KICKERS

Feel free to steal one of these options for a Scene to Establish. Think about what you want for your character!

Your character and someone else's are talking in private about the truly horrible thing they did in the dungeon that haunts them. What was it?

The entire party is explaining how they killed the dragon before the assembled villagers. Your character tells only self-aggrandizing lies.

Your character and someone else's discuss how they will split all the treasure between them.

Your character and someone else's are playing with a dangerous magical artifact. Who told you not to touch it, and what does it do?
