a means to strike against a rival house, such as the Mizzryms, or have been outcast from Menzoberranzan, or are simply for hire at the right price.

Personality. I am more interested in being given targets than spending time socializing with others.

Ideal. The surest way to protect oneself is the execution of one's enemies.

Bond. If I hunt them and they hunt you, then you are excellent bait.

Flaw. I am quite sure every problem can be solved with the quick application of sharp point.

EVIL SIDEKICKS

More likely than not, the Menzoberranzan assassin is evil. If that alignment doesn't jive with your Underdark campaign, you can quickly and easily change it.

On the other hand, sometimes it's helpful to have a person of few scruples on the party's side. They can be the one who gets their hands dirty so the party doesn't have to.

Alternatively, redemption arcs make for good roleplaying. Can you turn the assassin to good?

YUK YUK AND SPIDERBAIT

Goblin Underdark Scoundrels

Characters can meet Yuk Yuk (he/him) and Spiderbait (he/him) in chapter 2 in the Silken Paths. Although these goblins enjoy guiding groups through the Silken Paths, they are willing to assist the characters longer for the right price. Yuk Yuk and Spiderbait generally act as a pair and have survived in the Underdark due to a combination of skill and luck. Yuk Yuk is the smarter of the two and does most of the negotiating. The pair act on the same initiative and, while together, take only the equivalent of one attack action on their turn. Where they have the ability to make more than one attack on their turn, this can be split between the two of them. They each get their own bonus actions and reactions.

6th Skulker. Yuk Yuk and Spiderbait can try to hide when they are lightly obscured from the creature from which they are hiding. And, when they are hidden from a creature and miss it with a ranged weapon attack, making the attack doesn't reveal their position. 11th Meat Shield. When Yuk Yuk or Spiderbait are targeted by an attack while a creature within 5 feet of them is giving them cover against that attack, they can use their reaction to have the attack target that creature instead of them.
