CHAPTER 1: OVERVIEW OF ORGANIZED PLAY

The Starfinder Society, part of Paizo's organized play programs, is a worldwide science fantasy roleplaying campaign that puts you in the role of an agent of the Starfinder Society, an organization of explorers, archaeologists, and adventurers dedicated to discovering and chronicling all corners of the galaxy (and beyond). The campaign's home base is Absalom Station, the center of the Pact Worlds and home of the Lorespire Complex, official base of operations of the Starfinder Society. A Starfinder's adventures range from exploring unknown worlds and star systems to undertaking covert assignments within the bowels of the Pact World's largest metropolises.

Starfinder Society is powered by the Starfinder Roleplaying Game. This guide presents the information you need to participate in this exciting, dynamic campaign. Welcome to the Starfinder Society!

ORGANIZED PLAY

In an organized play campaign, your character goes on adventures in a common setting shared by thousands of other gamers from around the world. Players gather in their homes, in game stores, at conventions, and online to play, report on their adventures, and influence the fate of the worlds of the Starfinder RPG. You can take your character to any public Starfinder Society event anywhere in the world, and while the Game Master (GM) and your companions might change every time you play, your character continues to have new adventures, become more powerful, and acquire fantastic rewards. Participating in an organized play environment offers a uniquely immersive experience, as your diverse companions add depth and character to the world of the campaign. It is also a great way to get in touch with other gamers, meet new people, and play regularly without the need to track an ongoing plot and schedule regular events as you would for a traditional campaign.

Alternatively, some players prefer to keep their experience limited to a familiar group of friends, using the Starfinder Society character creation rules, adventure scenarios, and reward structure as the framework for a private campaign. Both approaches are valid ways to participate in the organized play campaign, and many players enjoy a combination of public and private adventuring.

Because an organized play campaign takes place in a shared-world environment, a few additional rules are required to ensure that players have a similar experience, regardless of where they are playing or who's running the game. This rest of this guide outlines these campaign rules, ensuring a level playing field for all players.

Paizo's organized play team oversees the Starfinder Society organized play campaign. The team includes the Organized Play Manager, the Organized Play Managing Developer, and all Starfinder Society developers. Volunteers called venture-officers use the program by coordinating games worldwide. More information about the venture-officers is included in Appendix 7: Volunteer Coordinators.

Please read over the contents of this guide carefully. Questions may be directed to the Organized Play Manager at organizedplay@paizo.com.

COMMUNITY STANDARDS

The Starfinder Society is an inclusive social event open to everyone. It is our intention that everybody enjoys gaming in a safe and fun environment. While conflict between characters may arise, at no time should a player feel excluded or threatened at the table. We ask all participants to respect their fellow players and to work together to create positive, memorable experiences. To this end, we reserve the right to refuse participation to any person for inappropriate or illegal conduct. All refusals of participation must be accompanied by a reason, duration of refusal, and the criteria for rejoining Starfinder Society activities.

Inappropriate conduct includes, but is not limited to, the excessive use of foul language, physical or verbal aggression or intimidation, lewd conduct, inappropriate physical contact, unwelcome sexual attention, slander, stalking, and harassment or discrimination based on gender, gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, ethnicity, or religion.

Complaints under this policy should be brought to the Event Organizer or a venture-officer, who will work to resolve the issue or escalate the issue to the next level of venture-officer. As an alternative, issues may be reported to the Organized Play Manager (OPM) via e-mail at organizedplay@paizo.com. Issues will be resolved at the lowest level possible. In case of escalation, the OPM is the final arbiter of any dispute arising from application of this policy.

Nothing in this policy is intended to discourage any person from calling the police or other appropriate organizations. Event organizers or venture-officers are available to help participants contact local law enforcement, provide escorts, or otherwise assist those experiencing harassment to feel safe for the duration of the event. We value your attendance.

While not illegal or even necessarily inappropriate, we recognize that Starfinder Society organized play campaign includes themes that may result in uncomfortable situations arising at the gaming table. In these instances, we request players identify the issue to the table Game Master (GM), whether vocally or by passing a note. We ask that GMs help the table respect attendees' sensibilities and reduce or redirect problematic themes once identified. Participants asked to stop any problematic behavior are expected to comply immediately or will be asked to leave the table.

It is our intention that everybody participating in Starfinder Society organized play enjoys gaming in a safe and fun environment. While conflict between characters may arise, at no time should a player feel excluded or threatened at the table. We ask all participants to respect their fellow players and to work together to create positive memorable experiences. The above guidelines reference how we may achieve our goals. By sitting at a Starfinder Society table, participants are agreeing to the terms and conditions of Paizo Organized Play policies available at paizo.com/organizedplay/policies

DO NOT CHEAT

Maintain the integrity of the game and do not cheat. This includes, but is not limited to, falsifying rolls, altering Chronicle Sheets, using unapproved resources, not owning the sources used by your character, and lying to event coordinators under any circumstances. Participants caught cheating will be barred from Starfinder Society events for a span of time commensurate with their offense. Repeat offenders will be banned from Paizo's organized play programs.

KEEP GOOD RECORDS

Starfinder Society uses character sheets, inventory tracking sheets, and Chronicle Sheets to track character progression. GMs and event coordinators rely on these documents to keep the campaign honest, fair, and fun for everyone. It is your responsibility to maintain accurate records. You must bring either paper or digital copies of your character sheet and all accompanying Chronicle Sheets of any character you wish to play to Starfinder Society events. If using paper copies, we suggest keeping your character sheets and Chronicle Sheets in a binder with a dedicated pocket folder for each character. Digital copies must be on a device you are comfortable showing your GM. GMs are not responsible for the security or condition of digital devices used to store character information. More on record keeping can be found in Appendix 5: After the Adventure.

TYPES OF GAMES

There are several different classifications of games in the Starfinder Society. Here are the most common.

Starfinder Quests: Written specifically for the Starfinder Society, quests are 1-hour adventures often used as introductions to the game.

Starfinder Society Scenarios: Written specifically for the Starfinder Society, scenarios each present a single episode in a continuing story and typically take 4–5 hours to complete.

Starfinder Adventure Paths: Adventure Paths are six-volume Starfinder RPG campaigns. Paizo's organized play team sanctions Adventure Path content on a case-by-case basis for use in the Starfinder Society (see page 11 for more information).

TAGS

Starfinder Society adventures utilize a series of short titles, or tags, to denote information pertinent for GMs running scenarios and the players participating in them. The following tags appear in Starfinder Society scenarios

Exclusive: Scenarios with this tag are meant to be run in a specific environment or by a specific cadre of Starfinder GMs. Common recipients of these sorts of scenarios include distinguished volunteers who have run several sessions of Starfinder Society, GMs running the exclusive at a large convention, or a Paizo staff member. Scenarios with this tag include specific rules on who is eligible to run it, as well as any other considerations for eligibility of receiving credit.

Faction: Scenarios with this tag list one or more associated factions. For example, “Faction (Acquisitives)” would indicate a scenario that is of some importance to the Acquisitives faction. Similarly, a scenario with the “Faction (Exo-Guardians, Wayfinders)” tag would indicate a scenario that would be of interest to characters championing the Exo-Guardians or Wayfinders faction. This tag generally corresponds to scenarios with additional Reputation awards for the association factions. More information on factions, Fame, and Reputation is provided in Appendix 2: Factions.

Quest: This tag indicates the associated product is a single quest or a quest pack. Quests are generally 1-hour introductory adventures geared towards newer players and can be a means of delivering shorter-length content to event organizers. Specific rules for running the quests, if any, will be listed within the scenario.

Repeatable: Scenarios with this tag can be replayed an unlimited number of times (but only once per character). GMs receive another Chronicle Sheet each time they run a scenario with this tag (but can apply only one to a given character).

Starship: This tag indicates the associated scenario includes some form of the starship combat rules as presented in Chapter 9 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook. The tag informs players to prioritize characters that might be specialized in starship combat, such as those with the Ace Pilot character theme. This tag also lets GMs know that they’ll need to have a hex map and appropriate markers to properly run a starship encounter. While GMs should always read the scenario for pertinent information, this tag helps GMs and organizers best slot starship-themed scenarios into events.

Vehicle: Scenarios with this tag indicate that the associated scenario includes some form of vehicle combat or a vehicle chase scene. Similar to the starship tag, this allows players to prioritize which of their characters play in these scenarios.

RESOURCES

The Starfinder Society requires all members to have the Starfinder Core Rulebook and the Guide to Organized Play: Starfinder Society (this document). Players and GMs are also expected to familiarize themselves with the official Starfinder Society FAQ at paizo.com/organizedplay/faq. At this time, Starfinder Society has not issued any campaign clarifications. Should any be written, we will announce them in a blog and post them to When multiple versions of a rule exist, reference the Campaign Clarification document for further guidance. If an entry doesn’t exist in that resource, use the written source as presented. If there still is a discrepancy, please bring the issue to the attention of campaign leadership by e-mailing organizedplay@paizo.com.

If a clarification or FAQ pertains to your character, you are expected to bring a copy of the relevant sections to any Starfinder Society game.

While GMs are not required to read every post on the forums, they are expected to keep abreast of clarifications. At no time may a GM ignore rules clarifications they are . Any clarification made in an organized play forum thread will be added to the FAQ, Campaign Clarifications document, or this Guide as soon as possible.

Paizo produces a wide range of sourcebooks that further explore the game rules and universe of Starfinder. These volumes contain a growing variety of options to help customize your character. You can view the list of all campaign-legal additional resources online at paizo.com/starfindersociety/additional. In order to use content from sources outside the Starfinder Core Rulebook, a player must bring an accessible copy of the resource that indicates that she owns the resource. An accessible copy means one of the following: a physical copy of the book, a name-watermarked Paizo PDF of the relevant pages, or either a photocopy of the relevant pages or electronic access to the Starfinder Reference Document at paizo.com/sfrd along with proof of purchase. Proof of purchase may include a receipt from a game store or a screenshot of your My Downloads page at paizo.com. In addition to the rules themselves, you must bring a current copy of the Additional Resources listing pertaining to the rule. Inform the GM that you plan to use additional resource material before play begins and allow the GM to use your material to familiarize herself with any new rules.

STARFINDER SOCIETY FORUMS

Join the vibrant Starfinder Society online community by participating in the official Starfinder Society forums at paizo.com/starfindersociety. Ask questions! Compare character builds! Discuss! Find events! Your feedback helps us improve our program, so drop by and tell us what we can do to enhance your organized play experience.

REGISTERING YOUR CHARACTER

As a Starfinder Society player, you must register your name and your characters online at paizo.com/organizedplay/MyAccount. When you register, you’ll receive an official organized play number; Paizo uses this number to record the adventures your character has completed and the Reputation that character has gained. Each character you create is noted by a –7XX appended to your organized play number. For example, if your organized play number is 1234, your second character would be 1234–702.

Pathfinder Society or Pathfinder Adventure Card Society players use the same base number and start characters at –701.

If you’re beginning your Starfinder Society experience at a public convention or game store event, the event coordinator may provide a card with a organized play number and confirmation code on it. Register online at paizo.com/organizedplay/MyAccount as soon as possible. Enter the number and the confirmation code and your early adventures will be automatically linked to your new official record.

CHAPTER 2: PLAYER BASICS

BEFORE THE ADVENTURE

As you sit down to begin an adventure, introduce yourself to the other players and the GM. Take this time to determine which of your characters within the adventure's level range you want to play; the GM should pass around a sign-in sheet to record your character's name, organized play number, character number, level, and slotted faction (more on this later).

CREATING A CHARACTER

Appendix 1: Character Creation contains step-by-step instructions to help you create your own character. Read these rules carefully, as they ensure that characters are suitable for the organized play campaign.

PREGENERATED CHARACTERS

If you don't have time to create a new character or simply wish to try out a new character class, you can use a pregenerated character. The Starfinder Society campaign offers pregenerated characters based on the Starfinder's iconic characters, available at paizo.com/communityuse/package or from your local event coordinator.

Prior to opting into playing a pregenerated character, if you have a character within the level range, consider the impact the pregen will make on the experience for all players. The goal is for an enjoyable experience for all players and the GM.

When using a pregenerated character in this way, the player applies the adventure's rewards to one of her Starfinder Society characters. The following rules apply when playing pregenerated characters.

- Choose one of the pregenerated characters available in Community Use Package: Starfinder Iconic Characters at paizo.com/communityuse/package.
- You must choose to which of your characters the credit will be applied before beginning the adventure. Credit from a 1st-level pregenerated character can be applied only to a 1st-level character. Credit for playing higher-level pregenerated characters must be applied to a Starfinder Society character of a lower level than the pregenerated character or to a 1st-level character.
- A pregenerated character has boon slots, though such characters rarely have boons to use in these slots. In the event a pregenerated character does have such boons, such as Promotional boons or temporary boons granted by the adventure, she can slot them as normal.

Infamy: Pregenerated characters are subject to the same Infamy guidelines as player characters and a player who repeatedly incurs infamy while playing pregenerated characters will be considered in violation of the community policy.

Resolving Conditions: During play, you may need to resolve various conditions that affect your character.

- Throughout the adventure, the pregenerated character might accrue unfortunate afflictions such as a curse, disease, or even death. The pregenerated character must always clear and resolve any afflictions before the end of the adventure; otherwise, they affect the Starfinder Society character.
- The Starfinder Society character must contribute a number amount of credits to cover the costs before using any of the pregenerated character's wealth, depending on the pregenerated character's level: 0 credits for a 1st-level pregenerated character, 600 credits for 4th-level character, and 3,300 credits for an 8th-level character. If you are playing a pregenerated character in a scenario in which all players are required to use pregenerated character, you do not need to contribute to this minimum.
- After applying the player character's resources, the player can use the pregenerated character's funds to pay for these spellcasting services. If sold to pay for removal of conditions, a 1st-level character's gear is worth 100 credits, a 4th-level character's is 600 credits and an 8th-level character's is 3,300 credits.
- The player character may spend Fame to help offset the credits cost of raising a pregenerated character from the dead. She may pay up to half the cost of the raise dead with Fame, at a rate of 1 Fame per 1,000 credits.
- The character may use the credits and Fame that she has earned on the Chronicle Sheet for the current adventure to help pay for condition removal, assuming she has completed enough of the adventure to earn the Chronicle Sheet.
- If more resources are needed to pay for the cost of the services, players at the table may—but are not required to—contribute some of their own credits.

Applying Credit: You may apply credit for an adventure once your Starfinder Society character reaches the level of the pregenerated character used to play through it. For example, if you played an 8th-level pregenerated character, you would apply the credit once your character reaches 8th level. To apply credit, follow the steps below. In the case of the scenarios that require you to play a pregenerated character, you can apply the credit to a character who reaches the scenario's Levels, such as a 7th- or 8th-level character in the prior example.

- Apply the credit for eligible adventures in the order in which they were played.
- When applying credit, any Reputation gained during an adventure can be applied only to a faction for which the character receiving the credit already has a champion Faction boon. The only exception to this is any instance where the adventure specifically grants additional Reputation for a specific faction (such as a scenario with the Faction tag).
- If you apply credit for multiple adventures at once, your character might advance multiple levels. You can apply credit to a character only if the level range of the Chronicle Sheet includes the character's level at the time you apply that credit.
- You can apply adventure credit from a higher-level sanctioned module or Adventure Path to a newly created, 1st-level Starfinder Society character. When doing so, reduce the credits reward to 720 credits if the adventure grants 1 XP or 2,160 credits if it grants 3 XP. You do not benefit from any boons until your Starfinder Society character reaches the minimum level listed on the Chronicle Sheet, unless otherwise noted.

Downtime: Pregenerated characters can participate in Downtime activities as long as they have the appropriate skills to do so. See Appendix 4: After the Adventure on page 45 for more details.

BOON SLOTS

Boons are unique bonuses, temporary equipment, or options that can be earned through various methods of play or distributed at special events. The most common type of boon is the Faction boon, and every character starts with one core Faction boon (see page 22 for more details on this boon).

To ease player record-keeping burdens, the Starfinder Society uses the boon slot system. Each boon slot represents an available space in which a player can place one of their earned boons; if you've slotted a boon, it's active for that adventure, and if you didn't slot one of your boons, it's dormant. Every Starfinder Society character has six boon slots, each of which corresponds to a different type of boon. Most boons include a corresponding boon type, so you can slot a Social boon into your Social boon slot, but not into your Faction boon slot. This means that with the exception of the occasional slotless boons, you'll be tracking only up to six boons during a session—not sorting through stacks of paper in the middle of the game.

Shortly after beginning a scenario, the GM will call for the players to slot their boons. This typically occurs following the mission briefing, giving the players some heads up on what boons might be relevant to the scenario. In some cases, the GM will actively advise the players of pertinent boons they may have earned from Chronicle Sheets on previous scenarios. A PC can apply only one of her boons per boon slot. For example, a PC with both the Dataphiles Champion and Wayfinders Champion Faction boons must decide which of the two boons to slot during the course of a scenario, as she has only one Faction boon slot. Similarly, a PC with four Ally boons and no Social boons cannot apply one of her extra Ally boons to the Social slot.

Slotless boons don't take up any of your character's slots; they are in essence always active. There is no limit on how many slotless boons you can have active at a time. Some slotless boons are tagged as "limited-use." These boons grant a benefit a limited number of times, either once per boon or a limited number of uses indicated by a series of check boxes. In most cases, you do not need to continue keeping track of a limited-use boon once it has been expended. Rarely, a limited-use boon may include additional or altered rules in the description of the individual boon.

The following are overviews of each of the six boon slots.

Ally: These boons typically represent an ally actively assisting the PC. This could be a hired ammo loader, a dodgy hacker, or a knightly squire from the Hellknights or Knights of Golarion. Ally boons are often an additional “body” on the team, or the presence of a creature that can bring direct aid in the form of a combat role or to assist in skill checks.

Faction: Every faction offers a core Faction boon that allows characters to champion that faction for adventure. Characters slotting these boons earn Fame and Reputation with the boon’s associated faction, effectively allowing the character to swap out what factions she’s working for on a scenario-by-scenario basis.

Personal: Personal boons represent a wide variety of special boons available in the campaign. Unique races, typically those found beyond the Starfinder Core Rulebook, commonly occupy this slot. The Personal slot often requires associated boons (such as new race options) be permanently slotted, so that the slotted boon does not change on a scenario-by-scenario basis.

Promotional: Promotional boons are unique in that they often represent out-of-game acquisitions that translate to in-game benefits. Examples of these boons would be the benefits of wearing a Starfinder T-shirt, bringing a Starfinder Player Character Folio to use at the table, or otherwise possessing merchandise or promotional Starfinder material that grants a bonus in the Starfinder Society campaign. For a complete list of current Promotional boons and associated requirements, see paizo.com/organizedplay/perks.

Social: These boons often encompass agreements or alliances with in-game organizations or NPCs. The benefits of these arrangements often come in the form of a boon granted as part of a Chronicle Sheet. A common example of a Social boon would be forging a relationship with an NPC who returns in future scenarios and reacts differently based on this boon being slotted. Social boons relevant to specific scenarios will often be called out by the GM during the boon-slottting portion of the scenario.

Starship: Starfinder Society scenarios call out the inclusion of starship combat by means of the Starship scenario tag. Starship boons are most relevant to these scenarios, allowing for the customization of the standard ships offered by the Starfinder Society organization. More information on these boons and customizing ships is presented in the Starfinder Society Starships document.

Vanity: Some boons may have this descriptor in addition to any of the above boon slot types. Vanity boons are often boons that have little or no in-game effect and are intended to provide players with interesting background hooks for their characters.

ONE CHARACTER PER ADVENTURE

Although you can have more than one active character in the Starfinder Society, you can play only one of your characters during a specific adventure session. In situations that require pregenerated characters to make a legal table, the GM can assign a player to play that pregenerated character as well as his own character. Alternatively, the GM can allow the group to choose the pregenerated character’s actions.

