City of Splendors: Waterdeep provides the most in-depth description to date of the famed city of Waterdeep in the FORGOTTEN REALMS Campaign Setting. The book also offers four new prestige classes appropriate for residents of Waterdeep, plus a variety of new feats, monsters, and magic items.

Noble Houses of Waterdeep provides a thorough and up-to-date breakdown of Waterdeep's most important nobility. The nobles detailed here do not rule the Waterdeep region, but they do own much of the surrounding countryside. For more information on these noble houses and their influence on the city, see City of Splendors: Waterdeep.

As always, feel free to adapt the material presented here as you see fit to make it work with your campaign.

PREPARATION

You (the DM) need the D&D core rulebooks—the Player's Handbook, the Dungeon Master's Guide, and the Monster Manual—as well as City of Splendors: Waterdeep—to utilize the material in this web enhancement. The Noble Houses of Waterdeep also draws on material from Players Guide to Faerûn (PGtF), Draconomicon (Drac), and Fiend Folio (FF). Parenthetical references refer to the map key in City of Splendors: Waterdeep. The information presented here utilizes the D&D v.3.5 rules.

WATERDHAVIAN NOBILITY

- 1) P = Patriarch, M = Matriarch, C = Consort, H = Heir. Any parenthetical familial relation noted is with respect to the patriarch or matriarch.
- 2) First date marks ascension to Waterdhavian nobility. Additional dates, if any, note prior ascension to nobility within another realm and the name under which such ascension occurred, if different from the current.
- 3) These are known holdings. Most families own many more properties than are indicated here.
- 4) Korras, the previous heir, was replaced by the infant son Dulbrawan II.
- 5) The founder of House Belabranta (NE male Tethyrian enchanter 17) maintained a long-standing affair with a courtesan at the House of Purple Silks ($54). Unbeknownst to him, his amour was really Elinaera (CE succubus fiend of corruption<sup>FF</sup> 3), a demon. Her influence transformed this once-smiling, generous host into a power-hungry, amoral wizard. At last, Huld and Elinaera had a falling out, and the Dark Enchanter banished her, but not before she had dealt him a mortal wound. As Lord Huld lay dying, a greater doppelganger of the Unseen named Rhelgyn took advantage of the Dark Enchanter's plight and consumed his mind. Rhelgyn (NE corrupted greater doppelganger) now rules House Belabranta in the guise of Lord Huld.
- 6) The founder of House Cragmere still lives in Waterdeep, though his presence is unknown even to his descendants. (See Arcane Schools and Practitioners, City of Splendors: Waterdeep page 23.)
- 7) A few members of House Gost have the Snake Blood<sup>PGIF</sup> feat.
- 8) Members of House Gralhund include a handful of tieflings who are thought to trace their ancestry back to Gargauth.
- 9) Since Jynnia has never returned, she has been replaced with a new heir.
- 10) Lord Hund Hiilgauntlet (LE mummy necromancer 15), grand-uncle of the current lord, survives in his crypt on the Tomb Level (UM L2).
- 11) The elderly Baelrun died, and his former consort Berlie may or may not be dead. Thus the lordship has passed to his grand-nephew, Chostal.
- 12) Lord Urto II (LN afflicted werewolf [augmented Tethyrian human fighter 10]) holds the lordship, but his sons are barred from inheriting the role of patriarch.
- 13) The recent mysterious death of Lady Estrip Rosznar forced the Lords of Waterdeep to recognize the claim of her Amnian relatives, despite her long-standing desire to have them barred from the city.
- 14) Other known members of this house include Ravithara Silmerhelve, the fourth cousin of Lord Laerlos and unwed mother of Emmeros Silmerhelve. The father of her baby is the infamous Volothamp Geddarm. Another member of the clan is the mad 60-year-old (as of 1367 DR) Saerista Silmerhelve. There are no evil Silmerhelves this generation.
- 15) The unseen guardian of House Silmerhelve is Nymmurh, the Wyrms Who Watches.
- 16) Lord Arrabas is dead. He chose Dandobar over Thyriellantha as his heir in his waning years. Dandobar picked the overlooked Thyriellantha as his heir upon assuming the patriarchy.
- 17) The Lords decided in favor of Jhardnet, the recently returned elder brother of the late Mintos, for the patriarchy. The compromise was that Harkan, young son of Mintos, was named heir. Mintos's ex-wife retained her status by marrying Lord Ulboth Tchazzam. The rest of the family acquiesced, since the family fortunes had entered a steep decline that is only now beginning to reverse.
- 18) Many members of House Sultlue have the Snake Blood<sup>PGIF</sup> feat.
- 19) Several members of this house are half-steel dragons (see Appendix, below) or have the Dragonfriend<sup>Drac</sup> feat. The house has close ties to the Harpers and the Confluence.
- 20) Lady Larissa and Adiira Thongolir are actively involved in the Confluence.
- 21) Lady Hulmara Thorp has just reached maturity. Lady Stelar Thorp Neshar is her older first cousin and former regent. Khorom Thorp is Hulmara's disowned uncle (father of Stelar) and former regent. Hulameros is also former regent.
- 22) Shauban Zulapir (CE male Tethyrian human rogue 5) is a member of the Deep Delvers.

HALF-DRAGON, STEEL

A half-steel dragon is the product of a union between a steel dragon (<http://www.wizards.com/default.asp?x=dnd/mm/20040328a>) and another creature. Because steel dragons prefer human form over draconic form, half-steel dragons are by far the most common kind of half-dragons in Faerûn. A typical half-steel dragon has dark gray hair, light gray scaled skin, and eyes of two different colors (one dark gray and one silver).

Half-dragons are fully detailed on page 146 in the Monster Manual. The adjustments for half-steel dragons are as follows.

Special Attacks: A half-steel dragon can breathe a 30-foot cone of corrosive (acid) gas.

Special Qualities: A half-steel dragon has a +10 racial bonus on all Fortitude saving throws against poison.

STEEL DRAGON DISCIPLE

A steel dragon disciple gains a cone of corrosive gas as a breath weapon.

IN THE REALMS

Half-steel dragons are most frequently encountered in large cities and metropolises, such as Neverwinter, Silvermoon, Suzail, and Waterdeep. In the City of Splendors, most half-steel dragons are members of the Confluence, a mysterious organization that battles the Unseen in Waterdeep's shadows.
