The Hardiggin League League Sage/Guardian of Truth

The Hardiggin League Sages are the most knowledgeable and sworn to the halfling community in the Viscounty. They are also keepers of the most terrible secrets that the League has. Membership at this level is by invitation only and the initiation ritual is a strongly guarded secret. To the rest of the world the League Sage is the director of stories and usually the elder in many of the halfling communities. To the elite of the League the Guardians are the ones that discretely seek out adventurers or means to end threats to the community at large if they are able.