NO CHARACTER-VERSUS-CHARACTER COMBAT

In keeping with the “cooperate” theme of the Starfinder Society, character-versus-character conflict should be kept to a minimum. Accidental friendly fire can happen (due to missed attack rolls or other factors), but players must obtain the consent of other players before deliberately including fellow PCs in damaging effects. In such cases, the damage dealer should offer to assist with necessary healing costs. This rule does not apply in situations where a character is not acting of his own initiative, such as being mind-controlled by an NPC to attack a fellow Starfinder.

BOONS

In an effort to streamline the play experience, the Starfinder Society campaign will replace boon slotting after Year 3 with an Achievement Point program, similar to the one now in use for Pathfinder Society.

AFTER THE ADVENTURE

After you finish an adventure as a player, you and the GM should work together to fill out a Chronicle Sheet, which records the rewards your character earned. See Appendix 5: After the Adventure for information on filling out your Chronicle Sheet and resolving events at the end of an adventure.

As a player, you are expected to keep accurate, up-to-date records of your character and make sure to bring all of that character’s Chronicle Sheets to every Starfinder Society event or session at which you play that character. If you forget your Chronicle Sheets, you will be unable to play your character, though you can play a pregenerated character. It’s a good idea to organize your characters’ records, such as in a binder with an individual folder for each character.

REPLAYING ADVENTURES

Typically, each player can receive up to two Chronicle Sheets for a given adventure: one for playing the adventure and one for running the same adventure as a GM. She can play each adventure once, and can GM it as many times as she likes. GMing adventures more than once contributes to GM nova rewards even when it does not award additional Chronicle Sheets (see page 16 for more information about GM novas).

The following rules determine when Starfinder Society adventures can be replayed and what benefits replaying grants. Regardless of how or why you replay, a character can have no more than one copy of a Chronicle Sheet applied to her.

Minimum Legal Table Size: You can to replay an adventure to meet the minimum legal table size. Use the following guidelines.

Notify the GM: You must inform the GM that you have already played the adventure or run it as a GM. GMs are encouraged to be as flexible when replaying an adventure as the only method to run a legal table, but a GM has the right to deny replaying an adventure to players if she feels uncomfortable running an adventure for players who have foreknowledge of the story.

No Spoilers: Spoiling plot points or using insider knowledge to affect game play is grounds for the GM to remove players from the table. You should be very careful about character knowledge versus player knowledge. If you are concerned about possible spoilers, take the GM aside and ask her how she would like to handle it.

Rewards: Replayng to make a legal table doesn't earn any rewards. The Chronicle Sheet for the adventure is a placeholder. It should note that the scenario has been replayed for no credit and awards none of the benefits or disadvantages of the adventure. You must track consumables, purchases, and conditions acquired by playing the adventure. This is the only exception to not having two copies of the same Chronicle Sheet assigned to one character.

Replay Credits: As a GM earns GM novae, she gains a limited ability to replay adventures (see Chapter 3: GM Basics). Note on the Chronicle Sheet that you are using one of these limited replay opportunities (for example, "GM Nova Replay #3"). Players may also earn replay credits from boons. When using a replay credit, you may earn no more than one bonus Chronicle Sheet per adventure.

Repeatable Scenarios: Some scenarios are designated as repeatable, having the Repeatable tag in the product tag listing. Characters playing in these scenarios collect a Chronicle Sheet and associated rewards, regardless of whether the player previously played the scenario. The only exception to this rule is that a player cannot play the same repeatable scenario with a character that already played the scenario—in those cases, the character uses the above guidelines for replaying and receives no rewards.

PLAYTESTS AND ERRATA

The Starfinder roleplaying game is a living game, and whether in the form of a playtest that varies from its final incarnation or errata or FAQ for the core rules, sometimes game elements change over the course of a PC's career. The following guidelines allow players to update or convert existing characters to use the most current rules. When rebuilding your character in any way, you must describe all changes on your next Chronicle Sheet, and your GM must initial that section.

If an update or errata occurs during a Starfinder Society event, such as a convention, players may use the old version of their character for the remainder of the event, noting on their Chronicle Sheets that they are playing with the "implementation delay." Players must update their character after the event before playing the character again.

Class Features and Archetype Abilities: If an ability score-dependent feature of a class or archetype is altered at any time, you can rebuild your character to its current XP. You can keep the same equipment, but you can resell any equipment that augments the altered ability score at its full market price.

If a class or archetype changes in such a way that you no longer have proficiency with a given weapon or armor type, you can sell back the affected equipment—and only the affected equipment—at full market value. You can also swap out any feats directly associated with the affected equipment.

Feats: If a feat changes or is removed from the Additional Resources list, you have two options: you can switch the old feat for an updated feat of the same name in another legal source (if available), ignoring any prerequisites of the new feat you do not meet, or you can replace the feat (and any of the old feat's prerequisite feats) entirely with another feat for which you meet all the prerequisites. If any of the feat's changes directly reference one or more pieces of equipment you own (such as the weapon selected for the Weapon Focus feat), you can sell back that equipment at full market value.

Items: If the price of an item increases, you must sell back the affected equipment at its original full market value. So long as you have enough credits, you can repurchase the same item at its updated cost.

Spells: If the level of a spell changes, you must retrain the altered spell, replacing it with another spell of its original spell level. You can also retrain one spell of the altered spell's new level, but only in order to learn the altered spell. You must sell back any items that use that spell at their current full market value based on the spell's old level.

This guide is not able to cover all possibilities with regard to playtests and errata. Additional topics not covered in this section are sometimes discussed on forum posts at paizo.com/community/forums/organizedPlay/sfsrpg or in Starfinder Society blog posts at paizo.com/community/blog. Please consult those sources and apply those changes if any of your characters are affected by errata or playtest material.

CHAPTER 3: GM BASICS

Running games in the Starfinder Society is not much different from running a regular campaign, with a few minor caveats. Familiarize yourself with Chapter 2: Player Basics, Appendix 1: Character Creation, and Appendix 5: After the Adventure, so that you know what players will expect.

WHAT IS A GAME MASTER?

A Game Master (GM) is the person who adjudicates the rules and controls all of the elements of the story and world that the players explore. A GM's duty is to provide a fair and fun game. In the Starfinder Society, a GM must also help players fill out their paperwork, ensuring each player has an accurate accounting of his character (PC), and must report the results of each game to the event coordinator or on paizo.com.

WHO CAN BE A GAME MASTER?

Anyone with a valid organized play number can run adventures in Starfinder Society. There are no tests to qualify as a GM. Neither are there feedback-based rating systems, wherein GMs are ranked by their players. While some players are hesitant to transition into the role of Game Master, local Starfinder Society groups and the campaign as a whole benefit as the pool of Game Masters increases. In many cases, players sitting at a new GM's table can offer guidance to help build that GM's skills and confidence, so don't be afraid to get behind the screen and give a whole table of players a great experience.

YOUR DUTIES AS GAME MASTER

As a Starfinder Society GM, you have the following duties for each game that you run.

- Work with local coordinators to schedule an event for you to GM.
- Prepare an adventure to offer to players, including gathering the necessary supplies such as maps, miniatures, and reference materials.
- Welcome each player to the table and facilitate introductions.
- Look over each player's character sheet and most recent Chronicle Sheets for accuracy. Identify any egregious issues to the event coordinator to follow up on.
- Run the scenario as written and within the time constraints of the event.
- Give each player an accurate Chronicle Sheet for that scenario based on the listed adventure rewards (see Filling Out a Chronicle Sheet on page 14).
- Complete reporting sheets that include additional tracking information and turn them over to the event coordinator. Reporting sheets appear in each Starfinder Society adventure, and with the rules for running other Starfinder adventures.
- If you happen to be acting as both the GM and as the event coordinator, be sure to register your event on the GM/Event Organizer tab at paizo.com/organizedplay/myAccount. Soon after your event ends, return to the link above to report the results of your sessions.

LEVELS AND LEVEL RANGES

Starfinder Society Scenarios are designed so that players of a variety of levels can participate in a given adventure together. Every scenario has listed levels on its cover. Only PCs whose level is listed on the scenario can play it. For example, a Level 1-4 scenario allows PCs of Levels 1, 2, 3, and 4. Prior to Year 3, these levels were referred to as the scenario's Tier.

Many scenarios include multiple level ranges to better tailor the experience to the characters' strength. For example, Level 1-4 scenarios have the level ranges 1-2 and 3-4. PCs or pregenerated characters should be played in the appropriate level range whenever possible, but they may be adjusted out of that range, based on the Average Party Level at the table, as outlined below. For scenarios with more than two level ranges, characters must be in adjacent level ranges to play together. Prior to Year 3, these level ranges were called Tiers and Subtiers.

DETERMINING AVERAGE PARTY LEVEL

In order to determine which level range a mixed-level group of PCs must play in, calculate the group's Average Party Level (APL).

$$\text{APL} = (\text{sum of character levels}) / (\text{number of characters})$$

Divide the total number of character levels by the number of characters in the party, rounding to the nearest whole number (this is an exception to the usual 'round down' rule). If the result of the Average Party Level calculation ends with 0.5, the players should decide whether to round up or down.

Scenarios are designed for six characters and contain methods to adjust for tables with four players.

LEGAL TABLE SIZE

Starfinder Society tables should have between four and six players. In cases where you simply cannot seat four players, you may run a table of three players, using an appropriate level pregenerated character to fill the spot, or seat two players and use two pregenerated iconic characters in order to meet the minimum table size of four PCs. Pregenerated iconic characters are available for 1st level, 4th level, and 8th level. As a GM, you can either control these pregenerated characters yourself or hand them off to players to run.

Tables should not be scheduled for more than six players. If seven players show up to an event and there is no way to split the event into two smaller groups, the event organizer may allow a GM who is comfortable doing so to run a table for seven players. Check with the players to determine their preferences before running a seven-person table, as seven-person tables often overpower otherwise challenging adventures and limit the amount of time each player gets to shine in the given scenario.

Tables cannot have eight or more players.

ADDITIONAL PLAYABLE CONTENT

In addition to scenarios and quests, the Starfinder Society also offers ways to earn Chronicle Sheets from Starfinder adventures that were not originally written for Starfinder Society play. This additional content works differently from standard scenario play as outlined below. Such adventures are said to be sanctioned for Starfinder Society.

Sanctioning Documents: Each sanctioned adventure has a document that outlines the content for which players receive credit to be applied to legal characters as well as the Chronicle Sheet(s) for that adventure. This document is linked on the adventure's product page on paizo.com and at paizo.com/starfindersociety/additional.

Characters: Depending on which mode the content is played, only certain characters are allowed. Unless otherwise specified in the sanctioning document, the GM can choose which mode to use.

Campaign Mode: For sanctioned Adventure Paths, GMs are allowed to use their own rules for character creation and running the presented content (the entire book or series). Credit is applied to an appropriate player character as if the character created were a pregenerated character.

Event Mode: Starfinder Society characters are the only characters allowed. All Starfinder Society rules must be followed. Most playable products only give credit to legal Starfinder Society characters. Standard pregenerated characters are allowed for use in event mode play in any adventure for which the character would be in the adventure's level range. Higher-level content requires a legal character in the appropriate level range.

Time: Starfinder Society sanctioned adventures can take several sessions to complete. GMs are encouraged to work with players who miss one or more sessions when issuing Chronicle Sheets. Until applicable Chronicle Sheets are handed out, these characters may not be used in any other Starfinder Society event.

APPLYING CREDIT

All players receive a Chronicle Sheet unless, at the GM's discretion, they are replaying the Adventure Path for no credit.

MULTI-SESSION ADVENTURES AND EXTENDED PLAY

Characters can play in only one scenario or Adventure Path at a time. Characters are considered to be playing in an adventure until they receive a Chronicle Sheet for sanctioned content.

GMs should to work with players who do not finish a scenario or Adventure Path to receive their Chronicle Sheets. Players receive partial credit for Adventure Paths based on the amount of sanctioned material they completed. If they complete less than half of the adventure, they receive half of the adventure's credits, XP, and Fame, and they gain full access to the items that they found during play. If they complete more than half of the adventure, they receive full credit for the adventure

TABLE VARIATION

While the goal of the Starfinder Society is to provide an even, balanced experience to all players, doing so would require all PCs to be exactly the same and all GMs to be restricted to a stiflingly oppressive script. We understand that sometimes a Game Master has to make rules adjudications on the fly, deal with unexpected player choices, or even cope with extremely unlucky (or lucky) dice on both sides of the screen.

Scenarios are meant to be run as written, with no addition or subtraction to the number of creatures (unless indicated in the scenario), or changes to armor, feats, items, skills, spells, starships, statistics, or weapons. However, if the actions of the PCs before or during an encounter invalidate the provided tactics or starting locations, the GM should consider whether changing these would provide a more enjoyable play experience.

As a Starfinder Society GM, you have the right and responsibility to make whatever judgments, within the rules, that you feel are necessary at your table to ensure everyone has a fair and fun experience. This does not mean you can contradict rules or restrictions outlined in this document, a published Starfinder RPG source, errata document, or official FAQ on paizo.com. What it does mean is that only you can judge what is right for your table during cases that are not covered in these sources.

Additionally, the GM may consider utilizing terrain and environmental conditions when those effects have been written into the flavor of a scenario but the mechanics that are normally associated with them by the Starfinder Core Rulebook have not been added to the encounters. GMs are always encouraged to reward role-playing when adjudicating the reactions of NPCs or the outcome of in-game encounters.

GMs may use other Starfinder sources to add flavor to the scenario, but may not change the mechanics of encounters. Specifically, the mechanics of an encounter are the creatures presented, the number of opponents in the encounter, and the information written into the stat blocks for those opponents. If an encounter is a trap, or skill check that needs to be achieved to bypass a situation, then the listed DCs and results are not to be altered, as they are the mechanics of that encounter. Additionally, if an encounter already includes mechanical effects of terrain, weather, or hazards, please be aware that these things are also considered mechanics that may not be altered. GMs cannot ban legal character options at public events.

If an issue comes up repeatedly or causes a significant problem in one of your games, raise any questions or concerns on the Starfinder Society forums at paizo.com/community/forums/organizedPlay/sfsrpg, and the campaign management staff will work to provide you with an answer to avoid confusion in the future. Even with unlimited time to address such concerns, however, there will always be slight table variation and Game Master fiat. The following sections provide advice on addressing some common table variations you should consider before running a game.

CREATIVE SOLUTIONS

Sometimes during the course of a scenario, your players might surprise you with a creative solution to an encounter (or the entire scenario) that you didn't see coming and that isn't expressly covered in the scenario. If, for example, your players manage to roleplay their way through a combat and successfully accomplish the goal of that encounter without killing the antagonist, give the PCs the same reward they would have gained had they defeated their opponent in combat. If that scene specifically calls for the PCs to receive a credits reward based on the gear collected from the defeated combatants, instead allow the PCs to find a credstick (or something similar) that gives them the same rewards. Additionally, if the PCs miss an NPC who carries a specific weapon that the PCs might be granted access to on the scenario's Chronicle Sheet, don't cross that item off the sheet—instead, allow the PCs to find the item elsewhere as a reward for creatively resolving the encounter without resorting to combat.

The Starfinder Society never wants to give the impression that the only way to solve a problem is to kill it. Rewarding the creative use of skills and roleplaying not only make Society games more fun for the players, but it also gives the GM a level of flexibility in ensuring players receive the rewards they are due.

But what if your players accidentally or intentionally kill an important NPC who was supposed to give them a crucial piece of information that's needed for the scenario to progress? This is a tough problem for the GM and requires improvisation. Don't decide the scenario is over just because the old man with the letter was caught in a crossfire and roasted alive by laser rifles, destroying both him and the important letter. Reveal that the letter survived by some freakish miracle (it was in a fireproof augmentation in his arm!) or maybe that the old man had a lackey who was watching from a nearby alley and knows everything the old man did, or another similar explanation. Improvisation will keep your scenario moving forward and help you work around unforeseen obstacles.

INFAMY AND ALIGNMENT INFRACTIONS

Players are responsible for their characters' actions. "That's just what my character would do" is not a defense for behaving like a jerk.

Alignment infractions are a touchy subject. Killing an innocent, wanton destruction, and other acts that can be construed as evil might be considered alignment infractions. Ultimately, you are the final authority at the table, but you must warn any player whose character is deviating from his chosen alignment. This warning must be clear, and you must make sure that the player understands the warning and the actions that initiated the warning. The PC should be given the opportunity to correct the behavior, justify it, or face the consequences. You can issue a warning to the player through a "feeling" he receives from his deity, a vision he is given, his conscience talking to him, or some other similar roleplaying event.

Infamy: As Starfinder has no rules for magical atonement, alignment infractions are tracked by the application of Infamy. When a character expresses the intent to perform a wantonly evil or callously criminal action and you inform them that their action would be considered an evil action, if the character still persists in performing the action, you can apply a point of Infamy to the character. Because Starfinder Society characters cannot be evil, gaining Infamy does not mandate a change in the character's alignment, but rather, represents a step towards becoming evil.

Beyond GM intervention, some scenarios and written products may present evil solutions to situations. These actions will be called out within the adventure text as being appropriate to give a character partaking in them a point of Infamy. Still, the GM is the final arbiter on what constitutes an alignment infraction and when Infamy is gained by a character at the table.

Every point of Infamy represents the PC's reputation for performing evil actions. A character can have a maximum of 3 Infamy before that character must be retired; it is assumed characters with 3 points of Infamy become irrevocably evil and are no longer welcome to join standard Starfinder Society operations.

Effects of Infamy: A character can have an Infamy score between 0 and 3. Gained Infamy can be "bought off" by spending Fame (see the Basic Purchasing Plan boon on page). The following summarizes the effects of Infamy based on the number of points accrued:

0: No effect. The character is considered in excellent moral standing with the Starfinder Society.

1: The character has earned a reputation for performing unseemly deeds. The character reduces the maximum item level of equipment he can purchase by 1. This typically means that the PC can purchase equipment from outside the Starfinder Core Rulebook with an item level equal to his level - 1, he can purchase only equipment from the Starfinder Core Rulebook equal to his level, and can purchase equipment listed on a Chronicle Sheet only if its level is at most 1 higher than his level.

2: The character is renowned for her evil exploits in the name of the Starfinder Society. The character reduces the maximum item level of equipment he can purchase by 2. This typically means the PCs can purchase equipment from outside the Starfinder Core Rulebook with an item level equal to her level - 2, or purchase equipment listed in the Starfinder Core Rulebook equal to her level - 1. A PC with this level of Infamy can purchase equipment listed on her Chronicle Sheets only if its level is equal to or less than her level.

3: The character has earned such a reputation that he is barred from participating in the Starfinder Society, unless he spends Fame to reduce his Infamy score at the end of the session. If the character lacks sufficient Fame to reduce his Infamy score by the end of the scenario, the character is permanently retired from play.

Major Infractions: Characters who become wantonly evil by performing vile actions deliberately and without motive or provocation are retired from the campaign when they reach 3 Infamy and cannot reduce the value by spending Fame. This measure is a last resort; players should endeavor to play their characters in ways that are within the constraints of acceptable alignments, even if their characters have gained some Infamy.

If a character is retired as defined above, you should escalate the report to the event coordinator, or the local venture-captain or regional venture-coordinator. If that venture-officer agrees with you, then the character is deemed wantonly evil and considered removed from the campaign. Again, these measures should be taken as a very last resort.

In the event of a wantonly evil character, record the character as "dead," and the person who enters the tracking sheet should check that box as well. If the event coordinator, venture-captain, or regional venture-coordinator decides the character fits the criteria for being wantonly evil, she will then e-mail the Organized Play Manager to advise her of the situation, including the player's name, organized play number, and e-mail address. A player must be advised of these actions and be provided with a chance to contact their RVC to present their side of the case.

DEALING WITH DEATH

Given the dangers characters face once they become Starfinders, character death is a very real possibility (and a necessary one to maintain a sense of risk and danger in the game). Consider, however, that for a player new to Starfinder Society, or to the Starfinder RPG in general, having his character experience a violent death during his first game can sour him on the campaign and the game altogether. While we don't advocate fudging die rolls, consider the experience of the player when deciding whether to use especially lethal tactics or if a character is in extreme danger of death, especially when the player is new to the game. Most players whose first experience in a campaign results in a character death don't return to the campaign.

