- Area: 13 The innkeeper & his wife sleep here.

- Area: 1, 6,

- Area: 2, 5,
11 & 15 Bedroom living quarters.

Note on bedrooms: The innkeepers wife likes to rearrange furniture alot & depending on how many "guests" are in the inn determines how many beds there are & where she'll put them. She treats the inn as a palace & tries to add decorations to "pretty" it up. He just keeps his mouth shut & mops up the mud & blood...

- Area: 3 The staircase leads down to Level: 1, Area: 19.
- Area: 4,
13 & 14 Bedrooms.
- Area: 7 This narrow staircase leads down to Level: 1, Area: 15.
- Area: 8
& 9 These quieter lounging areas overlook the main hall via a wooden railing at just the correct height for someone to fall over if pushed... hence the roof over the bar... many a body have been pried off the mooseheads antlers...
- Area: 10 Upper balcony. The railings here are the same as Area: 8 & 9...

Note on the barn windows: The smith, although a half owner of the inn, is a pennypincher and only had wooden shutters put in instead of leaded glass panes... his wife doesn't mind as there's enough heat generated by the smithy below.

- Area: 17 Smith quarters front hallway.
- Area: 18 The smith (brother to the innkeeper) & his wife (sister to the innkeepers) & child (adopted or mail ordered, we're not sure which) live here. The child sleeps in a small alcove on the west wall. The smith is a large powerful man and if there's any trouble in the inn, his brother pulls a cord behind the bar (not shown) which leads to a loud bell in the smithy...
- Area: 19 Bedroom. A ladder (rungs built into the west wall) leads up to a trap door that opens into the barn attic. A S/CD in the south wall of the closet leads into Area: 21.
- Area: 20 Storage loft. A S/CD in the east wall opens into the stairwell of Area: 22.

Note on areas 21 & 22: Both loft exterior doors have a rope & pulley mounted outside (not shown) for lifting hay & crates into the lofts.

- Area: 21 Hay & grain storage loft. A S/CD in the northwall opens into the closet of Area: 19.
- Area: 22 Hay & grain storage loft. A S/CD on the west wall of the staircase (about 3' up from the landing platform) opens into Area: 20.

Level: Cellar

- Area: 1 Secret passageway leading up to Level: 1, Area: 20.
- Area: 2 Ale & foodstuff storage.
- Area: 3 Clandestine meeting area??? Curtained alcoves on the north wall contain Inn records & such... This room is heavily carpeted and both doors have heavy locks. Tapestries cover most of the walls & conceal the two passageways on the east & south walls as well as the passageway to Area: 1. Only the Innkeeper & his brother the Smith have keys to this room...
- Area: 4 Storage. Usually where they keep the proceeds from the inn...
