THE SCORE

SPACE, THE FINAL FRONTIER

These are the voyages of the Starship Enterprise, on its five year mission to seek out new life and new civilizations; to boldly go where no man has gone before.

Ooooooooooooooooooooo wah wah wah wah...

After negotiations for precious minerals with the Halkans fall through, a strange malfunction in the transporter room has caused a rift between the dimensions, switching Federation crew members with their alternate, Imperial selves. Now, with time running out, can the crew manage to survive the deadly treachery of the Empire long enough to get themselves back home, and maybe get some short-skirted, mid-riffed booty to boot?