Similarly, if the entire party is killed and can't be brought back to life, then the slot is over for everyone in the party. This means those players may have a substantial span of time before their next event at a convention with no game to play. Obviously, we hope that such total party kills never happen (and strive to balance the scenarios to make it unlikely)—but, sometimes, the dice just aren't with you and everyone passes into the Great Beyond.

CHRONICLE SHEETS AND RECORD KEEPING

Regardless of whether you participate in Starfinder Society at home or at a convention, your most important responsibility as a GM—other than providing your players a fair and fun gaming experience—is to keep a careful record of events on every scenario's Chronicle Sheet.

Chronicle Sheets record everything that a Starfinder Society character does over the course of her career and serves as the official record of each character in the campaign so a character can be played under a number of GMs at events all over the world. Chronicle Sheets also help prevent the rare unscrupulous player from cheating.

As you run your players through a Starfinder Society adventure, there are four important things you must keep track of: Fame, Reputation, treasure, and conditions.

Tracking Fame and Reputation is fairly simple; it requires you to read over the success conditions in the back of the scenario before play and then record whether the PCs accomplish these missions during the scenario.

When you are looking over the character record sheets and Chronicle Sheets of your players at the start of an event slot, if you notice anything that seems amiss, you can ask the player to explain any errors to you. If you believe a player to be cheating, please call over a coordinator to make a ruling.

If you are both the coordinator and the GM, it's your call how to proceed, though we recommend that you do so calmly, nicely, and with an open mind. The player might have simply made a mistake, or you might have made a mistake in your understanding of her Chronicle Sheet and character record sheet. Remember that the game is supposed to be fun, so waste as little time as possible on drama and spend as much time as possible providing an exciting, action-packed scenario for your players.

If you find a mistake on a Chronicle Sheet or character record, resolve it as fairly as possible, such as having the character spend additional credits needed to meet the full purchase price of the item, retrain any feats using the guidelines presented in the "Playtests and Errata" section of this document, or replace any prepared spells not legal for play. Check with your event coordinator or a venture-officer if you are unsure of how to fix a mistake.

If you believe the player to be cheating, record the organized play number of the player in question and then ask her to leave your table. Afterward, send an e-mail to the organized play staff at organizedplay@paizo.com, including the player's organized play number and detailing as much as you can remember about the sheet.

FILLING OUT A CHRONICLE SHEET

Following is an 11-step walkthrough of how to fill out a Chronicle Sheet at the end of a scenario. Refer to the sample Chronicle Sheet to the right for the locations of specific elements. Always fill out Chronicle Sheets in pen, and write clearly and legibly at all times.

Step 1: Hand each of the players a blank Chronicle Sheet and ask them to fill out the sections marked A-F, H, K, and O (Character Chronicle #, player/character info and slotted faction, Starting XP, Initial Fame, and Starting Credits). Each player should also list the factions for which her character earned Reputation during the adventure (V). Note that some scenarios grant an additional Reputation for a specific faction. Ask players to add this faction to the list of factions earning reputation (V). For each entry, record the amount of Reputation the character earned for each faction on the left-hand side of the nearby column (W). The Character Chronicle # is the number of Chronicle Sheets the player's character has applied to it; for example, upon completing a character's first scenario, the player should write "1" in this box; if this is that character's 34th scenario, this number should be #34.

When the players are done entering this information from their past Chronicle Sheets, have them return the documents to you.

Step 2: Award the character XP. A PC receives XP only if he survives the scenario, or completed at least three encounters over the course of the adventure and is raised from the dead by the scenario's conclusion. A character earns 1 XP for completing a scenario. Mark this value in the shaded XP Gained field (I) and initial the adjacent box.

Step 3: Determine how much Fame the character earned over the course of the scenario. A character can typically earn a maximum of 2 Fame per scenario; 1 Fame for each success condition completed. Enter the number of Fame earned in the shaded Fame Gained field (L) and initial the adjacent box. Add the Reputation earned for each faction during the scenario to the PC's previous Reputation total for that faction (X on prior Chronicle Sheet with that faction), and write the new total in place of the previous total (X). If the character gained any Infamy during the session, record the Infamy gained on the Infamy line (Y).

Step 4: Determine the Max Credits for the scenario based on the level range played. Circle the applicable value (G). If the PC's level is not within the level range played (such as a 1st- or 2nd-level character in level range 3–4), circle the Out-of-Level credits value. Write this value beside area G and circle it. This value represents the total credits value a character receives for defeating all enemies and finding all treasure in a scenario.

A player using a non-1st-level pregenerated character may choose to apply this Chronicle Sheet to a 1st-level character by reducing this value to 720 credits for completing a scenario or 2,160 credits for completing an Adventure Path module.

If the PCs failed to earn the rewards listed for any of the scenario's encounters, deduct the amount listed for the applicable level range from the value circled in area G. If the resulting value is negative, use 0 instead. Place the result of this calculation in the shaded Credits Gained field and initial the adjacent box (P).

Step 6: Allow any PC who qualifies to attempt a Day Job check and enter the result of this roll (detailed on page 45) in the Day Job field and initial the adjacent box (Q).

Step 7: Mark any special boxes (T) and cross out any items the party didn't find in the scenario (U); also, if you're running the lower level range, cross out all the items listed for the higher level range. Return the Chronicle Sheet to the player.

Step 8: Have the player record credits spent or gained from buying and selling items, including spellcasting services, in the Credits Spent section (R). If the character gained an ongoing condition like a curse or disease during the scenario, the player should note that on the sheet as well. See Dealing with Afflictions below for more information on noting conditions gained and cleared during a scenario or after its conclusion. Additionally, the player must list any boons or services his character gains by spending Fame as well as the benefits of any activities undertaken during Downtime other than a Day Job on the Chronicle Sheet.

Any equipment purchased or sold with a price of more than 50 credits should be tracked on the character's Chronicle Sheet (or suitable Inventory Tracking Sheet, if any), denoting the Character Chronicle # (A) next to the item purchased, sold, or expended during the course of the scenario or after its conclusion.

Step 9: Have the player finish the calculations on the right-hand side of the Chronicle Sheet (sections J, M, N, and S).

Step 10: Review the completed Chronicle Sheet and check the player's math. Ensure that the character has access to any items bought and that the correct costs were paid. Verifying this information now helps prevent future errors. Once you're satisfied with the information on the Chronicle Sheet, fill in the gray box at the bottom of the sheet and sign off on the sheet (Z). For "Event," write in the name of the event you are playing at—if this is a home game or in-store game, just write "home game" or the name of the store. If it's a convention, write the name of the show and the year. For "Event Code," write in the event code associated with your event found on paizo.com/events.

Step 11: You can make additional purchases between the end of your session and the beginning of the next session. Make a list of these purchases before your next game using that character, and present them to the GM of your next scenario before that game starts. Your GM will mark these purchases as part of the subsequent Chronicle Sheet, though they are considered to have been purchased prior to the start of the subsequent scenario.

DEALING WITH AFFLICTIONS

At the end of a scenario, a PC might have been afflicted with any number of possible afflictions, such as blindness, a curse, deafness, a disease, or a poison. Verify that the player recorded any such conditions on his Chronicle Sheet and initial next to what he wrote (see below). It's specifically important that conditions be written legibly so the player and subsequent GMs can understand them.

If the PC purchased the casting of a spell or use of equipment to remove the condition, you need to make sure the player recorded that information at the bottom of the Chronicle Sheet. If another PC cleared the condition by casting a spell, this information should be listed on the Chronicle Sheet with the casting character's full organized play number and character number written in next to the spell's name. If, during this scenario, a character resolved a condition gained during a previous scenario, check that the condition is listed as cleared on the Chronicle Sheet for this scenario, and verify that the cost for resolving it or the PC who cleared it has been recorded.

Note: Any affliction that would result in an unplayable character must be resolved at the table once the game ends. This typically involves the remove affliction spell, either cast by a fellow PC or purchased as a service from an NPC. A character who does not resolve such conditions should be marked as dead.

REPORTING SCENARIO RESULTS

Once you have completed a scenario and filled out everyone's Chronicle Sheets, someone needs to report the results of the scenario. For home games, GMs are always responsible for reporting their results. For convention games and retail store games, the coordinator (who might also be a GM) is responsible for reporting the results.

Whether you are running a game at home or at a convention, you should have a scenario tracking sheet for each session you run. These can be found in the back of most scenarios or online at paizo.com/organizedplay/myaccount on the GM/Event Coordinator tab. As you're checking over the players' completed Chronicle Sheets, record each character's organized play number, character number, character name, faction, and Reputation earned during the scenario for reporting purposes. You'll also be required to report whether any characters died in the course of the adventure.

As soon as possible after the session ends, go to the GM/Event Coordinator tab linked above, and click "Report." Follow the instructions carefully, and enter the information from the tracking sheet into the form on the website. You'll note that we collect far less information online than each player's Chronicle Sheets contains—this is intentional.

Most scenarios have reporting notes at the end of the adventure. These instruct a GM to check one or more boxes (A, B, C, or D) based on the PCs' choices and deeds, which help to shape the direction of the campaign. Be sure to check these boxes as instructed. Some scenarios also have a special faction objective, and if the PCs fulfilled those conditions, check the Special Faction Objective Fulfilled box during reporting.

Event coordinators at retail stores and conventions are generally responsible for reporting the results of each session. As the session finishes, simply fill out the items that need to be tracked online on the convention tracking sheet and turn it in to the coordinator. The coordinator will then input all that information online either during the convention or shortly thereafter. In retail games and at smaller conventions, the coordinator is also often a GM. Regardless of the location of play, do not forget to report the results—reporting is very important to the success of Starfinder Society!

GAME MASTER REWARDS

In Starfinder Society, we reward GMs for volunteering their time to run events. Any GM who runs a scenario can apply a Chronicle Sheet for that scenario to one of her own characters, earning full credit. GMs also receive additional rewards based on the number of scenarios they have run and reported (see Reporting Scenario Results on page 15 and GM Nova Rewards below).

"Full credit" means the GM earns the following: 1 XP for the scenario, 100% of the maximum credits for the level range most appropriate to the GM's character, 2 Reputation for any one faction for which the character has a Faction boon, any additional Reputation given out as part of the scenario, and 2 Fame. For sanctioned Adventure Paths, full credit is 3 XP, 5 Reputation, and 5 Fame.

The GM can select any special boons bestowed by a Chronicle Sheet. Boons for specific faction members may only be selected if the character that is receiving credit also receives Reputation for that faction. The GM's character receives Downtime (see page 45) and spends it upon applying the Chronicle Sheet.

The level range for which a GM's character receives credit depends on the character's level. If a GM with a 1st-level operative runs a Level 1–4 scenario, she receives the rewards appropriate for character in the level range 1–2, whether she ran the scenario for level range 1–2 or 3–4.

If the GM runs a scenario that her character is too low level to play, she should fill out the Chronicle Sheet from that scenario for the scenario's lowest level range and hold it for her PC. Once her PC achieves the appropriate level for that Chronicle Sheet to be applied, it is immediately applied at that time as if it had been gained by playing a pregenerated character (see Applying Credit in the Pregenerated Characters section on page 8). For example, if a GM with a 1st-level operative wants to give gives that character credit for a Level 3–6 scenario, which has level ranges 3–4 and 5–6, she should fill out the Chronicle Sheet for a character in the 3–4 level range. Once her operative reaches 3rd level, she then immediately applies the Chronicle Sheet to her character. This means that GMs' characters can potentially level gain several levels at a time.

When you choose to take a Chronicle Sheet for GM credit, you must decide which of your characters receives the Chronicle Sheet when you fill out the tracking sheet for that table. You must apply Chronicle Sheets in the order they are received. As a GM, you do not have to take a Chronicle Sheet for the games you run. To choose this option, put a line through the GM character number box on the reporting sheet. When reporting the event on paizo.com, leave the character number box blank.

A GM can earn the rewards or benefits associated with any of her character's current boons, as long as those boons could have been slotted during the course of the adventure. The GM chooses which boons would have been slotted in this manner after running the scenario. This can also apply to "out of table" boons like Digital Presence or Worldwide Explorer.

GM NOVA REWARDS

The Starfinder Society offers a GM ranking system. This system uses novas to denote the activity and experience of a given GM. The novas are visible on your organized play ID card. You can earn up to four novas for running a certain number of reported games, as follows:

- Report 10 sessions as GM = 1 nova
- Report 30 sessions as GM = 2 novas
- Report 60 sessions as GM = 3 novas
- Report 100 sessions as GM = 4 novas

A GM must accomplish the following baseline achievements to qualify for their fifth nova:

- Report 150 sessions as GM.
- Run 50 different adventures.
- Run 10 or more scenarios featuring the Exclusive tag.
- Complete 3 observation games in the presence of a venture-captain, a regional venture-coordinator, or a member of the Paizo Organized Play staff (see page 51 for the rubric).

To fully experience the benefits of peer review and feedback, we recommend the following observation schedule:

- 0–10 Games: You're getting your feet wet. Thanks for GMing!
- 11–49 Games: Use the rubric to get a feel for organized play best practices. Consider having a fellow GM sit at your table and give feedback.
- 50–99 Games: Ask any venture-officers at your tables to do a rubric evaluation to give feedback as if it were an evaluation game.
- 100 Games: Ask a qualifying observer to complete a formal evaluation.

All GMs receive the following rewards based on the number of GM novas that they have earned.

- They apply a bonus equal to their number of GM novas earned to rerolls gained via boons.
- They earn the ability to replay one scenario once (see Replaying Adventures on page 7) per nova earned.
- Run exclusive or limited release content as made available.

ORDERING SCENARIOS

All available Starfinder Society scenarios can be found at paizo.com/store/starfindersociety. Anyone can purchase a scenario PDF—all you need is a free paizo.com account.

GMs for stores may request a copy of the scenario from the store. Venture-officers may also loan printed copies of scenarios to local GMs. Event organizers may request scenario copies for their GMs via the event organizer forms toolbox. To gain access to this toolbox, email organizedplay@paizo.com or ask your local venture-officer.

Scenarios are generally released during the last week of each month. At least two new scenarios are released each month, with extra events and specials released throughout the year.

CHAPTER 4: PROGRAM BASICS

The Starfinder Society campaign functions much like a home campaign played with the Starfinder RPG, with the following adjustments.

CONDITIONS, DEATH, AND EXPENDABLES

In certain cases, the events of an adventure can affect a character even after that adventure has ended.

Conditions: Unless noted otherwise, all conditions gained during an adventure, including death, must be resolved before the end of the session. A condition in this context includes an affliction, a negative effect, or an effect that is intended to mechanically affect your character in a negative way. If such a condition isn't resolved by the end of play, the character should be reported as dead and becomes unplayable. However, a few conditions need not be resolved by the end of play, including permanent negative levels, ability drain that does not reduce an ability score to 0, and conditions that impose no mechanical effect.

Permanent negative levels, ability drain, and non-mechanical conditions being carried over to the next session should be recorded on the Chronicle Sheet.

Players are encouraged to share their physical resources in order to resolve any and all conditions. They may not pool Fame. Characters can also sell off gear, including a dead character's gear, at 10% of its listed value to raise money to purchase an item or spell that will resolve the condition, though they can only do so in a settlement and they cannot sell off any items found during the current adventure that they haven't purchased. Characters can use the rewards from the Chronicle Sheet they earned in order to resolve any conditions. Characters who die during an adventure and are raised receive full XP for that adventure, as long as they completed at least three encounters.

A character who ultimately doesn't resolve conditions during or immediately after the adventure must be marked as dead, and is treated in the same manner (see Death below).

Death: Death is a threat for characters who undertake the Starfinder Society's dangerous missions. Unfortunately, death can happen in Starfinder Society play just like any regular Starfinder RPG session. If a Starfinder Society character dies during the course of an adventure:

- He can be raised by a character of appropriate class and level at his table by paying all costs associated with the raise dead spell.
- He can be raised by an NPC in an appropriately sized settlement by purchasing appropriate spellcasting services.
- He can be raised by spending the requisite Fame.

If the player chooses not to take any of the above options (or is unable to due to lack of resources or other complications), the character is permanently dead.

A dead character's player receives a Chronicle Sheet for the adventure with no XP, Fame, Reputation, credits, or boons. The GM should report that character as dead on the Reporting Sheet provided with the adventure and on the character's Chronicle Sheet. That character cannot be played anymore. The player will need to make a new 1st-level character or play a different character to continue playing in the Starfinder Society

Expendables: Any wealth spent or resources expended during the course of an adventure must be tracked and recorded on either the Chronicle Sheet or the PC's personal inventory tracking (such as the Inventory Tracking Sheet) as applicable.

PURCHASING GEAR AND SPELLS

In Starfinder Society play, you can never buy, sell, or trade items with another player, but you may allow another player to borrow an item for the duration of an adventure. Characters may also expend consumables on behalf of their party members. Players are permitted to spend a character's credits to help a party member purchase spellcasting services such as raise dead or remove affliction. This includes pooling money to buy raise dead or restoration spell gems for use in the game. If the PCs buy an item using pooled money that they do not use during the adventure, one PC may purchase the item at the end of the adventure, paying the item's full cost. If no PC wants to purchase the item, the PC must sell the item back for 10% value, reimbursing each PC for half of what she paid into the pool.

Magic, hybrid, and technological items that can be used less often than once per day (such as once per week or once per month and so on) are considered to be usable once per adventure.

WHERE TO BUY EQUIPMENT AND SPELLCASTING SERVICES

For simplicity, players can make purchases in a settlement up to the listed Maximum Item Value, adhering to the Always Available Items list below. Players can also procure spellcasting services if their characters are in a settlement, with the maximum available spellcasting level being equal to half the settlement's Maximum Item Level. While this isn't a true approximation of NPC spellcasting levels in a settlement, this represents a settlement's ability to call in outside assistance, or for the Society to get someone on site to assist the PCs. If outside of a settlement, PCs might be restricted from buying equipment, though this varies by adventure.

ALWAYS AVAILABLE ITEMS

You may always purchase the following items or equipment as long as you're in an appropriate settlement (see above).

- All equipment listed in the Starfinder Core Rulebook with an item level equal to your character level + 1.
- All equipment listed in sanctioned Starfinder content with an item level equal to your character.
- Any equipment listed on your character's Chronicle Sheets with an item level equal to your character level + 2.
- All items and services purchased with Fame.

Beyond the gear noted above, your character is restricted to purchasing additional items either from his accumulated Chronicle Sheets or by capitalizing on his Fame (see page 25). Weapons, armor, equipment, magic items and so on that are outside of these lists are not available for purchase at any time.

ITEM VALUE

Items must be purchased at full value. You can purchase items of less than full value only if they appear that way on a Chronicle Sheet.

SPELLCASTING SERVICES

You may hire a spellcaster to cast a spell using the following rules.

To hire a spellcaster, you must be able to pay the credit cost. Page 234 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook covers the rules for purchasing spellcasting services, and the associated costs are listed in Table 7-38: Professional Services on page 235. If you don't have sufficient credits, the other players around the table can chip in, but they cannot be compelled to do so. You can also use Fame to purchase spellcasting services per the table on page 25 of this guide.

Purchased spellcasting is assumed to be cast using the minimum caster level. Spells without a level, such as miracle and wish, cannot be purchased as a spellcasting service.

You can hire a spellcaster to cast a spell for you at any time during an adventure as long as you're in a settlement with an appropriate Maximum Item Level, or have access to a temple, shrine, or wandering mystic, at the GM's discretion. For Starfinder Society play, a PC can only purchase a spell as long as the spell level of the service is equal to half the settlement's Maximum Item Level. Please note that PCs can never purchase the traveling service of a spellcaster—in other words, a mystic from the local settlement is not going to accompany the PCs on their mission to investigate the nearby haunted starship or extraplanar breach for any price.

SPELLS

The following spells found in the Starfinder Core Rulebook are not legal for play and may never be used, found, purchased, or learned in any form by characters of the Starfinder Society: animate dead and reincarnate. All spells and effects end at the end of an adventure with the following exceptions, which should be noted on the Chronicle Sheet.

- Spells and effects with permanent or instantaneous duration that heal damage, repair damage, or remove harmful conditions remain in effect at the end of the adventure.
- Afflictions and harmful conditions obtained during an adventure remain until healed and carry over from adventure to adventure (except as noted under Conditions, Death, and Expendables on page 17).

