Background: Risto Papadakis was serving as a seaman on a small Greek merchant vessel, when his ship was struck by a violent storm. Tossed overboard, the ship's crew believed he'd drowned at sea. But unknown to all, he survived. Washing ashore early the next morning, he was found by servants of the mad geneticist known as Splice. Capturing Risto, Splice submitted him to series of experiments which horribly mutated his body, as well as granting him super strength and near invulnerability. Eventually escaping his tormentor, his mind now unbalanced by the months of painful experiments, he set forth to punish any and every one for the horrors he'd been forced to endure.
