How to use this document

Within the pages of this document you'll find a calendar designed for use with Forbidden Lands. It covers the years 1165 AS to 1171 AS and is based as much as possible on the description of the human calendar in the Gamemaster's Guide. The names of weekdays are largely based on suggestions by Erik Granström.

Each day in the calendar is subdivided into quarters for convenient timekeeping during journeys. Mark them off as they pass in game, using different symbols for different activities if you like. Quarters are shaded to indicate daylight and nighttime hours according to the season. Days of the full and new moon are indicated to assist you in keeping track of the phases of the moon in situations where that might matter.

To help keep track of time while exploring adventure sites a separate set of sheets is included at the end of this document. Each sheet has space for five days, broken up into quarter hours, grouped by quarterday. One sheet is provided for each season with quarter days shaded depending on whether or not there is daylight.