FAME AND REPUTATION

While Fame and Reputation are related, they represent two different things within the Starfinder Society and serve different purposes. Reputation is a non-expendable score that represents your renown with Starfinder Society factions. Higher Reputation scores unlock resources that can be purchased with Fame from the factions and the Starfinder Society as a whole. As Reputation represents the character's overall standing within a faction, a character's Fame represents what the Starfinder Society and her associated factions owe her in terms of boons, favors, and rewards. You earn Reputation by completing missions for the Starfinder Society or a faction, increasing your current Reputation with the associated faction by the listed amount.

Most Starfinder Society scenarios have the potential to award up to 2 Fame, typically by completing the primary and secondary success conditions. For every point of Fame you gain at the end of a scenario, you increase your Reputation with the faction currently slotted in your Faction boon slot by 1.

SPENDING FAME

A character's Fame reflect the goodwill, political capital, and personal favors she has built up through service to the Starfinder Society. While a character's Reputation with a faction can provide certain titles and privileges, the most tangible benefits are acquired by spending Fame on aid, favors, spellcasting, or other services—in the form of boons—that might enhance a character or an adventure. In addition to the boons available to all Starfinders regardless of faction (listed in the All-Factions Boons table on page 25), each faction offers specific boons available only to its members (see Appendix 2: Factions at the end of this document for more information).

Regardless of a character's Reputation with a faction, the Fame cost for these boons remains the same—a character with 20 Reputation with the Dataphiles faction must spend the same amount of Fame to receive services as a character with 0 Reputation. Instead, Reputation determines what options are available to be purchased with Fame. As a character advances through the tiers of Reputation with a faction, more boons become available for her to spend her Fame on.

Once Fame is spent, it is spent permanently; it is not recovered automatically like lost Hit Points or ability score damage. The character can earn more Fame by participating in additional adventures.

Fame can be spent using the following rules.

- Player characters can't spend Fame during combat.
- GMs can choose to limit the number of times Fame may be spent during an adventure if player use becomes excessive and time is of the essence.
- Fame is designed to be spent by characters on themselves; PCs can't pool Fame to obtain more expensive boons or services unless the specific boon says otherwise.
- A character's ability to spend Fame is dependent on her being in contact with the Starfinder Society or other members of her affiliated factions. Unless noted otherwise, the Starfinder Society and most factions tend to have agents, contacts, or headquarters in most settlements within the Pact Worlds.
- To reflect the difficulty of contacting a Starfinder Society or faction agent in a settlement outside the Pact Worlds, Fame costs increase by 3 in the Drift and Near Space. The cost increases by 5 in the Vast.

- It is possible for a player character to spend her Fame even if the character in question is dead, petrified, or otherwise unable to take actions in the context of the current adventure. In essence, this represents the PC having made prior arrangements with the Starfinder Society or her affiliated factions to perform certain actions on her behalf, such as recovering her dead body and returning it to a specific location or having it raised from the dead. This cost also includes recovery of a character's lost equipment or the need to hunt down and kill a character's undead body before recovering it and bringing it back to life. In this event, the PC's actual location does not impact the Fame cost.

CAMPAIGN POLICIES

As a living campaign, the Starfinder Society is constantly evolving. In between versions of this guide, updates to policies may be necessary to keep the organization running smoothly. Any updates are announced in the organized play blogs on paizo.com. After each announcement, copies of the new policy will be posted on the website at paizo.com/organizedplay/policies. Current policies include the Starfinder Society Community Behavior Policy, the Retail Incentive policy, and the Convention Support policy.

IMPLEMENTING CHANGES

Oftentimes, changes to the campaign, whether through errata, additional resources, or campaign clarifications, are made just before a convention or game day comes about. Unfortunately, this occurs most often when members of the Starfinder Society aren't able to easily access such information. When this occurs, the member does not have to implement the change until after that convention or game session. GMs should mark any Chronicle Sheet earned at that event as "ID," short for "implementation delay." Players then must update their characters to meet current campaign guidelines following the convention or game session.

APPENDIX 1: CHARACTER CREATION

Use the following steps to create a Starfinder Society character.

1. CHARACTER CONCEPT

The first step is to decide on a concept for your character. This likely involves reviewing Starfinder's available races, themes, and classes. Remember, you can use all products referenced in the Additional Resources document, found at paizo.com/starfindersociety/additional.

2. RACE

Select your character's race. The choices offered in Chapter 3 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook are always available, as are the Legacy races in Chapter 13. Additionally, the following races from are always available provided you own a copy of the appropriate source book: draeliki, formian, ikeshti, kalo, maraquoi, nuar, rhyphorian, verthani, witchwyrd from Starfinder Alien Archive, as well as izalguun from Starfinder Alien Archive 3.

Additional races may be available if they are listed in the Additional Resources document, provided you own a copy of the appropriate source book. Alternatively, you may play a race provided by an appropriate adventure appendix printout. Other races are available as campaign boons; the Chronicle Sheet on which such a boon is listed must be the first Chronicle Sheet applied to a character.

Characters must be between the age of maturity and the maximum age (see Table 3-1 on page 41 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook or the relevant table in the source book where the race appears). When determining the maximum age of a race, you can assume the dice results would be their theoretical maximum. For example, a human would have a maximum age of 120, while a ysoki would have a maximum age of 80.

3. CHARACTER THEME

All Starfinder Society characters must select a character theme during character creation, from the following options.

- All themes listed in the Starfinder Core Rulebook
- The Themeless Characters option (Starfinder Core Rulebook 28)
- Any character themes listed in the Additional Resources document or made available through a Chronicle Sheet

4. CLASS

All Starfinder Society characters begin at 1st level. All classes and archetypes from the Starfinder Core Rulebook are legal for play. See the Additional Resources document regarding which archetypes and classes outside the Starfinder Core Rulebook are legal for play within the Starfinder Society, as well as the Campaign Clarifications document for alterations to existing and new classes and archetypes.

5. ABILITY SCORES

Starfinder Society characters buy their ability scores as detailed on page 18 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook. Starfinder Society characters must use the Buying Ability Scores rules and should never use the optional methods of Ability Quick Picks, Rolling Ability Scores, or Character Flaws.

6. APPLY YOUR CLASS

With your character's ability scores determined, you can begin filling in pertinent character information. Determine your base attack bonus, saving throw bonuses, Hit Points (HP), Stamina Points (SP), and Resolve Points (RP). You should also mark down your character's 1st-level class features on your character sheet.

7. SKILLS AND FEATS

Feats and skills are essential to a Starfinder character. Each class grants a certain number of skill ranks at each level to invest in skills. Characters with a high Intelligence score also receive bonus skill ranks (Starfinder Core Rulebook 16). Review Chapter 5 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook for the details of skills and the benefits they grant.

Most characters begin play with one feat, though humans and other races may gain a racial bonus feat. Each class may grant characters additional feats as they advance in level—see individual class entries and Chapter 4 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook for further details.

For all other sources, reference the Additional Resources document regarding which feats are available for your character.

Skills: Each time a character invests a skill rank in Culture, she may choose a language listed on pages 40–41 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook. In addition to languages presented on this list, a character can select any other language listed on one of her Chronicle Sheets.

Some skills can be utilized during a character's Downtime. See Appendix 5: After the Adventure on page 52 for more information.

8. EQUIPMENT

All characters begin with 1,000 credits to spend on armor, weapons, and other equipment. Characters can purchase any piece of equipment listed in Chapter 7 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook with an item level no greater than 2nd. Characters can purchase any piece of equipment authorized by the Additional Resources document with an item level no greater than 1st.

Characters retain any remaining credits on a personal credstick that can be used for future purchases.

9. FINISHING DETAILS

The last step to character creation is filling in remaining details as explained on page 16 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook. Listed below are additional considerations for Starfinder Society characters.

ALIGNMENT

Select one of the following alignments (see Starfinder Core Rulebook 24): chaotic good, chaotic neutral, lawful good, lawful neutral, neutral, or neutral good. Players may not play evil characters. When choosing an alignment, be sure it satisfies any alignment requirements for your character's theme (such as the priest theme).

NATURAL DISABILITIES

The Starfinder Roleplaying Game allows for characters to be naturally blind or deaf as part of character creation; these character options are allowed as part of the Starfinder Society. The selection must be made at character creation and cannot be reversed. A character can choose to be either naturally blind or naturally deaf; he cannot choose to be both. A blind character gains the tactile version of any language he knows, while a character who begins play deaf automatically knows the signed versions.

DEITIES AND PHILOSOPHIES

Characters can worship any deity or philosophy listed on page 482 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook, or any other source listed in the Additional Resources document.

Characters with the priest character theme must choose as deity or philosophy whose alignment is within one step (on either the good-evil axis or the law-chaos axis) of the character's alignment.

HOME WORLD

This is where your character was raised, and it must be your racial home world or one of the Pact Worlds presented in the Starfinder Core Rulebook. Additional Resources and Chronicle Sheets may include options for additional home worlds for new characters.

LANGUAGES

Characters gain some languages based on their race and home world, but might speak additional languages depending on their Intelligence or class. All Starfinder Society characters are literate and speak Common. A character with a high Intelligence score can select bonus languages from the list on pages 40–41 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook. She can also select the following languages from other sources: Bolidan, Daimalkan, Embri, Ghoran, Orrian, Osharu, Pahtra, Quorlu, and Vlakan (Spoken, Signed and Tactile) from Starfinder Alien Archive 2, as well as Accaran, Akan, Brenneri, Dirindi, Dromadan, Espraksi, Hortaa, Iji, Izalguun, Koshorian, Lumos, Morlamaw, Perani, Raxi, Sazaron, Shimreen, Spathinaem and Telian from Starfinder Alien Archive 3.

STARSHIP

The Society provides Starfinders with starships as needed. See the Starfinder Society Starships document (included as part of the download for the Guide to Organized Play: Starfinder Society) for more information on how starships work in the campaign.

FINE TUNING

Now it's time to fine-tune the details of your character's appearance and background. Make a few notes on how your character appears to others that you can use to introduce your character at the table. Additionally, read through Appendix 4: The Universe of the Starfinder Society for information on the campaign setting and consider incorporating that information into your character's background.

The Starfinder Roleplaying Game uses a standard 1-inch grid to determine tactical positioning in combat and a 1-inch hex map to track starship combat. Choose a physical representation of your character to use on the grid. Paizo partners provide licensed Starfinder gaming miniatures on paizo.com that are well-suited to Starfinder play.

REBUILDING YOUR CHARACTER

You can rebuild 1st-level characters, even those who have earned Chronicle Sheets, using the rules in this appendix, so long as you rebuild them before playing them at level 2. If you do so, make a note on your most recent Chronicle Sheet to confirm the changes.

If you've applied a permanent personal boon slot to a character (such as a capstone or race boon), you can choose to swap out or remove the race boon as part of a character rebuild. If you remove a race boon in this manner, then you must pick another appropriate race (such as a core race, or a race made available by another race boon you possess). Single-use Chronicles that are replaced in this manner are lost, so be careful when applying these special boons to new characters that you might rebuild.

10. FACTION

At character creation, your character can join for one of five factions. Your character can champion multiple factions during the course of her career, but she must select a single faction to start with. You gain the champion boon (listed in Appendix 2: Factions) associated with that faction. Detailed descriptions of the factions, as well as benefits of membership, faction goals, and associated rewards appear in Appendix 2. A brief summary of each follows.

Acquisitives: Members of the Acquisitives seek to increase their personal fame and fortune through working with the Starfinder Society. As the Society's newest faction, the Acquisitives build their reputation by increasing the prestige of the Starfinder Society.

Dataphiles: If information is power, the Dataphiles seek to become the most powerful faction within the Starfinder Society. The Dataphiles believe in curating all data (both digital and physical) and that they alone are worthy of deciding what is fit for public consumption.

Exo-Guardians: Agents of the Exo-Guardians work to protect the Pact Worlds against the various as-of-yet unknown threats of the Vast. Their members crusade into Near Space and the Vast to amass equipment, knowledge, and magic believed to be essential in protecting the Pact Worlds.

Second Seekers: The Second Seekers are an informal faction dedicated to pursuing the agenda of the Society's current leader, the First Seeker. The current First Seeker, Ehu Hadif, has dedicated his tenure to re-establishing the Society as an archaeological research organization.

Wayfinders: Named for an old relic of bygone explorers, the Wayfinders seek to explore space and create peaceful relationships with new species. Members of Wayfinders often act as first contact ambassadors, as well as explorers to the absolute frontiers of known space.

APPENDIX 2: FACTIONS

Factions have existed within the Starfinder Society since the organization's inception. Each faction supports its agents working within the Starfinder Society. All Society agents know that their allegiance is first to the Starfinder Society, followed by any faction allegiances they maintain. In fact, most factions within the Starfinder Society actively cooperate despite their differing goals.

FACTION BOON SLOT

Every faction offers unique boons that allow a character to champion that faction. As described in Appendix 1: Character Creation, characters receive a champion Faction boon for one of the five major factions during character creation. The name of these boons is universally [Faction Name] Champion. These boons allow the character to earn Reputation with the associated faction after successfully completing a scenario. Throughout a character's career, she can purchase additional faction champion boons to allow her to champion additional factions.

FACTION OVERVIEWS

The following sections describe the five primary factions, their general objectives, and their current goals. Following this is a compilation of rewards that members of factions can purchase. Your character may earn rewards that allow them to work with smaller factions that don't appear in this guide. There are no restrictions on what factions characters can belong to, but the typical tasks set by a faction may be harder for characters of some classes to achieve.

ACQUISITIVES

The disastrous disappearance of the majority of the Starfinder Society's resources in the Scoured Stars incident was the catalyst behind the birth of the Acquisitives faction. In the hard times that followed the disaster, the Starfinder Society turned to several notable mercenary organizations, hiring freelance agents to perform duties once handled by Starfinders. Many of these hired contacts and mercenaries saw the usefulness of a continued "working relationship" with the Society, and they decided to join as the first new generation of recruits finished their accelerated training.

Faction Leader: Radaszam "The Dealmaker" (N male vesk operative)

Motto: Fame, glory, and money. We want it all.

Objectives: True to their history, Acquisitives are the most mercenary of the Starfinder Society factions. Their goals often involve promoting the Starfinder Society to the extent that it will increase the personal reputation of all members. They stockpile funds and resources, believing that by maintaining such a treasury, the faction can make itself indispensable to other factions within the Society. Indeed, many Starfinders pledge themselves, to varying degrees, to the Acquisitives faction for access to these assets. This influx of recruits is the direct by-product of the Acquisitives' existing cache of resources, not to mention their preference of sending Starfinders on missions leading to personal glory and monetary enrichment.

Year 3 Goal: Under Radaszam's continued guidance, members of the Acquisitives have struck out into new partnerships with the Veskarium. Where these developments leads, no one yet knows, but the Acquisitives hope to strengthen the bond between the Society and the Veskarium in order to open up new opportunities.

DATAPHILES

There have always been members of the Starfinder Society obsessed with the acquisition and distribution of data. For many, that is their primary reason for joining the Society in the first place. The Dataphiles are a faction of like-minded individuals who work to regulate the flow of information both inside and out of the Starfinder Society.

Faction Leader: Celita (LN female android mechanic)

Motto: Knowledge is power.

Objectives: Churches, corporations, governments, and other organizations all have secrets. The Dataphiles work to uncover these secrets, deciding what to share and what to store in their vast data vaults inside Archive's Cortex, a sector of the Lorespire Complex in Absalom Station. While not all information is shared beyond the Dataphiles' archives, the simple act of guarding knowledge acts as a guiding light for the Dataphiles. Data comes in many forms, and the Dataphiles employ more than just computer specialists in their ranks. Those Starfinders skilled at withdrawing information from sentient creatures, either by coercion, discourse, or trickery are highly sought. As their sites of interest are often some of the most well-defended installations in the galaxy, the Dataphiles also have a pressing need for trained combat specialists—whether as a strong arm protecting a hacker during a delicate operation or an armed ally capable of getting the prize out alive.

Year 3 Goal: The Dataphiles work to support Ehu Hadif's work in further exploring past Starfinder discoveries by providing vital intelligence. They've recently entered into discussions with a large Pact Worlds corporation (Resurgent Technologies) and begun working with them to develop a new generation of Starfinder Society starship. This is all part of goodwill efforts, that began after Celita uncovered an insidious conspiracy using one of the corporation's subsidiaries to front their nefarious activities.

EXO-GUARDIANS

The Exo-Guardians have existed in various forms within the Starfinder Society for the past century. Dedicated to preserving the Pact Worlds from external threats, the Exo-Guardians work closely with the Starfinder Society, using the latter's far-reaching travels and discoveries to identify galactic threats early. While most of the original Exo-Guardians were involved in the mission to the Scoured Stars, a handful remained behind. These agents have since worked to reform the faction to serve the recovering Society.

Faction Leader: Zigvigix (LG host shirren soldier)

Motto: The sword that seeks the darkness.

Objectives: The creed of the Exo-Guardians is to protect the Pact Worlds from external threats. In the context of their membership within the Starfinder Society, this most often relates to participating in missions to acquire relics or technology of a defensive nature. Exo-Guardians excel in missions that lead to such discoveries, but also serve an important secondary role within the Society of “sending a message” to threats that interfere in Society business. Be it a derelict starship overrun with mindless alien vermin or a supposedly impenetrable fortress operated by forces opposed to the Society, it’s often the Exo-Guardians who come in to handle the situation.

Year 3 Goal: The Exo-Guardians have started reaching out to the various allies that the Starfinder Society has accrued since the events of the Scoured Stars incident. Faction leader Zigvigix has been suffering from several ailments over the past three years and is finally starting to take a step back, delegating responsibilities as they find a way to transition in a new leader for the faction.

SECOND SEEKERS

Where the First Seeker leads, the Second Seekers follow. Exemplifying dutiful service, the Second Seekers follow through on the Society’s pledge to support the First Seeker, the elected head of the Starfinder Society. Unlike other factions, the goals of the Second Seekers vary over time, adapting to each new leader’s mission.

The Forum recently elected Ehu Hadif to the First Seeker. He follows-up Luwazi Elsebo’s historic term as First Seeker following the Scoured Stars incident. Unlike his predecessors, Ehu does not seek to bind himself to a specific task, but instead has dedicated his tenure to re-establishing the Society as an archaeological research organization. Through a combination of missions into Near Space and the Vast, Ehu hopes to spark new discoveries to inspire and drive Starfinder field agents to achieve greater accomplishments under his tenure. Ehu’s personal focus remains on solving mysteries uncovered by past Starfinders and other organizations, with a current focus on the mysteries surrounding the Society’s past association with the library world of Athaeum.

Ehu’s most recent predecessors were Luwazi Elsebo and Jahnura. After Jahnura went missing in the Scoured Stars incident, Luwazi Elsebo dedicated her nominated First Seeker term to rebuilding the Society. Those following Jahnura remained focused on their First Seeker’s specific goal, unraveling the mysteries of the Scoured Stars, and enacting Jahnura’s trademark “lead from the front” philosophy of exploration.

Faction Leader: Ehu Hadif Ko’ra Amares of Clan Tolar, House Zye, tenth devotee from the line of Ahmu (LG male kasatha solarian)

Motto: Learn from the past. (Ehu Hadif); A new way forward. (Luwazi Elsebo); Leading the charge. (Jahnura)

Objectives: The Second Seekers work to further the agenda of the currently elected First Seeker. As such, the objectives for this faction are directly related to a specific First Seeker and the current season goal.

Year 3 Goal: Ehu Hadif has begun opening up negotiations with several organizations spread throughout the Pact Worlds, Near Space, and even into the Vast. The new First Seeker’s goal is to discover new major sites of exploration and to further examine past Starfinder discoveries that failed to receive the attention they deserved.

Special Note: Unlike other factions, the Second Seekers’ goals closely mirror those of the current First Seeker. As future First Seekers fill that role, the previous First Seeker’s missions will give way to his or her successor. PCs can still gain reputation for the previous First Seeker’s faction by completing non-faction scenarios. Rather than simply noting the Second Seekers faction on a character sheet, the player should follow the faction name with the name of the appropriate First Seeker. An example would be: “Second Seeker (Luwazi Elsebo).”

WAYFINDERS

Members of the Wayfinders are some of the Society’s foremost experts in first contact scenarios. An organization dedicated to fully pursuing the Starfinder Society’s mission statement of exploration, the Wayfinders are at the forefront of each expedition to scan a planet, set foot on an asteroid, or greet a previously unknown species. Wayfinders have a natural passion for exploration, be it through social situations with new species or discovering ancient alien ruins.

Faction Leader: Fitch (CN female ysoki technomancer)

Motto: First into the unknown.

Objectives: The Wayfinders are paragons of the greater Starfinder Society’s drive to explore the innumerable worlds accessible with the advent of the Drift. They, more than any other group within the Society, focus their efforts outside of the Pact Worlds. Traveling through Near Space and the Vast, the Wayfinders live for the thrill of discovery, bringing their findings back to the Lorespire Complex for proper cataloging and dissemination.

Year 3 Goal: The Society’s new directive to promote even further exploration fits right in with the Wayfinders’ goals. Having recently repair the Master of Stars, the Wayfinders now position themselves to establish beachheads in Near Space and the Vast. With other factions focused on their agendas, the Wayfinders seek to establish new lodges for the Starfinder Society to utilize as they continue to explore the galaxy beyond the Pact Worlds.

NEW FACTIONS

There are innumerable entities and organizations in the galaxy, and some represent unique factions yet to make major inroads with the Starfinder Society. During the course of play, it's possible for a character to receive a special Chronicle Sheet reward that allows admission into one of these new factions. The rules for joining these factions, as well as gaining reputation and spending Fame for faction-specific rewards, will be listed with the associated Chronicle Sheet.

FACTION REWARDS

Each of the five major factions offers a variety of rewards, accessible at varying tiers of reputation, that PCs can purchase with Fame. Along with these faction-specific rewards, several generic rewards exist for every faction, depending on the amount of Reputation earned.

Reputation Tiers: There are a total of five Reputation Tiers a character can progress through with a faction. As a PC earns Reputation associated with a faction, she unlocks additional benefits and access to more boons. A PC's overall standing is represented by her Reputation Tier. These tiers are numbered 0 through 4, with a Reputation Tier of 0 representing no advancement within a faction, while a Reputation Tier of 4 is the height of prestige within a faction. A Reputation Tier of 0 is not a valid Reputation Tier to collect the rewards from boons based on Reputation Tier. To advance in Reputation Tiers, a character must collect the requisite amount of Reputation as detailed on Table 2-1.

TABLE 2-1: REPUTATION TIER THRESHOLDS

1	5+
2	15+

ALL FACTIONS

The following is a list of purchasable rewards for all factions.

Special Note: To calculate your current Reputation Tier for the purpose of all-factions boons, add up your total Reputation from all factions. For example, a character with 5 Reputation with the Wayfinders and 11 Reputation with the Exo-Guardians would have 16 Reputation with all factions and have access to Tier 2 all-factions rewards.

TABLE 2-2: ALL-FACTIONS BOONS

BOON LIST

The following section includes descriptions for all boons purchasable with Fame.

Abundant Ammunition (Starship Boon)

Your faction provides you with ample starship ammo.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 1

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: When this boon is slotted, select one starship weapon with the limited fire special property on the group's starship. The selected weapon increases the value of the limited fire value by half (rounded down). For example, a limited fire 5 weapon would become limited fire 7. This boon can be used to improve weapons gained as a result of other Starship boons.

Special: Multiple copies of this boon can be used on a starship, but each copy must affect a different weapon.

Acquisitives Champion (Faction Boon)

You've declared your allegiance to the Acquisitives and dedicate your missions to furthering the goals of that faction.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 0

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This Faction boon allows the character to gain Reputation with the Acquisitives faction. A character with this boon slotted at the end of a successfully completed scenario gains Reputation as detailed in the primary and secondary success conditions of that scenario.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless he has a Faction boon slotted.

Acquisitives Champion, Improved (Faction Boon)

Your allegiance with the Acquisitives means you gain personal bonuses for completing related mission objectives as well as championing the faction.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 2, Acquisitives Champion

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: This Faction boon allows the character to gain Reputation with the Acquisitives faction. A character with this boon slotted at the end of a successfully completed scenario gains Reputation as detailed in the primary and secondary success conditions of the scenario.

In addition, once per adventure, when you succeed at a Culture or Intimidate skill check that is written into the adventure, you recover 1 Resolve Point, up to your Resolve Point total.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless he has a Faction boon slotted.

Alien Access (Social Boon)

Your continued devotion to exploring the Vast pays off in the form of easier access to alien technology.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 3

Cost: 3 Fame

Benefit: You gain a +2 circumstance bonus to skill checks related to negotiating for equipment outside of the Pact Worlds. This also applies to skill checks where a successful result would secure you and your party a gifted alien item (typically detailed in the Treasure section of an encounter). In addition, you always have access to new equipment found on your Chronicle Sheet, regardless of whether you are in an appropriate settlement. You can purchase this equipment at a 10% discount, and it arrives via a non-combat starship within 1d3 days.

Alien Observer (Ally Boon)

The Wayfinders have attached an alien observer to watch over your missions and report back to its people.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 3

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: You bring along a noncombatant alien observer belonging to a species from outside of the Pact Worlds. This alien does not take part in combat. It speaks Common and its native language. The alien observes your actions, but it does not take part in any encounters; it refrains from involving itself in combat or making skill checks. Because of the importance of preserving the observer, while this boon is slotted, you and other characters taking part in the scenario reduce the Fame cost to purchase a body recovery by a rescue team (see the Basic Purchasing Plan boon) by 2. If you gain Infamy at any point while this boon is slotted, you immediately lose this boon.

Special: You can benefit from only one copy of this boon at a time; this boon's effects do not stack with those of other Alien Observer boons.

Amateur Hireling Access (Ally Boon)

You can requisition amateur assistance from the Starfinder Society.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 1, Basic Hireling Access

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This boon acts as Basic Hireling Access, except the total bonus to your ally's skill check bonus is now equal to 2 + your level.

Special: This boon supersedes the skill bonus used by Basic Hireling Access. When slotting this boon, you select any skill set from Basic Hireling Access that you already purchased but use the improved skill check bonus instead.

Ammo Caddy (Ally Boon)

A skilled weapons expert follows you into combat, reloading your weapons at critical moments.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 3

Cost: 3 Fame

Benefit: You recruit a non-combat ally who can assist you by reloading your weapon. Once per adventure, you can spend 1 Resolve Point to have the caddy reload one weapon in your possession, as long as you have the requisite spare ammo to provide. The reloading occurs at the beginning of your turn or at the end of your turn (your choice). If reloading the weapon would take more than 1 round, this instead reduces the time to reload the weapon by 1 round. It is assumed the caddy carries a set of your ammunition appropriate for each of your weapons, but will reload only one weapon once per adventure.

Analytical Tracking (Starship Boon)

Followers of Jadnura often prepare multiple contingencies and find themselves unprepared only when something completely unexpected occurs. You've learned how to perform actions as a science officer to help your allies operate tracking weapons.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Jadnura): Tier 1

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: When acting as a science officer aboard a starship, you can perform a special version of the target systems action that allows you to prepare a coordinated strike. Rather than selecting an enemy system, you can spend 1 Resolve Point and select one tracking weapon aboard your starship. The gunner can reroll a single attack roll with that weapon.

Backup Info Check (Slotless Boon; Limited-Use)

You have access to several invite-only infosphere data repositories and forums.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 2

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: Most scenarios include a mission briefing with one or more relevant skill checks that you can attempt to learn information important to the scenario. Some scenarios include skill checks prior to the PCs arriving at the adventure location. Typically, these skill checks include a table with information provided based on varying DCs; with this boon, you can reroll one of these skill checks and use the higher of the two results. Skill checks occurring after the start of the first encounter of the scenario cannot be affected by the purchase of this boon.

Special: You can purchase this boon multiple times, but only once per skill check.

Basic Hiring Access (Ally Boon)

You can requisition basic assistance from the Starfinder Society.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 0

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: You bring on a non-combat ally that can assist with a certain set of skill checks. This ally can perform the listed skills with a total bonus equal to your level. You must expend any necessary actions and be in range to perform the action yourself. The ally's result cannot be modified by class abilities or spells, but can be improved by a successful aid another action. The ally does not participate in combat, cannot be killed outside of combat, and has no effect other than providing the ability to attempt skill checks. The ally can attempt a given skill check only once, cannot retry a check, and cannot take 10 or 20 on a check.

When you select this boon, you must select one of the following sets of skills.

Set 1: Computers, Engineering, Physical Science

Set 2: Bluff, Diplomacy, Intimidate

Set 3: Culture, Medicine, Survival

Set 4: Life Science, Mysticism, Physical Science

Special: You can purchase this boon multiple times. Each time you purchase this boon, you can select a different set of skills from the list above. When slotting this boon, you can select only one of the skill lists you have available from the above list, even if you have purchased multiple lists.

Basic Purchasing Plan (Slotless Boon; Limited-Use)

The following is a list of purchases available to all members of the Starfinder Society.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 0

Cost: Varies (see below)

Benefit: Every Starfinder can acquire certain services from the Starfinder Society by spending Fame. All Starfinders have access to the following list of services.

TABLE 2-9: BASIC PURCHASES

Award	Cost*
+4 to any one skill check	1 Fame
Dispel magic	1 Fame
Lesser restoration	1 Fame
Make whole	1 Fame

Raise dead	14 Fame
Reduce Infamy by 1	4 Fame
Mnemonic editor (mk varies)	4 × mk of the editor purchased

* Increase cost by 3 in Near Space and 5 in the Vast

Does not include Day Job check

Mk 1 = 4 Fame, mk 2 = 8 Fame, mk 3 = 12 Fame, mk 4 = 16 Fame

Special: This boon can be purchased multiple times, as it strictly allows access to purchase the services listed above.

Collector and Examiner (Ally Boon)

The Exo-Guardians host a variety of professionals interested in researching alien life from the Vast. One such researcher would like to work with you.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 1

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: You have a growing relationship with a researcher among the Exo-Guardians. At the end of a scenario for which you've slotted this boon, you can return one, and only one, mostly intact cadaver of a defeated significant enemy (Starfinder Core Rulebook 242) for the ally to study. Mark the creature type (such as aberration, fey, or ooze) of the collected cadaver on your Chronicle Sheet. While this boon is slotted, you gain an insight bonus to Engineering, Life Science and Mysticism checks to identify creatures corresponding to creatures of the types you have collected. The bonus is equal to the number of corpses of that creature type collected, up to a maximum of +3. The bonus represents your correspondence between you and your examiner ally, and it does not mean the examiner is physically present during the adventure.

Computational Savant (Starship Boon)

You've mastered the art of getting the most out of starship computers. Where others gain some insight from computerized assistance, you are able to take away far greater information.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 2

Cost: 3 Fame

Benefit: When operating on board a starship with a computer, that computer counts as having an extra node that only you can use. For example, if you're on a starship with a mk 2 trinode computer, it would count as providing +2/+2/+2/+2, with the last +2 bonus being available only for a skill check that you attempt. If your starship has no computer, you can cobble together a basic network with onboard systems that counts as a mk 1 mononode that only you can use to enhance your skill checks.

Special: A starship can benefit from only one copy of this Starship boon at a time.

Data Concierge (Ally Boon)

As long as you have the ability to communicate with the Pact Worlds, you can call in an ally to assist on a failed skill check.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 3

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: You have gained the ability to contact a junior member of the Dataphiles in the Pact Worlds. Once per scenario, while outside of a combat situation and with access to an unlimited-range communication device (such as your starship or facilities in a cosmopolitan settlement), you can contact this ally. The ally allows you to reroll one previously failed skill check to acquire a piece of knowledge, such as identifying a creature or understanding a coded language. Successfully contacting this ally requires 1 hour.

Dataphiles Champion (Faction Boon)

You've declared your allegiance to the Dataphiles and dedicate your missions to furthering the goals of that faction.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 0

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This Faction boon allows the character to gain Reputation with the Dataphiles faction. A character with this boon slotted at the end of a successfully completed scenario gains Reputation as detailed in the primary and secondary success conditions of that scenario.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless he has a Faction boon slotted.

Dataphiles Champion, Improved (Faction Boon)

Your allegiance with the Dataphiles means you gain personal bonuses for completing related mission objectives as well as championing the faction.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 2, Dataphiles Champion

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: This Faction boon allows the character to gain Reputation with the Dataphiles faction. A character with this boon slotted at the end of a successfully completed scenario gains Reputation as detailed in the primary and secondary success conditions of that scenario.

In addition, once per adventure, when you succeed at a Computers or Engineering check that is written into the adventure, you recover 1 Resolve Point, up to your Resolve Point total.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless he has a Faction boon slotted.

Digital Imp (Ally Boon)

The Dataphiles offer you a digital construct that can assist with certain skills.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: The Dataphiles have provided you with a digital construct. While commonly called an "imp," this digital program can resemble any creature you desire, along with a personality you choose. Lacking physical form, this intricate program can reside within a wrist-mounted computer, a hacking kit, or even inside a mechanic's exocortex. As a standard action, you can unleash the digital imp on an adjacent computer system, where it is able to perform the following uses of the Computers skill: Access Unsecured System, Destroy System or Module, Detect Fake Shell, Disable or Manipulate Module, Gain Root Access, or Hack System. The digital imp uses your bonus to Computers with a -4 penalty to the check and cannot take 10 or 20. The digital imp also doubles the time to perform any task, such as 2 full actions per tier of a computer system to hack a system. You can recollect the deployed digital imp as a standard action when adjacent to a computer system where the imp is deployed.

Digital Presence (Slotless Boon)

You work to propagate a thriving digital community.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 1

Cost: 0 Fame (see below)

Benefit: If you complete a scenario that you played online, such as by using a virtual tabletop or a play-by-post format, you earn 1 additional Fame and 1 additional Reputation with the Dataphiles faction (regardless of whether you have the Dataphiles Champion Faction boon slotted for that scenario).

Special: You can benefit from this boon only a number of times equal to your current Reputation Tier with the Dataphiles faction

(maximum four total times at Reputation Tier 4). Each time you fulfill the requirements of this boon, mark it on your Chronicle Sheet along with the associated Reputation Tier. Have the GM sign beside this notation.

Efficient Administrator (Ally Boon)

You've arranged to take on the services of a manager skilled at directing other allies.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: You hire an administrator to help vet and assist certain allies recruited by your fellow party members. While this boon is slotted, all other PCs' Ally boons gain an insight bonus to their skill checks equal to your current Reputation Tier with the Second Seekers faction. If the ally performs a combat role, then he instead gains an insight bonus to his ability DCs, attack rolls, and saving throws equal to half your Reputation Tier with the Second Seekers.

Special: An ally can benefit from only one copy of this boon at a time. This has no effect on Ally boons that do not have a skill check, combat roll, or DC-based effect.

Elite Hireling Access (Ally Boon)

You can requisition elite assistance from the Starfinder Society.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 3, Professional Hireling Access

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This boon acts as Basic Hireling Access, except the total bonus to your ally's skill check is now equal to 6 + your level.

Special: This boon supersedes the skill bonus used by Basic Hireling Access. When slotting this boon, you can select one skill set from Basic Hireling Access that you already purchased but use the improved skill check bonus instead.

Enhanced Shield Regeneration (Starship Boon)

You've learned how to get the most out of your shields, pushing them to the limit to survive the rigors of special phenomena and starship combat.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: Once per starship combat, you can spend 1 Resolve Point to push your starship's shields to the limit. The starship regains a number of Shield Points (SP) equal to the starship tier × your current Wayfinder Reputation Tier. You can assign these SP to any facing, or divide them among any number of facings. A starship can benefit from this boon only once per starship combat encounter.

Enhanced Targeting (Starship Boon)

Through intense computational mathematics, you can temporarily rig a weapon to fire well beyond its normal range.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 1

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: At the start of a starship combat encounter, you can increase the range of one of your starship's weapons. A short-range weapon becomes medium-range, or a medium-range weapon becomes long-range. This effect lasts for the first 1d3 rounds of the starship combat, after which the required computations become too complex to maintain. This boon has no effect on long-range weapons.

Special: Multiple copies of this boon can be used on a starship, but each copy must affect a different weapon.

Exo-Guardians Champion (Faction Boon)

You've declared your allegiance to the Exo-Guardians and dedicate your missions to furthering the goals of that faction.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 0

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This Faction boon allows the character to gain Reputation with the Exo-Guardians faction. A character with this boon slotted at the end of a successfully completed scenario gains Reputation as detailed in the primary and secondary success conditions of that scenario.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless she has a Faction boon slotted.

Exo-Guardians Champion, Improved (Faction Boon)

Your allegiance with the Exo-Guardians means you gain personal bonuses for completing related mission objectives, as well as championing the faction.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 2, Exo-Guardians Champion

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: This Faction boon allows the character to gain Reputation with the Exo-Guardians faction. A character with this boon slotted at the end of a successfully completed scenario gains Reputation as detailed in the primary and secondary success conditions of that scenario.

In addition, once per adventure when you successfully score a critical hit in combat against a significant enemy (Starfinder Core Rulebook 242) or succeed at Life Science check that is written into the adventure, you recover 1 Resolve Point, up to your Resolve Point total.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless she has a Faction boon slotted.

Expert Blackmail (Social Boon)

You've earned enough organizational contacts to help you act against certain targets.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 1

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: During the course of an adventure in which you have this boon slotted, you can spend 1 Resolve Point to call in outside assistance on a skill check against an opponent. You roll 1d4 and add the total to one Bluff, Computers, Culture, Diplomacy, Engineering, Intimidate, Life Science, Physical Science, or appropriate Profession check, representing the added effort of an outside organization. This effect can occur only in situations where you're acting against a known target or organization. For example, you could spend a Resolve Point to gain this bonus when attempting a Diplomacy or Intimidate check against an opponent, but could not use it for attempting an Engineering check to overcome a lock in a forgotten ruin.

Special: In some cases, the GM can rule that your outside contacts can't assist. This might be because you're on a world cut off from the Pact Worlds or dealing with a completely alien threat. In these instances, you do not expend a Resolve Point.

Expert Gunnery (Starship Boon)

Through repeated exposure to the rigors of starship combat, you have learned about how to put a key shot in exactly the right place.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: During a starship combat encounter, when your ship scores critical damage against an opponent, you can spend 1 Resolve Point to reroll the critical damage effect. You must use the second result.

Special: A starship can benefit from only one copy of this Starship boon at a time.

Field Trainee (Ally Boon)

A Starfinder trainee accompanies you on field missions to gain further experience.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 1

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: You bring along an ally who assists you in and out of combat. Once per adventure, you can direct your trainee to perform the aid another action (Starfinder Core Rulebook 133) or provide covering fire (Starfinder Core Rulebook 246). Your trainee is considered to have a +3 bonus to all skill checks and a +5 ranged attack roll bonus. You can direct your trainee to provide this more than once in an adventure, but each use beyond the first requires you to spend 1 Resolve Point.

Special: While the trainee can affect combat encounters, he's considered a noncombatant and is not tracked during combat.

First Contact Step-In (Social Boon)

When not engaged in field missions, you pore over Wayfinder briefings about various first contact missions.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 1

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: When an ally fails a skill check during a first contact situation—specifically when encountering a previously undiscovered species—you can spend 1 Resolve Point to immediately attempt the same skill check. If the result of your skill check is greater than your ally's failed attempt, use your result to determine the outcome. You can use this ability on any skill check so long as it relates to a first contact encounter. A common example would be using skills like Diplomacy or Intimidate on a newly encountered race, but attempting a Computers check to learn from an alien network about a new species would also be appropriate. Exactly when this boon can be used is up to the GM's discretion.

Fusion Guild Contact (Social Boon)

You've garnered some contacts in Pact World organizations dedicated to the construction of weapon fusions.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 3

Cost: Varies (see below)

Benefit: When you purchase this boon, select a weapon fusion (Starfinder Core Rulebook 192) with an item level equal to $2 \times$ your Exo-Guardians Reputation Tier. This boon costs a number of Fame equal to half the item level of the weapon fusion, rounding up. While this boon is slotted, you gain a fusion seal for that specific weapon fusion for the duration of the scenario. You do not keep the fusion seal, but you can gain it again in any adventure in which you slot this boon.

Special: You can purchase this boon multiple times. Each time you purchase this boon, select a different weapon fusion.

Historical Analyst (Starship Boon)

Ehu Hadif teaches that one can always look to the past in order to better predict future events. Perhaps no better practical exists for this mantra than the dance of starship combat, where knowledge of past events can help influence the outcome of modern battles.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Ehu Hadif) Tier 1

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: When acting as a science officer onboard a starship, you can perform a special version of the target systems action that allows you to assist your gunner with a tidbit of past knowledge. Rather than selecting an enemy system, you can spend 1 Resolve Point. One gunner on your starship gains a bonus to all gunnery checks equal to half your ranks in Culture (minimum 1), though this bonus can never be higher than twice your Reputation Tier with Second Seekers (Ehu Hadif). The bonus lasts for one combat.

Improved Drift Engine (Starship Boon)

Members of the Wayfinders have access to some of the most advanced Drift engines in the Starfinder Society.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 1

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: Increase the Drift engine of your starship to Signal Booster. This may affect certain aspects of a scenario, but only if the scenario specifically calls this out. Otherwise, the increased engine gives you extra time to prepare for any starship combat encounter you take part in. At the start of a starship combat encounter, you can choose your ship facing and move your ship up to 1d6 hexes in any direction.

Special: A starship can benefit from only one copy of this Starship boon at a time.

Instructor (Social Boon)

You dedicate some of your time off to training an up-and-coming Starfinder recruit.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 1

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This boon represents time spent outside of adventuring that you're taking to train a potential new Starfinder. At the end of every adventure you have this boon slotted, record the total amount of Fame you earned. You can expend your Downtime at the end of an adventure to increase the amount of Fame recorded for this boon by 1. Once you have accrued 40 Fame with this boon, your student has come into their own and is ready to become a full-fledged Starfinder (a new character). Have your GM mark the Chronicle Sheet where you accomplished this, and keep a copy with your new character.

When your new character reaches 5th level, instead of choosing four ability scores to increase, you can choose five. Otherwise you follow all other rules for leveling up. This bonus applies only at 5th level.

Special: You can apply this boon only to one new character, and only once the objectives have been completed.

Known Quality (Social Boon)

You have become a rising celebrity backed by your faction.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: When you have this boon slotted and you attempt a Day Job check at the end of a session, multiply your total earnings by your Acquisitives Reputation Tier. For example, if you are Tier 3 in the Acquisitives, you multiply the result of your Day Job check by 3. Apply this additional multiplier after doubling the result of your Profession skill check and determining your total earnings.

Learn from the Past (Slotless Boon)

Ehu Hadif's teachings of looking into the past have shown that even small missteps can be retraced and corrected. You have easier access to technologies and techniques that aid in reversing past decisions than many of your fellow Starfinders.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Ehu Hadif) Tier 2

Cost: varies (see below)

Benefit: You can purchase this boon instead of using the Basic Purchasing Plan to purchase a mnemonic editor of any mark. When you do so, the editor only costs a number of Fame equal to $2 \times$ mk of the editor purchased instead of the normal $4 \times$ cost.

Living Translator (Ally Boon)

A skilled linguist accompanies you as a translator on missions.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: You bring along a noncombatant translator skilled in several languages. In addition to Common, the translator knows a number of languages equal to your current Reputation Tier with the Wayfinders faction + 1. When you purchase this boon, you must select the languages known by the translator. These can be any languages listed on page 41 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook or any unique language you've encountered in a previous scenario. When your Reputation Tier increases, you can add an additional language to those known by your translator.

Master Hireling Access (Ally Boon)

You can requisition elite assistance from the Starfinder Society.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 4, Elite Hireling Access

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This boon acts as Basic Hireling Access, except the total bonus to your ally's skill check is now equal to $8 +$ your level.

Special: This boon supersedes the skill bonus used by Basic Hireling Access. When slotting this boon, you can select one skill set from Basic Hireling Access that you already purchased but use the improved skill check bonus instead.

Mobile Translator (Slotless Boon)

Your connections with the Wayfinders grant you easier access to a rudimentary translation device useful in first contact situations.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 1

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: You acquire a Tetrad certified translator as if you had purchased it, but you do not need to expend any credits.

Normal: You need to spend credits to acquire this item.

TETRAD CERTIFIED TRANSLATOR

--------------------	-----------	--------

This elaborate datapad has several additional audio receptors to capture nearby sounds. If you don't share a language with creatures you encounter, you can activate this device to collect basic linguistic information. The device requires 10 minutes of observed conversation to gain enough information to operate. The device then acts as a rudimentary translator. It does not allow you to converse with creatures with whom you don't share a language, but it can relate very basic information. Examples of statements the device could interpret would be: "come with us," "lower your weapons," or "leave immediately." The device cannot parse proper names, including personal designations or the names of items and places. Some extraordinary complex or obscure languages might not translate clearly with this device.

A Tetrad certified translator has 10 capacity and 1/hour usage.

Pact Worlds Defender (Social Boon)

You make no secret your desire to defend LEVEL 2 the Pact Worlds from external threats.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 1

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: When you have this boon slotted, you and any adjacent allies gain a +1 morale bonus to saving throws against fear effects. This bonus increases to +2 if the source of the fear effect is something that did not originate within the Pact Worlds.

Personal Mentor (Ally Boon)

During his time as First Seeker, Jadnura learned to form strong connections with skilled individuals both within and outside the Society's membership. As you've earned Jadnura's respect, the First Seeker (or his closest allies) has put you in touch with trainers suited to your specific personal goals who look out for your long-term interests.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Jadnura): Tier 3

Cost: 3 Fame

Benefit: When this boon is slotted, you only ever have to pay 1 Fame for the body recovery basic purchase, regardless of where the body recovery takes place. In addition, for every adventure for which you slot this boon and do not use the body recovery benefit, make a note on the associated Chronicle Sheet and have your GM sign beside it. After you've accumulated 10 such notes, you can select one of your ability scores that is 17 or lower and reduce it by one. You can then select another ability score that is 17 or lower and increase it by 1. You can still slot this boon afterward to earn the reduced cost for body recovery, but cannot benefit from subsequent ability score adjustments.

Personalized Hull (Starship Boon)

The outer hull of your starship includes a variety of personalized flair that has an unintended side effect of making it hard to target certain systems.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 3

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: When an opponent imposes a critical damage condition on your starship, after rolling d% to see which system is affected, you can force the GM to reroll the d% and use the new result. A critical damage result can be rerolled in this way only once.

Special: A starship can benefit from only one copy of this Starship boon at a time.

Professional Hireling Access (Ally Boon)

You can request the assistance of a professional agent from the Starfinder Society.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 2, Amateur Hireling Access

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This boon acts as Basic Hireling Access, except the total bonus to your ally's skill check is now equal to 4 + your level.

Special: This boon supersedes the skill bonus used by Basic Hireling Access. When slotting this boon, you can select one skill set from Basic Hireling Access that you already purchased but use the improved skill check bonus instead.

Publicist (Ally Boon)

You have a follower who provides free publicity and can cover up some misdeeds.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 1

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: When slotting this boon, select either Culture, Diplomacy, or Profession. You gain a circumstance bonus to that skill check equal to your half your current Acquisitives Reputation Tier (rounding up). If you gain any Infamy while this boon is slotted, you can choose to forgo gaining Reputation at the end of the adventure to avoid gaining any Infamy. If you choose to do this, mark this boon as being permanently expended.

Special: If you gain Infamy and use this boon to pay it off, that character can never retake this boon—no publicist will ever work with such a scoundrel again.

Purveyor of Fortunes (Slotless Boon)

You know the importance of supporting those who support you.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 1

Cost: 0 Fame (see below)

Benefit: After a scenario for which you achieved the primary success condition and participated in the Starfinder Society Retail Incentive Program by contributing at least $10, then you earn 1 additional Fame and 1 additional Reputation with the Acquisitives Faction.

Special: You can benefit from this boon only a number of times equal to your current Reputation Tier with the Acquisitives faction (maximum four total times at Reputation Tier 4). Each time you fulfill the requirements of this boon, mark it on your Chronicle Sheet along with the associated Reputation Tier. Have the GM sign beside this notation.

Rugged Hull (Starship Boon)

Your starship includes retrieved pieces of old Starfinder starship hulls. These hull sections have survived countless battles and clearly have some strange luck around them.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 1

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: Increase the critical threshold (CT) of your starship by an amount equal to your current Reputation Tier with the Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) faction.

Special: A starship can benefit from only one copy of this Starship boon at a time.

Ruthless Blackmail (Social Boon)

Your allies can be called on to apply extreme pressure to your foes.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 3, Expert Blackmail

Cost: 3 Fame

Benefit: This Social Boon works exactly like Expert Blackmail, except you add 1d8 to your check rather than 1d4.

Scoured Flora (Slotless Boon)

Those who followed Jadnura into the Scoured Stars and survived brought back a treasure trove of information. Along with these, they also brought back unique fauna and flora for the Society to study. Some of the plants brought back have proven to be particularly effective at healing.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Jadnura): Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: At the end of a session, you can harvest parts of your plant and use them as part of a medicinal concoction to heal 1 point of permanent ability damage, though you can use this ability healing only on yourself. Alternatively, you can use a part harvested from this plan to increase the effective caster level of any one spell cast by an ally or purchased as a service at the end of the session by 2 without increasing the cost of the spell. The spell receiving this benefit must restore hit points, remove ability damage, or remove an affliction (such as a curse or disease). This caster level increase does not stack with other effects that increase the spell's effective caster level. You can use this secondary effect on a spell purchased by an ally.

Scoured Stars Veteran (Social Boon)

Whether you were trapped in the Scoured Stars along with Jadnura or were a supporter before the incident, many members of the Society recognize your sacrifice and the hardships you endured.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Jadnura): Tier 1

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: You can reduce the Fame cost of any service available from the Basic Purchasing Plan boon by 1 Fame, to a minimum of 1 Fame. For services that normally cost 1 Fame, you can increase the effective caster level of the service by 4. You can also pay the full Fame cost for other services to increase the effective caster level by 4. Allies in your party can benefit from the increased caster level when making purchases for themselves, but cannot benefit from the Fame discount option of this boon.

Scrappy Little Ship (Starship Boon)

Followers of Luwazi Elsebo know they are part of the last chance to keep the Starfinder Society alive. As starship battles rage across the galaxy, you need to survive for the Society to do the same.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 3

Cost: 3 Fame

Benefit: When your starship suffers critical damage that results in a glitching system, you can temporarily increase your AC or TL by 1. This bonus lasts until the critical damage is fixed, or until the end of the starship combat. This bonus occurs only as a result of damage (not as a result of effects like EMP weapons). A subsequent critical damage effect that results in a malfunctioning system allows you to increase this temporary bonus to +2. Wrecked systems do not provide any bonus beyond that gained from a malfunctioning system.

Special: A starship can benefit from only one copy of this Starship boon at a time.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless she has a Faction boon slotted.

Seeker of Knowledge: Ehu (Slotless Boon)

Much like former First Seeker Jadnura, Ehu Hadif is renowned for his meticulous nature in examining the reports of field agents. He actively encourages agents to research prior missions to see what they can learn for future assignments.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Ehu Hadif): Tier 1-4

Cost: 0 Fame

Each time you use this boon, you can replay one scenario you've previously played as though that scenario had the repeatable scenario tag. This allows you to earn a Chronicle Sheet and all associated rewards with the scenario, though you cannot select a scenario you've already played with this character.

Special Note: You can only benefit from this boon once, regardless of which Second Seeker faction you are part of.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Jadnura): Tier 1-4

Cost: 0 Fame

Special Note: You can only benefit from this boon once, regardless of which Second Seeker faction you are part of.

Sellback Plan (Slotless Boon)

As your reputation within the Starfinder Society grows, you can return acquired benefits.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 1

Cost: None (see below)

Benefit: You can return previously purchased boons with a Fame cost that is less than or equal to your current Reputation Tier in All Factions as long as the boon is neither a limited-use nor a slotless boon. You immediately gain an amount of Fame equal to the total Fame cost of the boon traded in.

Special: You can utilize this boon multiple times, but you can sell only one boon this way between scenarios and cannot sell boons during the course of play.

Shameless Sponsorship (Social Boon)

Your armor's almost out of space to display sponsorship logos.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 3, Sponsorship

Cost: 3 Fame

Benefit: By slotting this boon, you gain two additional Promotional boon slots. This allows you to slot up to three Promotional boons as long as you meet all the prerequisites for those boons, such as having the appropriate product or having earned the necessary volunteer recognition. You cannot slot the same Promotional boon multiple times, nor can you slot two or more Promotional boons that offer the same effect (such as two boons that both provide rerolls).

Normal: Characters have only one Promotional boon slot.

Skillful Sales (Slotless Boon; Limited-Use)

Through your connections, you have discovered a way of getting the best deals when selling equipment.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame (see below)

Benefit: At the end of a scenario, you can spend 2 Fame to increase the sale value of any number of pieces of equipment you sell from 10% of their price to 20% of their price. You must sell the equipment immediately, and the list of equipment thus sold must be noted on the Chronicle Sheet with a GM signature. If you sell equipment later, you gain 10% of the equipment's price (as normal) unless you purchase this boon (and pay the required Fame) again.

Special: You can purchase this boon multiple times (though only once per scenario).

Society Shepherd (Slotless Boon)

You work to rebuild the Starfinder Society from the brink of disaster by recruiting new agents.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 1

Cost: 0 Fame (see below)

Benefit: If you brought a new player—a player without a Starfinder Society character or playing their first Starfinder Society session—you earn 1 additional Fame and 1 additional Reputation with the Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) faction.

Special: You can benefit from this boon only a number of times equal to your current Reputation Tier with the Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) faction. Each time you fulfill the requirements of this boon, mark it on your Chronicle Sheet along with the associated Reputation Tier. Have the GM sign beside this notation. The player you bring does not have to play at the same table as you.

Sponsorship (Social Boon)

The Acquisitives have connected you with an organization interested in using you to promote its logos and merchandise.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: By slotting this boon, you gain an additional Promotional boon slot. This allows you to slot up to two Promotional boons as long as you meet all the prerequisites for those boons, such as possessing the appropriate product or having earned the necessary volunteer recognition. You cannot slot the same Promotional boon multiple times, nor can you slot two Promotional boons that offer the same effect (such as two boons that both provide rerolls).

Normal: Characters have only one Promotional boon slot.

Starship Towing (Slotless Boon; Limited-Use)

The Starfinder Society has connections with multiple organizations that own starships. You can call in those favors when your own starship endeavors have not worked out as well as you'd hoped.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 0

Cost: 5 Fame

Benefit: You can purchase this boon when your starship has been reduced to 0 Hull Points during a starship combat encounter. When you do so, a recovery team arrives to recover you and your party members before the enemy can finish you off. It is assumed that you and your group manage to somehow make your way to the next encounter in the scenario if there is one. This boon does not count the starship combat encounter as being completed, so it is still possible to miss out on rewards from the encounter.

Normal: The destruction of a starship can lead to severe repercussions, as detailed in individual scenarios.

Special: Multiple PCs can contribute Fame to purchase this boon. You can purchase this boon multiple times.

Studious Researcher (Slotless Boon; Limited-Use)

During his time as First Seeker, Ehu learned to form strong connections with skilled individuals both within and outside the Society's membership. As you've earned Ehu's respect, the First Seeker (or his closest allies) have put you in touch with trainers suited to your specific personal goals and who look out for your long-term interests.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Ehu Hadif): Tier 3

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: When this boon is slotted, you have an allied researcher who is available for you in the aftermath of important missions. If, during the course of an adventure, your party fails a Computers, Engineering, Life Science, Mysticism, or Physical Science skill check tried to a secondary objective, you can choose to have your researcher make one additional attempt at that skill check at the end of the adventure. This can only be performed on tasks that could logically be performed after the session (such as hacking a computer or researching a topic with information provided).

The researcher has a bonus equal to your current level +5 for the associated skill check and can benefit from no additional modifiers. If the researcher succeeds at this check, then you and your party succeed at that portion of the objective.

Team Spirit (Slotless Boon)

You are an expert at using your resources in order to help out other Starfinders.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 2

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: When you or another character is killed during an adventure in which you participated, reduce the Fame cost of the raise dead spellcasting service by 2. This boon is not expended when used.

Special: A dead character can benefit from only one copy of this boon at a time, to a maximum discount of 2 Fame.

Theoretical Historian (Slotless Boon)

You use some of your time to replay past encounters with different parameters, hoping to devise improved tactics for future use.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 1

Cost: 0 Fame (see below)

Benefit: If you run a scenario as a GM that you have already run as a GM, you can take a Chronicle Sheet from that scenario and apply it to this character. Cross out all information on the Chronicle Sheet and mark it as "Theoretical Historian Reward." This Chronicle Sheet provides no rewards (such as XP, credits, or boons), except you can mark the Chronicle Sheet as being completed as part of this boon and earn 1 additional Fame and 1 additional Reputation with the Exo-Guardians Faction for your associated character. The marked Chronicle Sheet is strictly meant as a record to track the additional Fame and Reputation. It does not prevent the associated character from playing in that scenario, assuming the character is eligible to play that scenario, as the rules on replaying adventures.

Special: You can benefit from this boon only a number of times equal to your current Reputation Tier with the Exo-Guardians faction (to a maximum of four total times at Reputation Tier 4). Each time you fulfill the requirements of this boon, mark it on your Chronicle Sheet along with the associated Reputation Tier.

Tools for the Job (Slotless Boon; Limited-Use)

The Exo-Guardians have contacts throughout numerous corporations, factories, and forges throughout the Pact Worlds. You can leverage this association for access to better equipment.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 2

Cost: 2 Fame (see below)

Benefit: At the end of a scenario, you can spend 2 Fame to treat the effective item level of a single piece of armor or weapon as 1 lower for the purpose of determining what you can purchase. This allows you to purchase armor or a weapon from the Starfinder Core Rulebook whose level is equal to your character level + 2, or equipment from other sanctioned sources whose item level is equal to your character level + 1. This boon does not affect the available item level of items found on Chronicle Sheets.

Normal: You can normally purchase only equipment from the Starfinder Core Rulebook whose item level equal to your character level + 1, or equipment from other sanctioned sources whose level equal to your character level.

Special: You can purchase this boon multiple times. Its effects do not stack; each purchase instead applies to a different piece of equipment.

Uniter (Social Boon)

Your dedication to the First Seeker is renowned throughout all factions in the Starfinder Society. Other Starfinders consider you an upstanding role model.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 3

Cost: 5 Fame

Benefit: When this boon is slotted, you treat your effective Reputation Tier for any faction for which you have earned Reputation Tier 1 as though you were Reputation Tier 2. This affects that any boons that scale off Reputation Tier as long as your unaltered Reputation Tier for those factions is 1. At the end of any scenario in which you have this boon slotted, you can purchase Tier 2 rewards from those factions. These rewards can be slotted or used only if you have this boon slotted, or if your Reputation Tier for that faction rises to 2 through natural reputation gain.

Untarnished Reputation (Slotless Boon; Limited-Use)

Your reputation within the Starfinder Society is rarely called into question. When it is, you have people willing to help you avoid unnecessary repercussions.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 3 or Exo-Guardians Tier 2

Cost: 1 Fame

Benefit: You can purchase this boon to remove a single point of Infamy that you have accrued.

Normal: Reducing Infamy typically costs multiple Fame.

Special: You can purchase this boon only once, even if you qualify for it from multiple factions.

Wayfinders Champion (Faction Boon)

You've declared your allegiance to the Wayfinders and dedicate your missions to furthering the goals of that faction.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 0

Cost: 2 Fame

Benefit: This Faction boon allows the character to gain Reputation with the Wayfinders faction. A character with this boon slotted at the end of a successfully completed scenario gains Reputation as detailed in the primary and secondary success conditions of that scenario.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless he has a Faction boon slotted.

Wayfinders Champion, Improved (Faction Boon)

Your allegiance with the Wayfinders means you gain personal bonuses for completing related mission objectives, as well as championing the faction.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 2, Wayfinders Champion

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: This Faction boon allows the character to gain Reputation with the Wayfinders faction. A character with this boon slotted at the end of a successfully completed scenario gains Reputation as detailed in the primary and secondary success conditions of that scenario.

In addition, once per adventure when you succeed at a Diplomacy or Survival skill check that is written into the adventure, you recover 1 Resolve Point, up to your Resolve Point total.

Normal: A character gains no Reputation unless he has a Faction boon slotted.

Worldwide Explorer (Slotless Boon)

You earn additional experience by traveling outside your typical comfort zone.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 1

Cost: 0 Fame (see below)

Benefit: If you complete a scenario in a region with a different regional venture-coordinator than your home region, you earn 1 additional Fame and 1 additional Reputation with the Wayfinders faction. For more information on the regions overseen by regional venture-coordinators, see paizo.com/organizedplay/coordinators.

Special: You can benefit from this boon only a number of times equal to your current Reputation Tier with the Wayfinders faction. Each time you fulfill the requirements of this boon, mark it on your Chronicle Sheet along with the associated Reputation Tier. Have the GM sign beside this notation. Online does not count as a region for the purposes of this boon (instead, see Digital Presence.)

GHIBRANI RACIAL TRAITS

Ability Adjustments: See Subspecies below.

Hit Points: 4

Size and Type: Ghibranis are Medium humanoids with the ghibrani subtype.

Affable: Ghibranis receive a +2 racial bonus to Diplomacy skill checks.

Ghibrani Movement: All ghibranis have a land speed of 30 feet. Husk ghibranis have a climb speed of 20 feet, while membranes have an extraordinary fly speed of 20 feet with average maneuverability.

Distracting Buzz: As a standard action, a membrane ghibrani can vibrate her wings fast enough to produce an almost imperceptible hum. All creatures within 15 feet of the membrane ghibrani that hear this buzz must attempt a Will saving throw (DC = 10 + half the ghibrani's character level or CR + her Wisdom modifier) or gain the off-target condition for 1 round. This is a mind-affecting, sense-dependent ability. The membrane ghibrani can't use her wings to fly in the same round in which she uses this ability.

Low-Light Vision: Ghibranis can see twice as far as humans in conditions of dim light.

Sturdy: Husk ghibranis receive a +2 racial bonus to KAC against attempts to bull rush or reposition them.

Subspecies: Ghibranis belong to one of two subspecies: husk or membrane. All ghibranis start with +2 Wisdom at character creation. Husk ghibranis are more hardy (+2 Constitution) but less imaginative (-2 Intelligence). Membrane ghibranis are more nimble (+2 Dexterity) but weaker (-2 Strength).

CAPSTONE BOONS

In addition to the boons presented above, each faction has access to a unique Reputation Tier 4 boon that grants a truly special benefit.

Special: A character can purchase only a single capstone boon during his or her career. A new character receiving the benefits of a capstone boon can only ever benefit from one capstone boon (though he can still purchase a capstone boon when he qualifies). A new character who benefits from any of the following capstone boon effects does not have to meet the prerequisites listed in the boon.

Alien Allies (Slotless Boon)

Your work in championing the Wayfinders' cause introduced a new variety of aliens into the Starfinder Society.

Prerequisites: Wayfinders Tier 4

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: When you select this boon, it does not apply to your current character. Instead, select one of your Starfinder Society characters with 0 XP. That character can select a new playable race without needing to expend the Personal boon slot. That character cannot slot a different race boon into the Personal boon slot, but can slot another type of Personal boon. Over the course of time, the Wayfinders encountered the ghibrani people and introduced them to the Society. You can play a husk or membrane ghibrani as detailed in Starfinder Adventure Path #5: The Thirteenth Gate. You do not need to own this additional resource and can play your character based on the racial traits provided in the sidebar above.

Balanced Nepotism (Slotless Boon)

Your reputation allows you to grant Social boons to new Starfinders.

Prerequisites: Acquisitives Tier 4

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: When you select this boon, it does not apply to your current character. Instead, select one of your Starfinder Society characters with 0 XP. That character immediately gains 10 Reputation with a faction of your choosing.

Grand Achievement (Slotless Boon)

One of Ehu Hadif's primary goals as First Seeker is to set the Society up for a time of new discoveries. Your efforts in serving Ehu Hadif's goal have likely led to you making a grand discovery of some kind, canonizing you in the annals of the Starfinder Chronicles. New Starfinders look to your diligence and retrace their own missions, going back to try to salvage anything they may have missed.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Ehu Hadif) Tier 4

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: When you select this boon, it does not apply to your current character. Instead, select one of your Starfinder Society characters with 0 XP. At the end of an adventure, if that character failed to discover any items or credit rewards, they can return to the site of the mission to explore. That character can select one item or credit reward that the GM would cross off their Chronicle sheet as a result of not finding them, and instead count as receiving access to that item or earning the missed credits.

Information Sharing (Slotless Boon)

You can pass on the contacts and knowledge you've learned to a new generation.

Prerequisites: Dataphiles Tier 4

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: When you select this boon, it does not apply to your current character. Instead, select one of your Starfinder Society characters with 0 XP. That character gains access to one boon your current character has. The selected boon must be from a Chronicle Sheet played from Tier 1-4 or Tier 3-6, or a boon with the Vanity tag. Alternatively, you can share any boon you've previously purchased that has a Reputation Tier requirement of 2 or less.

Mark of Leadership (Slotless Boon)

The actions of First Seeker Jahnura unified the Society in a way that had never happened since its foundation. While the Scoured Stars investigation led to a tragic loss, Jahnura's ability to direct the Society is a testament to him and those who follow in his footsteps. You've garnered enough of a reputation that those you mark as promising new agents find themselves with an abundance of allies.

Prerequisites: Second Seekers (Jahnura) Tier 4

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: When you select this boon, it does not apply to your current character. Instead, select one of your Starfinder Society characters with 0 XP. At the start of any session, that character can select one of their Personal, Promotional, Social, or Starship boon slots and temporarily treat it as an Ally boon slot for the purpose of slotting boons. A character cannot slot multiples of the same boon into these slots, and cannot slot an ally boon that has matches the prerequisite of an already slotted boon. For example, you cannot slot both an Elite Hireling and Professional Hireling with this ability, though you could slot a Digital Imp and a Professional Hireling.

Rising Star (Slotless Boon)

Your work in rebuilding the Starfinder Society is known throughout the galaxy.

Prerequisites: Second Seeker (Luwazi Elsebo) Tier 4

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: When you select this boon, it does not apply to your current character. Instead, select one of your Starfinder Society characters with 0 XP. That character begins play with 5 Fame to spend on purchases and no longer pays additional Fame for purchases in Near Space, and pays only 3 additional Fame for purchases made in the Vast (instead of 5). That character gains an additional 5 Fame once they reach 20 Reputation with any one faction.

Starfinder of Note (Slotless Boon)

Your exploits inspire others to follow you.

Prerequisites: Any Faction Tier 4

Cost: 4 Fame

You are in contention for a leadership role in the Starfinder Society. Once you purchase this capstone boon, you are encouraged to send an e-mail to organizedplay@paizo.com with a subject line of "Starfinder of Note." Include your character's race, class, name, character number, and a description of 75 words or less in the body of the e-mail. That character is entered into a drawing to become a future in-world venture captain, member of the Forum, or even the First Seeker.

Starship Schematic (Slotless Boon)

You pass on the contacts and knowledge you've learned to a new generation.

Prerequisites: Exo-Guardians Tier 4

Cost: 4 Fame

Benefit: When you select this boon, it does not apply to your current character. Instead, select one of your Starfinder Society characters with 0 XP. That character gains access to a new base starship. The character can select this unique starship by slotting this boon in the Starship boon slot. All variants of this unique design, the Gorgon class, are detailed on pages 8-10 of the Starfinder Society Starships document (included as part of the download for the Guide to Organized Play: Starfinder Society).

SEASON BOON (YEAR OF SCOURED STARS)

Throughout the course of the first season of the Starfinder Society (Starfinder Society Scenarios #1-01 to #1-39), players have the chance to collect several unique boons relating to the primary storyline associated with the season. These boons, titled "Journey to the Scoured Stars: Segments 1-8," each contribute to a single Capstone boon associated with Season 1. Any player can purchase this boon if they meet the prerequisites listed below. A player's possession of Journey to the Scoured Stars segment boons can be across multiple PCs, but a specific numbered segment counts only once toward the player's total number of segment boons.

Year of the Scoured Stars (Slotless Boon)

Whether through your direct accomplishments or the actions of allied Starfinders, you've made serious headway against or completely triumphed over the threat of the Scoured Stars. The Society remembers the deeds of the noble Starfinders who battled against the jinsul threat and the discovered the mysteries of the Scoured Stars, and many other Starfinders benefit from the actions of these brave veteran agents.

Prerequisites: All Factions Tier 3; at least four of the Journey to the Scoured Stars segment boons

Cost: 8 Fame (24 on subsequent purchases)

Benefit: When you select this boon for a character, pick one of the following to apply to your character immediately:

- You gain 1 extra Resolve Point. If you've collected all eight segments, then this increases to 2 Resolve Points.
- You gain 1 extra Hit Point for every character level you have. If you have collected all eight segments, then this increases to 2 Hit Points for every level you have.
- You can select a single saving throw (Fortitude, Reflex, or Will) and increase your bonus to that save by 1. If you have collected six or seven segments, then you can select one of the remaining two saves to increase, and if you've collected all eight segments, then you instead increase all your saves by 1.
- If you've collected all eight segments, then you can increase one of your ability scores that is currently 16 or lower by 2.

Special: When you first apply this boon to a character, it costs 8 Fame. You can apply this boon only once to a given character. Subsequent purchases of this boon for different characters cost 24 Fame.

APPENDIX 3: THE UNIVERSE OF THE STARFINDER SOCIETY

This appendix details information on the Starfinder Society and introduces the campaign setting in which the Starfinder Society's adventures are set.

THE STARFINDER SOCIETY

The time period known as the Gap, an indeterminate span of time from which memories and records alike were wiped away, profoundly altered the galaxy. Golarion, cradle of humanity in the home star system of the Pact Worlds, disappeared entirely. Untold history vanished during the Gap, with no species retaining any memories of this tumultuous time. Even the gods remain silent on the Gap, giving only vague allusions to the safety of lost Golarion.

Founded shortly after the Gap, the Starfinder Society was inspired by incomplete tales of a similar pre-Gap organization called the Pathfinder Society. The Starfinder Society originally aimed to map the temporal edges of the Gap and piece together the history of what transpired during that tumultuous event, ambitiously endeavoring to find lost Golarion. Since the Society's inception, its mission has changed to focus less on the Gap and more on exploring a galaxy made accessible due to the spread of Drift beacons.

The heroes of the Starfinder Society travel the breadth of the galaxy—from verdant jungle worlds where even a fingernail-sized insect is deadly, to seemingly abandoned space stations filled with unspeakable horrors, to ruined temples of dead gods hidden amid the ruins of similarly dead worlds, and to the bustling streets of the metropolises of the Pact Worlds. Starfinders work in small but efficient groups to explore the known and unknown, recording their findings and bringing them back to the greater organization for dissemination.

Most Starfinders operate out of scattered regional headquarters called lodges, which dot the galaxy. Each lodge is home to a venture-captain and that officer's staff, who provide direction and support for field agents and manage the day-to-day operations of the Society. The Lorespire Complex stands apart from other lodges. Located in Absalom Station, the Lorespire Complex is always accessible to even the farthest-flung Starfinder expeditions due to the unique ability for ships to quickly travel the Drift to reach Absalom Station. More than a single building, the Lorespire Complex is a campus of structures built around the eponymous spire. The Archives, the Hall of Discovery, and other edifices integral to the Society's ongoing existence fill the grounds of the Lorespire Complex.

The First Seeker is a Starfinder elevated above her peers. This Starfinder is elected based on the merit of adventuring experience and personal field of focus. Each First Seeker uses her appointment to prioritize the Starfinder Society's primary research focus, using the position to advance a personal scholarly pursuit of value. Once a First Seeker's term has ended, that First Seeker can never again serve as a leader within the Starfinder Society. The thrust of many of the Starfinder Society's missions are the result of the First Seeker's goals—luckily, those same agents who perform these missions are integral in deciding who receives the honor of ascending to the rank of First Seeker.

The Forum is an elected body of Starfinders who work to coordinate the Society's many operations. Integral in drumming up the necessary support to elect a First Seeker, the Forum also assists the elected First Seeker in completing her personal mission. Any Starfinder can ascend to become a member of the Forum, and membership does not stop one from partaking in other activities. In fact, many faction leaders and venture-captains are active members of the Forum in addition to their other duties. Many other Forum members are experienced Starfinders who hold no title beyond their appointment to the Forum.

The third pillar of the Society's leadership is Guidance, a network of uploaded personalities of exemplary Starfinders. Most First Seekers are invited to upload their consciousness into Guidance, and only those deemed unworthy or who perish in their mission fail to become part of the Starfinder Society's spiritual anchor. Guidance functions in two major ways: it's the first entity to formally induct new Starfinders into the organization, and every new Starfinder begins his or her careers by receiving a commencement address from Guidance. The uploaded bank of personalities also confirms the election of new First Seekers, and while historically Guidance agrees to the democratic decision of the Society, there have been a handful of cases where Guidance has not approved an elected First Seeker.

Every Starfinder contributes to the overall success of the Starfinder Society. Some do so through diligent research, rarely leaving the teeming Archives of the Lorespire Complex. Others prefer to explore the relative safety of the Pact Worlds or the appropriately titled Near Space, where civilization remains only a short jaunt into the Drift away. The bravest Starfinders travel to the other ends of the galaxy, using the Society's starships to explore the endless expanse of space known as the Vast.

THE SCoured STARS INCIDENT (PRE-SEASON 1)

In 316 AG, the Starfinder Society elected the renowned kasatha explorer Jasnura as First Seeker. Elevated due to his reputation for maintaining balance between the various divisions of the Society, Jasnura also proposed a tantalizing personal objective: a coordinated expedition to a region of space known as the Scoured Stars.

The Scoured Stars are a small cluster of star systems known for housing worlds filled with vicious fauna, not to mention an abundance of malicious outsiders and other strange entities. Well over a century ago, the Starfinder Society prohibited expeditions to the Scoured Stars, in part because of the deadly inhabitants but also because findings from the few successfully explored worlds showed little of research value. Jasnura's quest would have seem suicidal, had he not provided a link to the mysterious worlds.

During his time as a Starfinder field agent, Jadnura discovered a mysterious artifact known only as the Tear. The item was little more than a jagged hunk of magical stone etched with indecipherable markings. The magical artifact defied most mystical and technological investigation, relenting only after years of intense scrutiny. It took the most powerful divination magic available, but veteran Starfinders uncovered a link between the Tear and the Scoured Stars. When Jadnura ascended to the rank of First Seeker, he rallied the Society to travel to the Scoured Stars to at last answer the Tear's secrets.

While the threats of the Scoured Stars were powerful, they were disorganized and possessed no obvious spacefaring assets. What followed was one of the greatest single undertakings by the Starfinder Society. A task force of almost 80% of the Society's assets and agents joined the First Seeker on his mission into the Scoured Stars. Everything went well at first, with reports returning of Jadnura and the bulk of the Starfinder teams landing on the surface of the world to which the Tear directed them.

And then, nothing.

When the remaining Starfinders in the Lorespire Complex attempted to make contact, they discovered a terrifying reality: the Scoured Stars were now cut off from the rest of the galaxy. A vast shield of aurum energy surrounded the region of space, preventing communication and travel into the systems. Drift travel was rendered ineffective, and even visual scans failed to pierce the shifting veil, which was soon after dubbed "The Godshield" for its incomprehensible power. This single event left the Starfinder Society crippled, as most agents and assets are now trapped within the now-untouchable region of the Scoured Stars.

NEW BEGINNINGS (SEASON 1)

This is the starting point for the first season of the Starfinder Society. With the bulk of the Starfinder Society lost in the aftermath of the Scoured Stars incident, the Society is on the brink of ruin. Only the actions of a particularly outspoken Starfinder, Luwazi Elsebo, has held the Starfinder Society together in the ensuing months. A dedicated assembly of surviving senior Starfinders has assisted Elsebo in stabilizing the Society, as well as in rebuilding the Forum. Many of these agents specialized in managing specific aspects of Society operations, each becoming de-facto leaders for Society factions both old and new.

Even with the dedication of Luwazi and her allies, the Starfinder Society suffered further losses, as discouraged surviving agents opted to leave the Society. The loss of further field agents, especially those few veterans who left, made holding onto the Society's vast portfolio of claimed planetoids, stellar regions, and other archaeological sites almost impossible. The necessity of maintaining the Society's claims on these regions was too much for the remaining agents to handle, and Luwazi turned to outside assistance from reputable mercenary organizations.

Through such imperfect arrangements, Luwazi Elsebo and her allies successfully held the Starfinder Society together long enough for a new cadre of Starfinders to complete their training. Those agents spent their first year working to rebuild the Society and undertaking missions that would set the groundwork for a return to the Scoured Stars.

Only a few months ago, the Starfinder Society under Luwazi Elsebo's direction, launched a major rescue operation into the Scoured Stars. Bypassing the shielding around the system, the Starfinder Society returned to rescue their lost companions from untold hardships across the Scoured Stars. First Seeker Jadnura was among those rescued over the course of these missions. However, during this momentous rescue, a new alien threat emerged. Known as the jinsuls, these aliens came in vast numbers and seized the Scoured Stars in a single decisive battle that forced the Starfinder Society to abandon its rescue operations and retreat with the agents they managed to save.

The Starfinder Society has left the Scoured Stars, but a new threat, the jinsuls, now dwells within that distant region of space. Knowing little of this alien threat, the Society has returned to its primary goal of exploration and the acquisition of information. Many within the Society's upper leadership have begun assembling the best of the best field agents for important missions to learn more about the jinsuls and continue unraveling the mysteries of the Scoured Stars!

THE JINSUL THREAT (SEASON 1)

Following the Society's retreat from the Scoured Stars, the jinsul menace did not remain dormant. Led by a semidivine being known as Dhurus, the jinsuls began turning the Scoured Stars into a war engine that produced scores of new starships and technology. The Society monitored the situation, with Exo-Guardians stockpiling weapons from the sites of previous missions, while the Acquisitives and Dataphiles worked to stymie the jinsuls' advance with a daring strike into the Scoured Stars.

Events conspired to pull the Society back into grasp of the Scoured Stars when a group of agents traveling to an uncharted star system found it under invasion by jinsuls. These brave Starfinders managed to help save a group of dignitaries, who relayed that they belonged to the Kreiholm Freehold—yet another of the civilizations that departed the Scoured Stars in ages past. The Society established diplomatic relations with the Freehold, all while the jinsuls continued their attacks in hopes of forcing their wayward former neighbors to return to the Scoured Stars.

In the meanwhile, First Seeker Jadnura assembled a group of Starfinders to explore the location of the mysterious Tear relic that first led him on the path of the first disastrous Scoured Stars mission. These agents uncovered the ruins of another Scoured Stars civilization and hints that a powerful deity dwelled within the Scoured Stars.

As the jinsul menace continued attacking numerous civilizations, First Seekers Luwazi Elsebo and Jadnura brought together a force of Starfinders to learn more about the jinsuls by traveling to the world the jinsuls settled before returning to the Scoured Stars. This mission led the Society to uncover more about Dhurus and that the jinsul leader was in fact a divine herald of the deity that slept within the Scoured Stars: the god known as Kadrical the Preserver.

Jadnura and Luwazi began to formulate a plan on how to next proceed, but other agencies within the Society weren't so pensive.

Historia-7, leader of the Dataphiles, uncovered that her mentor, Historia-6, was not who he'd always claimed to be. A struggle broke out within the Dataphiles, as Historia-6 took possession of Historia-7's body and threatened the entire Starfinder Society. Only a timely intervention by a group of Starfinders and Zigvigix, leader of the Exo-Guardians, managed to save Historia-7 from her former mentor. Discarding her honorary title, Historia-7 has reclaimed her former name of Celita and stood ready to aid the Society in its coming struggle.

In time, a renewed jinsul assault against the Kreiholm Freehold called the Society back into action in defense of its new allies. Led into battle by a group of experienced Starfinders, the Society fleet managed to push back the jinsul assault, but learned that Dhurus would not accept defeat and planned to either wake Kadrical or siphon the sleeping god's powers for itself. A second of Kadrical's heralds, the mysterious Ailurious, appeared during the battle to render assistance and confirm the Society's fears about the jinsul threat.

Bringing together a massive fleet, spearheaded by the recently repaired Master of Stars, the Starfinder Society once again ventured back into the Scoured Stars to stop Dhurus and the jinsul menace once and for all. The battle was long and arduous, but the Society's most senior agents took to the field against Dhurus and stopped the xenophobic herald from siphoning Kadrical's powers. With their herald defeated, the jinsuls retreated from the Scoured Stars in disparate packs of ships.

At the battle's end, First Seeker Jadnura declared his stated mission as being finished, and he opted to remain within the Scoured Stars as the system's new custodian. With the deity Kadrical awakening in a universe he'd not been involved in for millennia, Jadnura seeks to live out the remaining years of his life as a guardian of the Scoured Stars. Meanwhile, Jadnura's departure has formalized the transition of First Seeker authority, and Luwazi Elsebo has taken her place as the formally recognized leader of the Starfinder Society.

WEAPONIZED MEDIA (SEASON 2)

Returning to Absalom Station from the Scoured Stars, the Starfinder Society's battle-tested agents expected a heroes' welcome. Instead, a series of media advertisements and vidcast news feeds relayed scathing information about the Starfinder Society's recent actions. Statements called out Starfinders for meddling in the affairs of foreign powers, inciting the threat from within the Scoured Stars, and effectively operating an unsanctioned paramilitary organization. More and more anti-Society rhetoric began to fill the infospheres of the Pact Worlds,

Despite attempts of the Starfinder Society's leadership to determine the source, they failed to uncover the culprits behind the multimedia "hit campaign" and the damage continued to grow. Many organizations within the Pact Worlds watched the Starfinder Society with wary eyes, wondering if association could bring unwanted backlash. For Starfinder agents, the task of exploration and cataloguing remained paramount, as the Society's leaders hoped to combat the ongoing sour media outlook by providing the Pact Worlds with tangible evidence of all the good that the Society could do in the galaxy.

Luckily for the Society, their efforts over the course of the year led to stunning victories against their hidden foes. Through actions across the Pact Worlds and beyond, the Starfinder Society proved its value and battered down the incoming tide of negative press. After uncovering the identity of the smear campaign's architect, First Seeker Luwazi Elsebo dedicated the last days of her tenure to defeating this force and ensuring that her successor could begin their role as First Seeker without the negative press of the past.

A NEW FUTURE (SEASON 3)

Elected as First Seeker by a slim margin, Ehu Hadif Ko'ra Amares of Clan Tolar is a veteran kasatha Starfinder. He achieved victory in the election on a platform of getting the Starfinder Society back to its roots of exploring the past. Only recently elected, Ehu Hadif has instigated a series of missions focusing on re-examining missions from the Society's distant past and exploring locations closer to the Pact Worlds. More than any First Seeker in recent memories, Ehu Hadif has opened up numerous exploration possibilities into the worlds comprising Near Space.

APPENDIX 4: AFTER THE ADVENTURE

After completing a Starfinder Society adventure, there are several things you need to do to prepare for the next session. First, return your character to her full Hit Points, Stamina Points, and Resolve Points, and refresh all spellcasting and daily-use abilities. Remove any temporary conditions such as ability score damage and time-limited conditions which simply haven't run their full duration (though more tenacious conditions must be resolved; see Conditions, Death, and Expendables in Chapter 4 for information).

You will also be given a Chronicle Sheet to record your participation in that session. To complete a Chronicle Sheet, follow the steps below.

STEP 1: EXPERIENCE POINTS (XP)

Each time you play an adventure, your character will receive experience points (XP). Typically, you gain 1 XP for completing a Starfinder Society scenario or 3 XP for completing an Adventure Path. Characters advance 1 level for every 3 XP they earn.

STEP 2: FAME AND REPUTATION

In each adventure, characters have the opportunity to earn Fame. Fame success conditions are located at the end of the adventure. Most scenarios offer 2 Fame for completing the primary and secondary success conditions, while others can offer potentially higher Fame rewards. The Fame earned will be listed on the scenario's associated Chronicle Sheet. Similarly, some scenarios offer additional Reputation rewards for specific factions.

Track earned and spent Fame in the spaces on the right-hand side of the Chronicle Sheet, and note your accumulated Reputation with the appropriate faction in the spaces at the bottom of the sheet.

STEP 3: DOWNTIME

Not every Starfinder works for the Society full time. Some are trained artisans, professionals, or performers and earn extra credits between missions. After each adventure that grants XP, you gain a period of Downtime before your next mission, which you can use in one of three ways per adventure: crafting, a day job, or other pursuits.

Crafting: You can spend your Downtime to craft an item following the rules presented on page 235 of the Starfinder Core Rulebook. A character must use the skills listed in this section of the book and cannot use the Profession skill to craft equipment. It is assumed that between adventures, you have access to the tools and workshop necessary to craft equipment.

To craft an item, you must acquire the requisite number of UPBs. You can purchase UPBs at a rate of 1 UPB for every 1 credit spent. You cannot scavenge parts from equipment you own or collect during a scenario. Any equipment crafted between sessions should be marked on the Chronicle Sheet.

If you possess the Master Crafter feat, once per Downtime, you can craft a single item matching the feat's associated skill at a 5% discount.

Day Job: During Downtime, you can attempt one trained Profession check to earn extra money: this is called a Day Job check. Permanent bonuses from class, equipment, feats, race, and theme apply to your Day Job check as they would any check for the relevant skill. Temporary bonuses do not apply to Day Job checks, no matter the source. You can take 10 on a Day Job check, but you can't take 20 or use the aid another action.

You gain a number of credits equal to twice your Profession skill check result, as per the "Earn a Living" entry in the Profession skill (Starfinder Core Rulebook 146). You cannot use other skills to make a Day Job check. Add this amount to the Day Job box on your Chronicle Sheet.

Other Pursuits: Some boons allow you to use Downtime in other ways. These boons will provide exact rules on their use, but often require a character to sacrifice the opportunity to attempt a Day Job check or perform any crafting.

STEP 4: REWARDS

Starfinder Society play handles treasure and in-game monetary rewards differently than a standard roleplaying experience. Instead of dividing up treasure among the party, every Starfinder has access to every piece of loot available in an adventure. Every Chronicle Sheet lists all the equipment that can be found during the adventure, with the exception of minor items available to every character. After the scenario, the GM checks which items you and your fellow Starfinder discovered, and each of these items immediately becomes available for purchase by all party members. If two players in the party want an item, they both can purchase their own. Items not discovered in play are crossed off by the GM. In addition, every player who completes a scenario receives a set amount of credits for the scenario that she can spend to acquire items from sources listed found at paizo.com/starfindersociety/additional.

ADDENDUM: CHARACTER REVISION

First-level characters may be rebuilt per the rules in Appendix 1: Character Creation. This is not a necessary step to completing a Chronicle Sheet after an adventure, but a Chronicle Sheet is required in order to confirm the changes. The same is true for retraining, as described below.

Retraining: After 1st level, the only way to retrain character choices is through the use of the mnemonic editor hybrid item (Starfinder Core Rulebook 226). Characters can use this item to reverse the last 2 levels worth of decisions on a character. Different versions of the device allow you to retrain up to three additional times, effectively allowing a character to wipe and retrain up to 8 levels worth of decisions throughout her career.

All changes must be tracked on your Chronicle Sheets or on a suitable Inventory Tracking Sheet, made in the presence of a Starfinder Society GM, and initialed by the observing GM. The GM can audit your character before allowing changes, so bring your character sheet and all Chronicle Sheets to the GM. Retraining may be limited by time constraints. When retraining using a mnemonic editor, players must purchase the appropriate mark of mnemonic editor (e.g. mk I) using credits or Fame.

For more information on purchasing a mnemonic editor, refer to Table 2-9: Basic Purchases on page 28..

APPENDIX 5: PLAYER REWARDS

In addition to the boons gained by participating in Starfinder Society sessions, players can earn additional rewards.

BOONS

Boons are small in-game rewards distributed for a variety of reasons, including attending events and supporting charities. Over the course of Year 3, the campaign is phasing out the use of boons in preparation for introducing digital Achievement Points rewards to the Starfinder Society. For more information on Achievement Points, review the blogs at paizo.com/organizedplay.

Convention: A player can acquire a convention boon from participating in a convention supported by Paizo. You can't assign multiple copies of a convention boon to the same character. If the only difference in the Chronicle Sheet is the title of the convention or event listed at the top, it is the same boon.

Discounts: Some boons provide a discount in the number of credits or amount of Fame associated with a purchase. Unless otherwise noted, only one boon that provides any discount can be applied to any one purchase. This prevents multiple discounts from reducing a purchase's cost by an unreasonable amount for the game's wealth expectations.

Holiday: Some in-game holidays offer unique boons, often announced on the blog at paizo.com. You must participate in the specified Starfinder Society session or otherwise follow the rules provided in the relevant blog post in order to attach the holiday boon to one of your characters. You receive only one copy of the boon, but can assign it to any one of your characters during the boon's specified dates; it doesn't have to be the character you played during that session.

Quests: Some quests award special types of boons. These boons must be applied to the character you played for the quest. If your character dies in a quest that grants 0 XP, the Chronicle Sheet can be applied to the character, but cross off the boon. The death condition is not permanent for such quests. This is an exception to the normal death rules (see page 17).

Welcome: A player may apply the Welcome to Starfinder boon to their first character (XXX-701). This boon is available for download at paizo.com/starfindersociety.

PROMOTIONAL

To reward players who show their support for the Starfinder Society campaign by purchasing and using items featuring campaign insignia, faction logos, or Starfinder branding, a player using any of the Starfinder items on paizo.com/organizedplay/perks can slot the associated boon into his or her Promotional boon slot. Game Masters are invited to bring promotional material to games, but they gain no additional benefits other than supporting Starfinder.

APPENDIX 6: VOLUNTEER COORDINATORS

Over 84,000 players and 16,000 active GMs participate in Paizo organized play activities. Events span the globe, occurring regularly in 42 countries on six of the seven continents. Players and GMs work together to plan local events, but even in our media-savvy times, connecting with other players proves a difficult task. Most often, the task of organizing events falls to a local person or team, volunteering their time and efforts to promote gaming in their communities.

To coordinate this pool of global volunteers, Paizo has teamed up with the Organized Play Foundation, a nonprofit charitable organization created to help bring together gamers and to promote education through strategic games. Volunteers with the Organized Play Foundation choose which organized play program, in our case Paizo, and the scope of their activities, anything from a local game store to an entire country or continent, to provide regular gaming opportunities for gamers in each region.

Volunteers, collectively known as venture-officers, receive ranks based on their duties and geographical areas of responsibility. The top level of volunteers, regional venture-coordinators, looks after large geographical areas. Under them are venture-captains, responsible for countries, states, or large metropolitan areas. Their right hands, the venture-lieutenants, assist in the area's coordination efforts. The lowest level, venture-agents, coordinate activities in one location, such as a game store, a school, a community center, or a military instillation.

A list of regional venture-coordinators, along with their areas of responsibility, can be found at paizo.com/organizedplay/regions. Players looking for organized play activities in their area should contact their regional venture-coordinator. From there, they will assist in making contact with a venture-officer close to you.

Anyone can join the Organized Play Foundation as a volunteer. A list of recommended tasks and benefits for each level of venture-officer rank is located at organizedplayfoundation.com/paizoorganizedplay/volunteer. If you read the venture-officer descriptions and are interested in joining the team, complete the volunteer interest form linked at the bottom of the Organized Play Foundation webpage listed above. The regional venture-coordinator for your area will receive your information and establish contact to bring you onboard the team.

APPENDIX 7: GLOSSARY

Like the Starfinder Roleplaying Game, the Starfinder Society organized play program uses a number of terms, abbreviations, and definitions. The following are some of the most common.

Additional Resources: The Additional Resources page lists what classes, feats, items, spells, and other character options are legal from books published by Paizo, Inc. To use such an option, you must have a legal source in which it appears, as well as a copy of the current version of the Additional Resources list (paizo.com/starfindersociety/additional).

Adventure: Adventures collectively refer to scenarios, and sanctioned Adventure Paths.

Alignment Infraction: Any intentionally evil action or suitably callous criminal action, known as an alignment infraction, results in a player gaining Infamy. The consequences of Infamy vary from limits on purchases to forced retirement of a character from the Starfinder Society (see page 12).

Average Party Level (APL): APL represents the average level of all PCs participating in the adventure; this number determines which level range to use when playing a scenario. See page 11 for rules on how to determine APL and how APL determines the appropriate level range.

Boon: A boon is an in-game reward other than XP, credits, Fame, or standard item access. Boons appear on Chronicle Sheets, typically earned as part of an adventure or when attending conventions or other special events.

Character Versus Character (aka PVP): Character-versus-character conflict occurs when one PC attempts, of his or her own volition, to harm, kill, or otherwise contribute to the injury of another PC. Player-versus-player conflict is strictly prohibited in Starfinder Society play. See page 8 for more details.

Companion: Any permanent creature that accompanies a PC, can take its own actions in combat, and is acquired through a PC's class features (such as a mechanic's drone) is referred to as a companion. In the Starfinder Society, a character may have only one companion active during a session. See the Starfinder Society FAQ at paizo.com/organizedplay/faq for more information on companions.

Chronicle Sheet: This is a record of adventures that a character has completed, recording XP, credits, Fame, Reputation, boons, and item access the character earned. Some Chronicle Sheets grant special rewards that are not associated with an adventure, earned for attending conventions or participating in special events. These records allow a player to play their character at any Starfinder Society event of the appropriate Level anywhere in the world.

Day Job: Your PC may utilize Downtime in order to attempt a trained Profession check—often referred to as a Day Job check—to earn additional credits. See page 52 for more information.

Downtime: A PC gains a unit of time called Downtime after each XP-granting adventure. You can spend this Downtime to perform one of several actions, such as crafting items or attempting a Day Job check. See page 52 for more information on Downtime.

Evil Act: An evil act represents an action that, on its own or as part of a pattern, would push your character's alignment toward evil. An individual evil act may or may not result in the acquisition of Infamy.

Exclusive: An exclusive is an adventure that requires a GM to meet certain criteria to run—typically having earned a certain number of GM novas.

Faction: The Starfinder Society is comprised of five primary factions and various minor factions. The factions that your character chooses to represent define your PC's secondary loyalties in the in the campaign. See Appendix 2: Factions for more information on the primary factions and their goals.

Fame: Fame represents your character's social currency within the Starfinder Society and can be expended to purchase boons and services from the Society or its various factions. Fame is gained from successfully completing adventures.

Game Master (GM): A GM adjudicates the rules and controls the elements of the story and galaxy that the players explore, providing a fair and fun game. In the Starfinder Society, a GM must also help players accurately fill out their paperwork and report the results of each game to the event coordinator or on the GM/Event Coordinator tab at paizo.com/organizedplay/myAccount.

GM Novas: GM novas are a measure of how many Starfinder Society games an individual has run, ranging from 10 sessions (one star) to over 100 sessions (four novas). GM novas grant access to exclusive content and grant a bonus on rerolls gained via boons. A fifth nova can be earned by meeting several additional criteria yet to be established.

Infamy: Infamy represents a character's slide into evil, typically accrued by a character performing intentionally evil or suitably callous criminal actions during an adventure. The consequences of Infamy vary from limits on purchases to forced retirement of a character from the Starfinder Society (see page 12).

Legal Source: A legal source is a physical copy of a book, name-watermarked PDF of the book, a printout of one or more pages from a name-watermarked PDF, or a printout of the rules from the SFRD accompanied by a proof of purchase for the product in which those rules appear. In order to use a character option—especially in conjunction with the Additional Resources page—you must own and have at the table a legal source that contains that option.

Level (Adventure): Listed on the cover of scenarios, an adventure's Level describes which character levels the adventure is written for. Characters can only play in adventures appropriate for their character level.

Level Range: A division of the adventure's Level into smaller bands to facilitate scaling the adventure for different Average Party Levels. For example, a Level 1–4 adventure has level ranges 1–2 and 3–4.

Organized Play Manager (OPM): The organized play manager administers organized play campaigns, including the Pathfinder Society, Starfinder Society, and Pathfinder Adventure Card Society.

Starfinder Reference Document (SFRD): This is a free online version of all the rules contained within the Starfinder Core Rulebook and other RPG hardcover books, available at paizo.com/sfrd. The SFRD is not a legal source for players to reference rules or PC building purposes. GMs can reference the SFRD as they wish for ease of preparing and running an adventure.

Organized Play Number: Each participant in Paizo's organized play programs is provided an organized play number. The number is often hyphenated; the first, longer number represents your player number, and the second number represents your individual character (e.g. # 123456-702 refers to player number 123456 and her second PC in Starfinder Society). This number is used when reporting completed adventures and should appear on each Chronicle Sheet and any Inventory Tracking Sheets associated with your PCs.

Player Character (PC): These are the characters portrayed by the players, rather than by a GM.

Pregenerated Character: These are premade characters of levels 1, 4, and 8 designed for quick use by players who may not have a character of their own or want to try a new character class. Some exclusive events also provide special pregenerated characters.

Reputation: Reputation represents your character's current standing with a faction. A character can have multiple Reputation scores, each with different factions. The higher a Reputation score, the more resources are available for purchase from the associated faction. More information appears on page 25.

Rebuilding: The process of replacing one or more of your character features as directed by campaign rules, typically without cost. The most common type of rebuilding is a 1st-level character rebuild, which you may do freely any time before playing an adventure at 2nd level or higher. More information about rebuilding can be found on pages 9. and 22.

Regional Venture-Coordinator: Regional venture-coordinators, under the guidance of the Organized Play Manager, supervise a large section of the world and support venture-captains and venture-lieutenants in their duties.

Replay: A player replays a scenario when she plays it more than once. Starfinder Society allows only limited forms of replay. See page 8 for the limited replay rules.

Repeatable Scenarios: A scenario with the repeatable tag. This scenario includes rules for being played more than once by a single player (but never more than once with a single character).

Quest: Quests are short adventures designed to last about 1 hour.

Sanctioned: Sanctioned material is that which has been approved for use within Starfinder Society.

Sanctioned Adventure Path: These are adventures other than Starfinder Society scenarios for which characters can receive credit. The list of which Adventure Paths are sanctioned for play appears on the Additional Resources page, where you can download each such adventure's Chronicle Sheets and any special rules involved.

Scenario: These are adventures that typically take 4–5 hours to complete, written specifically for the Starfinder Society. Most adventures in the campaign are scenarios.

Season: A season is a year-long period that typically begins at Gen Con (August). Most seasons have a unifying theme and contain about 15 scenarios, with one usually released per month.

Special: This is a catch-all term used to refer to exclusives and scenarios with other unusual formats.

Subtier: Prior to Year 3, this term was used for level range.

Tier: For Reputation tiers, see Reputation. Scenarios prior to Year 3 use the term Tier to refer to the adventure's Level.

Venture-Agent: Venture-agents are dedicated volunteer coordinators who direct operations at one venue.

Venture-Captain (VC) (In-Game): Rather than travel widely, some Starfinders establish lodges where they can coordinate local agents, store regional lore, and provide a safe refuge for their colleagues. In scenarios, venture captains are often the NPCs who brief the PCs on their next mission or opportunity.

Venture-Captain (VC) (Real-World): Named after the in-game veterans of the Starfinder Society, venture-captains are the many dedicated volunteer coordinators who oversee large geographic regions that contain a large number of players.

Venture-Lieutenant: Venture-lieutenants are dedicated volunteer coordinators who assist the venture-captains in their efforts.
